Bob Brodie & Company, Eugene printers, issue every once in a while a house organ, The Pill. Those who would read are assured that it is censured by the pure food and drugs act and that it is easy to take. It is, Bob wastes a lot of time at the case that he might be spending to better purpose writing a humorous column for Atlantic Monthly or the Municipal Review. He should issue his organ oftener. The company in Bob Brodie & Company is Mrs. Brodie. The Brodie also is Mrs. Brodie, and the Bob probably also is hers.

Colleen Moore would do away with the promiscuous use of the term "flapper." Your efforts are useless, Colleen, as long as the girls do not object to being thus designated. As the Sentinel has remarked before, the tendency of the age is best illustrated by the fact that girls seem to like the use of the word.

A senior, writing in Cee Gee Mirror, Cottage Grove high school paper, says: "Owing to the shortness of skirts, the garters would appear to better advantage if worn above the knees." We have observed that the reverse is true.

Stanfield says that from now on he is going to be a militant prohibitionist, in which case the Baker incident will have been a good thing for him and for the country, whether or not he is returned to the United States senate.

A man is often fooled into believing that a woman forgives him because she can not resist his personality. Often the case is that she doesn't care enough about him to let his actions make any difference to her.

The Eugene Guard estimates that with a school population of 3400 it has a population of not less than 18,000. Using the same multiplier Cottage Grove has a population of 4000.

Sugar or Candy

Granulated, lump, pulverized and brown sugars, though differing in texture and flavor, are practically alike in composition. They contain little or nothing but sugar. A pound of candy may be considered the equivalent in fuel value of a pound of sugar. Water, which has no fuel value, is used in making candy, but so, too, are chocolate and nut meats, which have higher fuel values than sugar. The proportion of sugar in thick sirups, such as honey and molasses, is about three-fourths of a pound to the pound, and in jellies, jams and rich preserves, about one-half of a pound to the pound.

By Direct Command

They were discussing the advent of their baby sister, but neither could give a satisfactory explanation of the new arrival. At last the elder boy said: "I know how it was." "How?" asked his brother. "Why," he exclaimed, with an air of relief and decision, "God said, 'Let there be Phyllis,' and there was Phyllis."

Wandering Jew One of Oldest Legends

The story of the "Wandering Jew" is one of those old legends that has been handed down from the ages, and every one is at liberty to form his own judgments as to its truth. As to its origin, tradition says that Kartaphilos, the doorkeeper in the Judgment hall, in the service of Pontius Pilate, struck our Lord as he led him forth, saying, "Get on faster, Jesus," whereupon Jesus replied, "I am going, but thou shalt tarry till I come again." Another legend is that Jesus, pressed down with the weight of His cross, stopped to rest at the door of Ahasverus, a cobbler. The craftsman pushed him away, saying, "Get on! Away with you! Away!" Our Lord replied "Truly I am going, and that quickly, but tarry thou till I come." A third legend says it was the cobbler who haled Jesus before Pilate, saying, "Faster, Jesus, faster." Still another legend says that Kartaphilos was baptized by Ananias some time after the crucifixion, receiving the name of Joseph. At the end of every 100 years, he is said to fall into a trance and waken up a young man of about thirty. There are also German and French legends about the "Wandering Jew," and many romances have been written on the subject, the most popular, perhaps, being Eugene Sue's story, "The Wandering Jew."

Society

The Ad Libitum club was organized Wednesday afternoon by a group of women who met at the home of Mrs. Roy Leonard. Mrs. Leonard was named president, Mrs. E. E. Cone vice-president and Mrs. Elmer Munson secretary-treasurer. The hours were spent in social conversation and the hostess served a tempting luncheon. The table was attractive with a centerpiece of bright hued marigolds. Members of the new club are Mrs. Loren Harvey, Mrs. E. E. Cone, Mrs. A. Laffoon, Mrs. Elmer Munson, Mrs. Clyde Leonard, Mrs. Clarence Cone, Mrs. Hester Reed, Mrs. Ransom Cone, Mrs. R. L. Cooper, Mrs. Roy Leonard. They will meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Munson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patton were surprised Sunday evening by a party of friends who gave them an old fashioned charivari and tin shower in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary. The early evening was spent chatting and playing games. At a late hour a buffet supper was served. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dugan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKibben, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin McKibben, Mrs. Noble, Mrs. Gertrude Whitsett, Miss Mildred Dugan and W. A. Ward.

Miss Ivan Warner entertained a number of friends Saturday afternoon at an informal tea. The rooms were attractively decorated with branches of bright autumn foliage. The hours were spent in social conversation and dainty refreshments were served. The guests were Mrs. E. W. Frans, Mrs. L. E. Liston, Mrs. Victor Chambers, Mrs. H. F. Edwards, Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. Victor Kem and Mrs. Meriville Veatch.

The La Comus club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. McFarland. The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation and needlework, after which luncheon was served. A large cluster of French marigolds formed the centerpiece for the dining table while chrysanthemums decorated the living room. The feature of the meeting was a handkerchief shower for Mrs. H. A. Miller, the occasion being her birthday anniversary.

The monthly social of the Mizpah Bible class of the Presbyterian Sunday school was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening. The rooms were decorated in Halloween colors. Refreshments of wieners, rolls, doughnuts and coffee were served by Mrs. Anna Gowdy, Mrs. Earl Hill, Miss Esther Sibley and Mrs. Schofield Stewart. The following officers were elected: Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, president; Mrs. Walter Hatch, vice-president; Mrs. Fred Wright, secretary-treasurer.

The Toujours Prete club was entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. C. C. Cruson, one of the sponsors of the club. Miss Katherine Penner, Miss Ruth DeLong and Miss Eloise Morgan were welcomed as new members. A short business session was held and names were drawn for the annual Christmas party. A cafeteria supper was two-course luncheon was served at and softly shaded lights made the rooms attractive.

The Elmarts club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Hall. Mrs. Earl Garoutte, a new member, was initiated. A dainty two-course luncheon was served by the hostess. The rooms were decorated in appropriate Halloween colors. The table was attractive with a bowl of huge orange marigolds as a centerpiece and place cards and favors. Mrs. Lloyd Liston was a special guest.

Mrs. Elbert Smith entertained the M. P. G. club Tuesday afternoon. Graceful sprays of cosmoses and variously tinted zinnias made the rooms attractive. A delicious course luncheon was served at the close of the customary social afternoon. Mrs. D. R. Hamant was an invited guest. Names were drawn for the annual Christmas gift exchange.

Eighty-five members of the ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Wednesday afternoon for the annual experience social. Hostesses were Mrs. M. P. Garoutte, Mrs. C. L. Wilhelm, Mrs. E. C. Shay, Mrs. S. L. Godard, Mrs. Roy Short and Mrs. G. B. Pitcher. Results of the membership drive conducted were announced. The team captained by Mrs. B. R. Job won the contest and will be entertained by Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall. Twenty new members were secured. Proceeds of the experience money earning campaign were $149.19. Each member recited a poem telling how she earned the money contributed. Mrs. Mary Smith won first for the best poem, Mrs. Anna Gowdy was second and Mrs. L. McAbby was third. Mrs. George Matthews won first prize for the most unique way of earning money. Judges of the poem contest were Mrs. Iva Brune, Miss Claire Dunn and Miss Naomi Hoskins. The team captained by Mrs. McAbby won over the team headed by Mrs. E. W. Armes in money earned in the experience contest.

The Auxiliary of the American Legion will entertain post members Monday night with a covered dish supper. Mrs. E. T. Blakely, Mrs. Ernest Lebow and Mrs. George Matthews will be in charge. Special guests of the auxiliary will be Mrs. Della Borin of Eugene, district committeewoman, and Mrs. Mattie McCormick. Mrs. McCormick will report on the national convention in Omaha, which she attended.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Scott entertained the Tillicum club Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in playing five hundred. At a late hour a two-course luncheon was served. The rooms were decorated with autumn foliage. Mrs. C. H. Vandenberg and Miss Eunice Vandenberg, of Eugene, were special guests.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Hamant had as guests Sunday Mrs. Cordelia Ankeny and daughter, Miss Gladys, Miss Sue Badolet and Roland Cantrell, all of Eugene. At dinner they were joined by Miss Mariette Hamant, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Smith, Elbert Smith Jr. and Miss Evelyn Smith.

Mrs. K. K. Mills entertained the ladies' aid society of the Baptist church Wednesday afternoon. A quilting bee was the feature of the meeting.

Mrs. E. W. Frans had as dinner guests last evening Miss Susan Simpson, Miss Louise Kirby and Miss Erma Kraus. Bridge was played following dinner.

A reception will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Methodist church for Pastor John Linn and members of his family.

The Past Matrons' club will meet Monday with Mrs. K. K. Mills.

Delight Valley Society.

Mrs. W. S. Blakely entertained at her home Sunday with a birthday party for her daughter Florence. Guests were Walter Morris and family, Mrs. Ernst and children and George C. Morris. Miss Blakely received a number of beautiful presents.

Flappers Are Flappers. Colleen Moore, film star, has started a national campaign to replace the word flapper with "modern." You may be a bright young lady, Colleen, but things are not done that way. Slang expressions pop out of the air, so to speak, and the public accepts them. Your plan is worthy but it will not work.—Walla Walla Union. Rubber stamps. The Sentinel. x

Plumbing Exhibit On Wheels
The Crane traveling exhibit of modern plumbing will arrive here
3 o'Clock Tomorrow (Friday) afternoon and will remain until 10 o'clock or later. It will be parked in the business section. Look for the big orange car.
This exhibit of the most modern and the latest in plumbing comes in a specially constructed automobile. In it are arranged water systems and storage systems for city, suburban and farm homes, baths, kitchen sinks, lavatories, laundry tubs, water heaters and everything conceivable in the plumbing line.
Those building new homes or contemplating plumbing additions, should see this exhibit and get from it ideas that will help them in picking the fixtures for their particular needs.
While the Crane products are the highest in quality, the cost of fitting a home with them is not as high as some may believe. Those who visit the traveling exhibit will be surprised to learn the many little comforts they can get at small cost.
