HURRY 'EM TO GALLOWES.

The case of Murray, Willos and Kelly, all convicted of first degree murder for the killing of guards in their recent sensational escape from the state penitentiary, have been handled with an expedition that is discouraging to those having in mind the taking of human blood. All of the three now stand in the shadows of the gallows. If a record of 90 days between murder and the gallows can be made, we shall have made much progress in making safe the lives of those of us who desire to follow to a natural end our own method of living in harmony with the laws of the land.

The fact that with several women upon the jury that convicted Willos and Kelly there was no request for leniency gives hope that we are slowly approaching a condition that will enable us to make murder unpopular as a sport for those with no regard for the lives of others.

The fact that the death penalty is being pretty generally recognized as one of the best deterrents of murder, and that juries are not exercising their right to ask commutation to life imprisonment, is a long step toward putting fear into the hearts of those who are not willing to give their lives as the price for taking that of another, but making the time between the commission of the act and full repayment by the murderer will do even more than the first.

Courts can assist in expediting murder trials and in making appeals difficult. The many loopholes by which murderers have saved their necks, the easy-going ways of our courts and the nauseating sentimentalism of those who shed tears for the killers have been the cause of many murders by those who saw others escape the gallows. Let us have less of this and we shall have fewer murderers on whom to waste our tax money and our tears.

Ontario Argus: Not that we desire to get splashed upon, but the controversy in which "Old Man Bede" of Cottage Grove, and "Giddy Claude Ingalls" of Corvallis are engaged over the subject of which of them uses the bath tub most, impels us to observe that over on this side of the mountains folk take their baths in private and do not tell about them in the public prints.

A speaker advocated the single tax (a tax on land exclusively) at a recent meeting of the Eugene Kiwanis club. What we need is less tax on land and more on property better able to bear it. Almost any kind of an income tax would be a big improvement upon single tax. We want none of the latter.

A judge of a domestic relations court in Chicago is writing a book in which he will make the claim that all rules of common sense are disregarded when the male and female fall in love. Such demonstration of wisdom from the bench gives us confidence in the courts that we did not before have.

Experiments are being carried on by the federal government to discover a metal from which lasts longer. What we really need is a dollar with a hand grip on it to enable us to hang onto it with less difficulty.

Haight-Paul

At a pretty wedding Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Haight, in Delight valley, Miss Mary Frances Haight became the bride of Melvin Edward Paul. The ceremony was performed by Pastor Duncan P. Cameron of the Presbyterian church. The ring service was used.

The bride's gown was of white silk crepe, trimmed with silk lace. She wore the wedding veil worn 29 years ago by her mother. The rooms were attractively decorated in brightly colored autumn foliage and ferns.

The wedding was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the young couple. The wedding march was played by Miss Gwendolyn Haight. The wedding song was served by four of the bride's friends, Hazel Miller, Alice Kent, Beulah Ranek and Eleanor Nixon.

Mrs. Paul is a graduate of Walker high school and of the Oregon Agricultural college. Mr. Paul is a graduate of the North Dakota Agricultural college. They left this morning for California for a month and will be at home after that time at Malabon farm, northwest of Eugene.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church held regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. The church parlors were decorated with marigolds and chrysanthemums. Regular business was transacted and plans were made for the bazaar and chicken supper to be held November 18. Tea towels for the church kitchen were hemmed and monogrammed. Mrs. R. L. Cooper won a prize for finishing her towel first. Following the meeting members enjoyed a social hour. Refreshments were served. Hostesses were Mrs. N. E. Compton, Mrs. E. E. Cone, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Alta Hart and Mrs. Longfellow.

The Tanglefoot club held its second dance of the season at Phillips hall Tuesday night. Huge clumps of autumn foliage, marigolds and chrysanthemums, cleverly arranged, made the hall attractive. Halloween shades over the lights and jack-o-lanterns placed about the room on pedestals added to the beauty of the rooms. Hostesses were Mrs. Merville Veatch, Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr., Mrs. E. W. Frans, Mrs. F. L. Grannis, Mrs. L. E. Liston, Mrs. Ernest Lilly, Mrs. Roy Short and Mrs. C. H. Bussey.

Mrs. Bessie Sutcliffe was given a surprise party last night by the choir of the Methodist church. Choir members, with their husbands and wives, met early at the church and then went to Mrs. Sutcliffe's home. Regular practice was held and was followed by a social evening. Refreshments were served by the visitors. Mrs. Sutcliffe was presented with a beautiful boudoir lamp in appreciation of her services as pianist for the choir. S. L. Mackin made the speech of presentation.

The Mothers' club met Saturday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Hatch. Light refreshments were served by the hostess and the time was spent in piecing quilts. Three quilts have been completed by the club as gifts to the children's home in Corvallis. Many of the members plan to go to Corvallis Sunday to visit the home. One new member was added Saturday and decision was made to change the meeting day from Saturday to Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Victor Chambers was hostess Tuesday to Elmar's club, with a one o'clock luncheon. Halloween place cards were used and shaded lanterns and a clever jack-o-lantern centerpiece made the table attractive. The living room was decorated with roses. Bridge was played during the afternoon. Mrs. Merville Veatch received first prize and Mrs. Robert Thomas, house guest of the hostess, received the consolation.

Mrs. Charles Adams was hostess to the M. P. G. club Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. B. R. Job, mother of the hostess, was a special guest. The afternoon was devoted to needlework and pleasant conversation. A two-course luncheon was served. Decorations indicative of the Halloween season made the table attractive. Mrs. Job assisted the hostess in serving.

La Comus club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Lebow. Mrs. F. E. Dixon was an invited guest. Bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and pale tinted roses decorated the rooms. A dainty luncheon was served at the close of the afternoon. Guests complimented their hostess with a handkerchief shower. Tuesday being her birthday anniversary.

The Knights of Pythias entertained members, their families and guests Tuesday night at a six o'clock dinner in the lodge hall. J. S. Medley of Eugene, and O. M. Kem were the speakers of the evening. Music was furnished by the orchestra of the Heilig theater, Eugene.

KITCHEN CUPBOARD

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Seasonable Good Things
A GOOD peppery dish of chili will be welcome these chilly days of winter.

Chili Con Carne.—Cut into pieces, as for fricassee, one chicken, weighing four pounds. Season each piece with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and quickly brown in a little hot fat. Boil six large red peppers until soft, press through a colander, removing the seeds and white portion; put through a food chopper two small onions, or three cloves of garlic and one-quarter of a cupful of capers. Add this mixture to the browned chicken in a stewpan, cover with boiling water or seasoned stock and cook until the chicken is tender. Before serving the chicken thicken the liquid with flour and butter and season well with salt.

Creole Meat Pie.—Prepare one quart of cornmeal mush, using one cupful of cornmeal, four cupfuls of boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt, cooking two hours in a double boiler. Brown one minced onion in four tablespoonfuls of butter; add one pound of hamburger steak and cook until the red color has left the meat. Add one teaspoonful of salt, one chopped sweet pepper and one pint of sifted tomato. Cover the bottom of a greased casserole with a layer of the cooked mush, then a layer of the seasoned meat; repeat until all is used. Sprinkle a little grated cheese and buttered crumbs over the top and bake for half an hour.

Gelatin of Liver.—Put one and one-half pounds of calf's liver through the meat chopper; mix with one cupful of fine bread crumbs; add two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, a dash of cayenne and a tablespoonful of scraped onion. Moisten with thin cream and hot water to soak the crumbs, adding butter to the water if there is no cream. Add two well-beaten eggs and steam in a cylindrical mold for an hour. When firm, remove from the heat. Slice cold in thin slices; serve with hot rice potatoes.

Guinea Pigs for Table

Guinea pigs used as food are baked whole, or may be cut into pieces and fried or fricasseed. Cavies are excellent as entrees, in various stews and served with mushrooms, with brown onions, peas or a sprig of parsley, and especially with curry. On account of the whiteness of its skin the smooth-haired white guinea pig is best adapted for the table. The males become somewhat strong flavored with age, but are fine when four or five months old. Females are tender and finely flavored for a much longer period of time. They are probably at their best when about one year old.

Cold Feet Retard Sleep

Some people declare that they are unable to sleep "out of pure cussedness" as they express it. This means, of course, that they are unable to assign any cause for the trouble, but it does not mean that no cause exists. A very common cause, which is, curiously enough, very seldom recognized as a cause, is cold feet. It is said that the law in one state recognizes cold feet as a sufficient cause for divorce. However that may be, it is certain that it is a very sufficient cause for insomnia, and therefore for restlessness by night and bad temper by day.—New York World.

His Idea

"Why is it, do you suppose," musingly asked Mrs. Fumblegate in the midst of her perusal of the weekly paper, "that 'most always when you read about a woman being up in court the account tells how she was dressed, but when it is a man not a word is said about his clothes?"

"Well, I reckon," replied Farmer Fumblegate, "that mostly by the time he's been pulled to pieces by the lawyers he ain't got—that is, his clothes ain't worth describing."—Kansas City Star.

No Give at All

Secretary A. D. Call of the American Peace society said in an eloquent and optimistic address: "The road to world peace looks long, but there is an end to it, after all, and a speedier end, maybe, than we think."

"Let us hope. Don't let us imitate the discouraged pacifist, who growled: "Oh, yes, we pacifists will never give in; but, then, you know the militarists will never give out."

Correcting the Bard

"Tripod looks happy."
"Yeh, got an assignment to film Romeo and Juliet."
"But why so happy?"
"Gonna show 'em how to improve on Shakespeare."

Friday, Saturday, Monday Surprise Specials

At Umphrey & Mackin's

Our "Friday, Saturday, Monday Specials" is to be a regular institution at this store each week. A special space is being set aside in different departments of the store where these specials are to be placed for easy inspection. Here will be gathered each week outstanding values, not sold regularly at these low prices. Some of the specials will consist of "special purchases" which we may make for this department but not in sufficient quantity for regular stocks—other items may be "close-out" specials and occasionally a "get acquainted" special of regular stocks. You will do well to inspect these values each week and to avail yourself of the good values over the store—we invite you to come today.

Assertion Made That Lying Is Necessary

Falseness are necessary to the maintenance of civilization, in the opinion of a psychologist, as expressed in a talk recently before a large gathering at the Nuuanu (Honolulu) Y. M. C. A.

"People could not live together if the world adhered to the principles of 'the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth,' he added. "We could not have a group of people, consequently no cities, towns or communities, if we told the truth all the time. We must tell lies. We have to be honest, but at times it is necessary for us to lie for the welfare of the community."

Never Brought Under Sway of Civilization

The fact that only five names figure upon the map of Lake Edward, in East Africa—isolated specks in the white blank of the unknown, testifies to its remoteness and evil reputation. The name of the country is Changu, in which the natives of Bankola are far-famed as cannibals. The "Ba-Changu" file their teeth to a point. They are all on evil terms with their neighbors. Large tracts of country have been wholly depopulated by raids of cannibal peoples from the northwest Dark forest game tracks. Off the beaten track only a compass can save one.

For over ten years the plains on the eastern and southern shores of Lake Edward have been closed and deserted by reason of sleeping sickness and the tsetse fly. In the plains are the little pools of Kikurai, unmarked on any map, with its islands of floating papyrus.—Detroit News.

D. N. Lang (City Electric Inspector, Orlando, Fla.) overheard the following conversation:

"Do you like corned beef?"
"No, I don't like corned beef, and I'm glad I don't like it. Because if I liked it, I would eat it, and I hate the darned stuff."
