Home Trade Is Vital To City

Make All Purchases Through Home Channels for a Greater Success And Prosperity in Community.

The chief argument in favor of home trade is the fact that it not only redounds to the benefit of all residing in the adjacent trade territory, which is a part of every community, but pays in dollars and cents. Every dollar sent away to build up business in some big city is just that much taken away from the resources of the home community.

If people will only figure up the incidental costs and inconveniences occasioned by sending out of town for anything that can be purchased in their home town they will readily see that it pays to trade at home. It is customary to ignore such items, but they are there just the same and are part of the cost of the goods that are purchased in that manner. For instance, the cost of a trip to the city, hotel bill, time wasted away from employment, goods brought home that are not really needed and higher prices actually paid for the goods on account of the stupendous overhead of the big city stores.

In case of mail order purchases there are money order and postage fees, for express or freight charges, time wasted and delay in waiting for the goods, annoyance of exchanging the goods that do not fill the bill, or that do not measure up to the grade expected—these and many other charges of like nature should honestly be figured up against the purchases. If this is done and quality of goods compared it will be found that it is a case of trying to lift yourself by your own bootstraps. There is no easy way to secure goods for a less figure than that at which they can be supplied by the experienced business man of Cottage Grove.

Perhaps nothing is studied any closer than the retailing of merchandise and you can safely figure that your live home merchant is working hard to secure the best of merchandise to place before his customers at the lowest possible figure consistent with sound business principles. And in this day of keen competition there are few business men who do not run close to the danger line in fixing prices that will attract trade and meet competition anywhere. It is only necessary to use common sense in dealing with these problems. The field is open to all who may wish to enter any line of business, and if there were big profits to be made that condition would not last, for every opening for business is carefully searched out, and competition has reduced everything to the level of lowest possible prices.
