Jazz or What? (Portland Journal)

Some Newberg high school seniors thought it would be the thing to take two half-gallon jars of fig wine in a class excursion to Multnomah Falls on the Columbia highway.

The denouement has been expulsions, suspensions, the withholding of graduation diplomas and the resignation of the teacher who was chaperon for the party. It is far from the first instance of high school students equipping with forbidden beverages. Is there big significance in this sort of thing? What explanation would the boys, in a heart-to-heart discussion of the matter, make of why they did it?

Formerly it was not the wont of high school boys to be concerned with fig wine and moonshine. Do they do it now because they hear of high officials who do the same thing?

Or do they do it because of that fundamental but foolish trait in youthful human nature to insist on doing a thing because it is forbidden?

Or do they do it because, all over America, the bootleggers are doing all kinds of daring things to evade and defy the dry law, and, in a spirit of adventure, are copying the bootleggers and rum-runners?

Or is it the spirit of this jazz age, in which the ways and examples of worthy men and women of the past are set at naught and many of the best and most laudable conventionalities and processes of long ago spurned and rejected?

Newberg is a home town of circus-spect people with the highest standards of Christian citizenship. The defiance of law by the boys couldn't have come from any example of their elders in that most excellent community.

Car Over Embankment, No One Hurt

Jerry Lingo and son Lyle, of Arlington, Wash., on their way to Cottage Grove, escaped without so much as a scratch when their Ford coupe was crowded off the highway and went over an embankment. They completed the trip in cars accompanying them in which relatives were also on their way to Cottage Grove.

Oil-Cookstove Work —is "City Easy" and Cool!

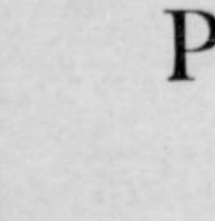

WORKING with a good oil cookstove is cool work and a "snap"—no fires to tend,—nothing but a match to light, a wick to turn and you're done! Noiseless, simple, safe!

By using a good oil cookstove you make your kitchen-work as simple and "city easy" as it should be! And when your dealer recommends Pearl Oil as the best kerosene to use—he's right! Pearl Oil is specially refined and re-refined so it burns clean! And it won't corrode metal—no oily smell—nothing but bright heat-producing flame.

"Kerosene" or "Coal Oil" may mean any kind of kerosene—so insist on pure, clean-burning "Pearl Oil"—ask for it by name!
