NATIONAL GUARD ENCAMPMENT IS FOUND ENJOYABLE

Letter From Sam Schwartz Tells of Experiences of Local Boys at Camp Jackson.

Medford people are sparing no pains to make the first encampment of the Oregon national guard at Camp Jackson a success, according to word received from members of Company D. The program for the two weeks includes baseball, auto races, smokers, entertainments, dances and other attractions. The field maneuvers for the 3000 members of the guard will include a monster parade through the streets of Medford, battalion demonstrations and sham battles.

On Thursday, June 25, W. M. Jardine, secretary of agriculture, will be present and will inspect the camp and be entertained at officers' mess. Congressman W. C. Hawley and Secretary Charles L. McNary are also expected to be present on that day.

A letter from Corporal Sam Schwartz gives a vivid description of life at camp. He says:

"We entrained this year with more order than last. There was no last minute rush, for everything had been planned carefully and actness as to detail. The army is famed for precision and exactness and these attributes are in evidence every minute here.

"Friday morning at approximately 10 o'clock we arrived at Medford and marched a mile and a half to Camp Jackson. Our first impression of camp was very discouraging, as the large khaki tents pitched on a hot, dry plain with the promise of 100 degrees in the shade and no shade were enough to annihilate our most optimistic anticipations.

"The company was soon assigned to its row of tents and after a few hours of hard work which taxed our vocabularies as well as our bodies we were able to say we had completely taken the camp. Strange to say when the mess call was sounded for dinner we were all present and the appetites of all seemed to be whetted to such a keen edge that the food in sight cringed with fear when we looked at it.

"Nevertheless there seemed to be enough food for all and it was delicious too. Praise for our cook filled the cook house for it seems our cook is the best in all the camp.

"The boys surely are enjoying the many donations made by Cottage Grove people.

"Saturday morning at 9 o'clock we marched to the parade grounds to pass inspection. This we did with credit. Several companies had to repeat their performance that afternoon as they did not pass the forenoon inspection.

"Saturday evening a ball was given at the Jackson county fair grounds for the enlisted men. There are only 3,000. There were approximately 50 girls present and only 700 boys. The result was keen competition; so keen that to have been successful in obtaining dances one should have had at least two years' experience as a book agent.

"One boy's remark will give you a clear conception of the tremendous popularity the girls enjoyed. He said, 'The whole seven hundred were around the girl—I was trying to ask to dance.'

"While Camp Jackson cannot be compared with Camp Lewis, much of our distaste for it has passed. Too much cannot be said for the people of Medford. They have done their utmost to make us feel at home and enjoy ourselves. They have opened their hearts and their city to us.

"Many of the boys are contemplating the trip to Crater Lake next Sunday.

"Our officers and the officers of the whole camp deserve praise for their efforts to make camp a success."

SCHOOL HELPS IN RELIEF

Total of $41.80 Raised by Pupils for Children of Near East.

The Cottage Grove schools contributed $41.80 for near east relief during the past year. The grades raised $34.80 and the high school $7. In a letter received from J. J. Handsaker, northwest regional director for the near east relief fund, thanks are expressed for this contribution.

Mr. Handsaker says: "The children are now out of Turkey and have a chance to develop into the sort of men and women they should be. They are, however, strangers in strange lands and America's care must not be withdrawn for several years. As soon as the majority of the children have attained the age of 16 our task will be finished."

MOORE PAVING EXPECTED

Ordinances for Improvements on Three Streets Are Ordered.

Ordinances for the paving of Washington avenue from the west line of Third to the east line of Eighth street with two inches of bitulithic, of Monroe avenue from Douglas street to Tenth street with black top and of Jefferson avenue from the east line of Third street to the east line of the school property were ordered at the meeting of the city council Monday evening.

The improvement on Jefferson avenue is to be for either macadam with combination concrete curb and gutter or bitulithic with combination curb and gutter.

An oral petition by E. R. Lemley for the paving of Eleventh street was held over for further consideration.

The council decided in favor of the combination concrete curb and gutter for Chestnut avenue and a contract with J. C. Conpton for this work was ordered. Action on the petition of B. K. Lawson for the improvement of 135 feet on east Adams avenue was deferred.

Washington avenue was paved with macadam 15 years ago and is in such a condition that two inches of black top will make a fine street.

TUBERCULIN TEST ASKED

Inspector Requests Local Help to Plan for Trip to This Section.

A number of requests for the tuberculin test for cows have been received by H. F. Thompson, of Eugene, veterinary inspector, but the number is not sufficient to make it worth while for him to come here, according to a letter to The Sentinel from Mr. Thompson. The letter suggests that someone should obtain the names of owners of cattle who wish to have the test made and make arrangements for a car and driver to take the inspector around.

It is customary for the driver of the car to make a charge of ten cents the head for the cattle tested but no charge is made for the work of the inspector.

When these arrangements are completed a request should be sent to the county agent's office and a date will be set by the veterinary inspector.

The Blue Mountain Sunday school will meet Sunday but J. Sams will not hold services there as previously announced. The usual meeting at the Shields school house has been postponed for the Anlauf gathering.

C. G. VOCALISTS PLEASE

Mrs. Kem and Mr. Nelson Are Presented in Recital.

Two Cottage Grove vocalists, Mrs. Victor Kem and Mr. J. Nelson Jr., were featured in a private recital given Tuesday evening in Eugene by Arsh Hoyt Rae, their instructor. According to those from here who attended, Mrs. Kem's number gave an excellent opportunity for her soprano voice of golden quality and brilliant power. Mr. Nelson sang in a rich resonant baritone of broad range. No encores were permitted. Both Mrs. Kem and Mr. Nelson were accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Stewart, who demonstrated high accomplishments as an instrumentalist.

Those from here who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kem, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. and their guest, Miss Karen Nelson, of Moorhead, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Garoutte, Mrs. Bessie Steliffe, Cecil Caldwell and Miss Myrtle, Kathleen and Thelma Kem.

NEW MARKET IS TO OPEN

Sterling Feed Company to Go Into Table Supply Business.

A table supply market is being opened by the Sterling Feed company in the building which they have occupied for years. The feed business has been pushed to the rear of the building and the front portion of the building cut off for space for the market. A large refrigerator has been constructed at the rear of the sales room and a refrigerated counter for the display of meats and perishable goods has been installed. The entire room has been repainted and has been made attractive and in keeping with the business to be conducted.

The object of the table supply market is to provide a ready market for the local producer and to sell such produce to the consumer at a minimum of expense in handling. The market will buy and sell fresh and cured meats, fruits and vegetables, milk and cream, butter and eggs and live and dressed poultry.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling, the proprietors, believe that there is need in the community for such a business as they are establishing. It will be opened Saturday.

Auto Hits Bicycle.

While riding a bicycle along the highway near Latham Monday evening, Frank Richardson was struck by an automobile which came up behind him.
