HALF BILLION LAMPS WERE SOLD LAST YEAR

Sales of incandescent electric lamps, exclusive of miniature lamps, amounted to 278,000,000 in the United States in 1924, which is an increase of 33,000,000 or 12 1/2% over 1923.

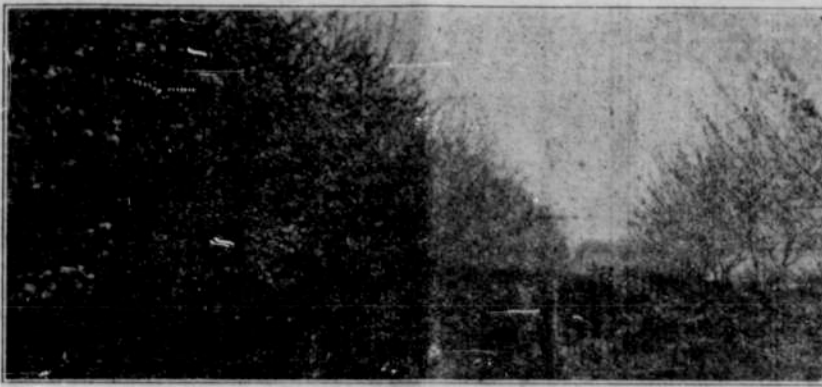

Sales of miniature lamps, such as are used on automobiles, electric signs, flashlights, etc., increased 20%, to a total of 210,000,000.

In the past 16 years the sale of lamps increased 4 1/2 times, and the consumption of electric current for lighting, about 5 times. As the candle power of the average lamp now sold is nearly treble that used 16 years ago, the aggregate amount of light is approximately 15 times greater. The average price of lamps, on the other hand, is about a third less than the price before the war.

A dollar today buys about 18,000 candle hours of light, against 3,000 candle power twenty years ago.

DELAY IN CONSTRUCTION OF WATER LINE ASKED

Forest Fire Fighting By Lumber Company's Men Interferes With Extension.

The Anderson & Middleton Lumber company has asked an extension of eight weeks in the time allowed it for the extension of the city's water line to Dinner creek. Its contract with the government for timber on the city's watershed required the completion of the extension by October 1, this year. On account of time taken by the company's crews in fighting several forest fires, the water line can not be completed at the required time. The company's railway is being built along the route which will be used for the pipe line and this is now almost completed to a point opposite Dinner creek, so that the laying of the pipe and the construction of a dam in Dinner creek can now go ahead.

C. B. Neal, of Roseburg, forest supervisor, in company with H. B. Anderson, superintendent for Anderson & Middleton, City Engineer Coiner and A. W. Swanson, chairman of the water committee of the city council, left this morning for the watershed.

The city council has agreed to the requested extension of time, which has to be granted by the forestry officials.

Eggs Take Jump To 41 Cents Dozen

Eggs are decidedly not a drug on the market these days. With the hens molting and going easy on the laying job, the price has advanced to 40 cents and 41 cents for select, which is said to be the highest price paid for many years this early in the fall. Pullet eggs are bringing 33 cents. Chicken owners have not been making any large profits in recent years and the advance in the market has been enthusiastically received by them.

COTTAGE GROVE HOSPITAL SEEMS ASSURED

Plans Made to Construct Building Without Asking Local People to Purchase Stock.

Plans have been almost completed for the erection of a hospital building in Cottage Grove without subscriptions for stock on the part of local citizens, so C. E. Turner of Eugene informed chamber of commerce members at their Tuesday noon luncheon.

Mr. Turner was here several weeks ago, at which time he suggested local subscriptions of from $25,000 to $50,000. That proposition did not meet with the response which had been expected and Mr. Turner has since made other arrangements for the money. He stated that all that now remains in the way of consummation of the plans is the renting of a portion of the ground floor. A protestant organization already has been secured to take over the hospital.

W. J. White, who is interested in the property at the corner of Main and Fifth streets, upon which it is proposed to erect the building, spoke briefly.

The plans for the building remain the same as when first presented, the lower floor to be given over to space for business institutions, the second floor to be for offices and the third floor for the hospital. The cost is to be practically $100,000. Mr. Turner stated that all now asked of the community is moral support.

A bid by the same firm for a sewer south of Gibbs avenue between Ninth and Tenth was rejected.

The council authorized the painting of the Main street bridge over the Const fork.

A Surprise.

Suitor—"I hope my proposal for the hand of your daughter hasn't taken you by surprise, sir." Father—"Well, to tell the truth, it has. You've been so jolly slow in getting around to it that I thought it wasn't coming at all."

THEY ADVERTISE.

A hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact, yet every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact.

A rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show, but none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow.

The mule, the most despised of beasts, has a persisting way of letting folks know he's around, by his insistent bray.

The busy little bees, they buzz; Bulls bellow and cows moo; The watchdog barks, the ganders quack, and doves and pigeons coo.

The peacock spreads his tail and squawks, Pigs squeal and robins sing, And even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting.

But man, the greatest masterpiece That Nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate Before he'll advertise.
