COTTAGE GROVE HIGH WINS FROM BANDON 27-0

Heavier Line of Visitors Unable To Stem Vicious Attacks Of Local Gridsters.

Cottage Grove high trounced Bandon 27 to 0 yesterday afternoon in a sea of mud and water on Kelly field. Weather conditions slowed the game but the contest was not without its thrills. A fair sized crowd braved the rain and slash underfoot to watch the home town win.

The Bandon players had an apparent weight advantage of several pounds per man, which should have given them the edge on the game on the muddy field. Their heavier line, however, was unable to stem the vicious attacks of the Cottage Grove backs, who plowed through for substantial gains.

Touchdowns were made by Huff, D. McCargar, Gordon and Alstott. D. McCargar converted one goal and a safety in the first quarter accounted for the two extra points.

Huff, at full, was a consistent ground gainer, while Alstott, at half, hit the line in the same tearing style which has made him a dependable yardage gainer all through the season. McCargar, at quarter, excelled at punting and handled the team in good style. The backfield and line were well coordinated, every man played well and the brand of football was the best shown by the team this season, Coach Grannis said.

The Bandon team showed good speed in starting after their shift, a formation they used well, but which did not work to advantage here. Their right half was a sure tackler and but for his speed and dexterity Cottage Grove would have run up a higher score. Bandon's right end also showed marked ability in breaking up plays behind Cottage Grove's line.

Spike Leslie, freshmen coach at the University of Oregon, refereed. Wendell Cochran was umpire.

The game was the last to be played this season on the local field. Cottage Grove will meet Lebanon November 20 in Lebanon.

PETERS & MOSBY MILL IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Flames Thought to Be of Incendiary Origin Burst Out at Early Morning Hour.

The Peters & Mosby mill on Mosby creek was completely destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock this morning. The loss was about $4500, with no insurance.

Men employed at the mill had observed that there was no fire at the mill at 12 o'clock. At 1:30 a woman living nearby had noticed nothing wrong, but at 2 o'clock the building burst into flames. Because of the heavy rains of the day, and the fact that observations had been taken so short a time before the flames started, they were believed to be of incendiary origin. Darrel Mosby, who was a distance away on the hill on which the Finley Whippies home is located, saw the flames burst out as if some inflammable material such as kerosene had been used.

There was no loss of lumber, which is docked at Walden, a distance away. The owners of the property are Lee W. Peters and R. H. Mosby, of this city, and F. H. Peters of Eugene.

Douglas Sheriff Takes Exception to Story Printed Here

Those who do not believe that news travels should hear the objection that Sheriff Starmer of Douglas county has raised to a story which appeared in a recent issue of The Sentinel, in which it was stated that the Cottage Grove deputy sheriffs were off the Douglas county sheriff's office because that office refused to come after a prisoner which Deputy Sheriff Pitcher had captured here at the point of his gun.

The sheriff wants it distinctly understood that he was out of the city, that he always goes after a prisoner whose capture he has asked, that it wasn't the sheriff's office that asked for the capture of the man referred to in the story, that the call was from the night police force of Roseburg and Phil Hohl, who had been gyped by the man captured, who had made his getaway after getting his tank filled with gasoline.

The sheriff's explanation seems self-explanatory and entirely satisfactory.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED BY WAR VETERANS

American Legion Drum Corps Leads Parade, Which Is Carried Out Despite Rain.

A steady downpour of rain yesterday failed to dampen the order of war veterans who carried through their program for Armistice day on schedule.

G. A. R. veterans, Spanish War veterans and American Legion members were represented in the parade which formed at the armory at 10:30 and marched the length of Main street doubling back to the armory. The parade was led by the legion drum corps, which made its first appearance since organization. The corps was dressed in uniforms of the national guard.

Following the drum corps came Company D, 186th infantry and following them members of the veterans' organizations.

Inclement weather kept many spectators off the streets. One of the features of the parade, according to Captain C. C. Cruson, was the number of men and boys who failed to bare their heads as the colors were carried past.

At 11 o'clock the national salute was fired from Mt. David. Dynamite was used for this demonstration.

The football game on Kelly field at 3 o'clock drew a large crowd and many attended the picture "Let 'er Buck," put on at the Arcade by the auxiliary of the legion.

Veterans of all wars, with their wives and all auxiliary members were invited to a dinner in I. O. O. F. hall at 6 o'clock. So many attended it was necessary to lay plates on two tables twice.

A carnival dance in the armory followed the dinner.

SIXTH STREET COST IS $3.88 THE FOOT

Council Orders Walks Built On Several Streets of City.

The cost of the recent paving of Sixth street was $3.88 1/2 the front foot, according to figures submitted to the council Monday night by City Engineer Coiner and later adopted in an assessment ordinance. The cost of the macadamizing of Chestnut avenue was slightly more than $2.61 the front foot, according to the engineer's figures, and the assessment for this street was also made.

The council ordered sidewalks constructed at several points on north M street, on Ash avenue and on Monroe avenue.

CLAY MOSBY WINS LAURELS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Former Cottage Grove Lad Is To Coach High School Team In California City.

David C. (Clay) Mosby, former resident of Cottage Grove and former O. A. C. grid star, has been appointed to coach the high school of commerce team in San Francisco, according to a lengthy news story in a San Francisco paper, in which laurels are heaped upon the former Oregon lad. The story says:

"There isn't another man in town who knows his football better than Mr. Mosby," said Prinz (head of athletics). "As a general rule I don't sing praises of football coaches. But in this case I've got to do it. Mosby has more pep and dash than any of the football mentors I've seen in a long time."

With that Prinz proceeded to spill a little of Mosby's past history. It seems the new coach was a crack linesman on Oregon Aggie's squad some four years ago. He smashed his way through opposition on varsity for three seasons.

Physically Mosby looks like a very capable young gentleman. Well over average height, he weighs nearly 180 pounds. Big broad shouldered gent who can handle men and boys.

"Doesn't hesitate about using his weight either. He intends to get out in football suit and show the lads just how it is done. A good thing too. Most of these coaches aren't very keen about hitting the dust."

"Last year Mosby got his first taste of local football when he helped Dave Hardy coach the commerce gridsters. Though the team finished near bottom of prep heap, Mosby felt enthusiastic enough about the boys to seek the job of head coach this year."

LIGHT RAID ON LANE IS EXPECTED SOON

State Officials Are Curious to See Inspection Certificates.

Car owners take warning and be sure you have a certificate showing that your headlights have been adjusted as required by state law. Rumors, strong and authentic, are that a "light raid" is slated for some Lane county roads and that Captain Kenneth Bloom of the state force will be here with a number of his men to check up on Lane drivers.

A chart will be set some place along a main traveled route and a number of traffic officers will halt cars believed to be violating the law and the big chart will tell the story when the cars are backed up and the rays tested.

Those "light raids" have been held in a number of counties recently.

Deed Is Secured After Search Of Eight Years

Nine Years Ago D. W. McKinney of Saginaw Received a Deed Which Purported to Cover Land Which He Had Purchased at Saginaw from Lorenza Tucker. A Year Later It Was Discovered That a Deed Had Been Given a Piece of Property Half a Mile Away. Meanwhile Mr. Tucker Had Moved to Canada and Had Later Left There and His Whereabouts Were Unknown, but Today Mr. McKinney Is in Possession of a Deed to the Correct Piece of Property and He Gives the Entire Credit to the Printed Page.

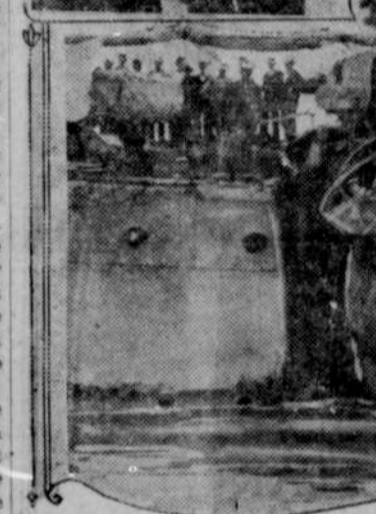

After a search of nearly eight years over Canada and the United States, he inserted a personal in the "Missing" column of several magazines. A reader of one of the magazines wrote from Idaho to tell where a brother of the missing man lived and a letter to the brother soon brought the deed.

City Engineer Coiner has finished the work of giving numbers to houses on south Sixth street, several of which have been built since numbers were given some years ago. Numbering of houses is required by the postoffice department before such houses can have delivery service. Several houses on south Fourth street are also to be given numbers by the engineer.

Members of the fire department were royal hosts Monday evening at their annual banquet, which was held in the basement of the J. T. Smith home. A sumptuous feed—and the word is used with full knowledge of its meaning and from an intimate acquaintance with the food that was served—was spread by wives of members at 50 places. The guests were former members of the fire fighting forces of the city, members of the city administration and a few others. Fire Chief Mackin presided at the program of toasts which followed. Former Chiefs Brund and Griggs, Worth Harvey, N. E. Compton, Charles Reese, H. K. Metcalf and others told of the early history of the department and the struggles of the days when hose carts were pulled by hand through muddy and bumpy streets. Members of the council and others were also called upon. Dr. G. C. Dyott explained the use of the lungmotor, a machine recently provided by the Lions club for the free use of the city. Contrary to popular opinion, the lungmotor is efficacious in all cases of suspended respiration and is by no means exclusively for use in cases of those overcome by water.

MARINE HAZARDS NEARLY TREBLE THOSE OF ALL OTHER INDUSTRIES.

The fatality rate in shipping is two-and-a-half times as great as for all other industries combined, according to Roy F. Edwards, a statistician of the Prudential Insurance company. It is equivalent to that for mines.

are doing considerable effective accident prevention work. The same may be said of the Lake Carriers' association.

"It is interesting to note that considerable attention is being given to the subject in foreign countries. An international convention for Safety of Life at Sea will be held January 1, 1926, in England.

"At the joint maritime commission meeting held in Geneva, May 18 to June 10 of this year, under the auspices of the International Labor Conference, there were discussed such subjects as conditions of work in the fishing industry, the protection of the health of seamen, statistics of shipwrecks and accidents at sea, condition of deck cargoes and safety at sea.

"Steps have been taken by the Industrial Fatigue Research Board of England to obtain sickness, accident and exposure to risk records of 16,000 dock yard workers in England for one year with the primary object of determining how far the incidence of minor accidents is related to that of major accidents."

"While the compensation cost of maritime accidents in this country is not available," said Mr. Edwards, "it is possible to quote the experience of Great Britain where stricter supervision is maintained than obtains in this country, and where conditions are somewhat similar. Among 371,000 employees during 1923 in marine and dock operations 376 fatalities were reported representing a payment of $395,000 at an average cost of $1,052; furthermore, 16,808 disbursements cost $1,720,000, an average of $102 an accident. This represents an aggregate payment of more than $2,000,000 during one year.

"Accident prevention work in our maritime industries has not, with few exceptions, been carried on to the same extent that it has in railroad, mining, manufacturing and allied industries," he continued. "On the western coast they

C. OF C. SPEAKERS PUT ON PROGRAM OF FUN

John Stewart, Postmaster General Smith and C. A. Stevens Are on Program.

An entertaining luncheon of the chamber of commerce was held Tuesday noon, when S. L. Godard acted as chairman of the program committee. A wonderful address was given by Honorable John Schofield Stewart upon the edifying subject, "What Relation Has Modern Plumbing to the Amount of Butter Produced by the Cottage Grove Creamery?" Postmaster General Elbert Smith, who arrived from Washington, D. C., especially for the occasion, discussed national postal affairs with a frankness that was refreshing, his subject being, "What Relation Have the Postal Receipts of the Cottage Grove Postoffice to the Birth Rate in Timbuctoo?" Charles A. Stevens, owner of mammoth manufacturing and shingle mills in the territory east of the Southern Pacific, spoke in a technical way upon "The Value of Sawdust as a Health Breakfast Food." Elbert Bede was rudely interrupted by the non-pulchritudinous and unappreciative chairman during a flight of polished billingsgate upon "The Value of Printers' Ink as a Substitute for the Gold Dust Twins."

R. S. Trask was named as chairman of the program committee for next week's luncheon.

Five Point Deer Is Visitor in Heart Of City

Proprietors and employees at the Cottage Grove Manufacturing company, whose plant is in the heart of the city, were astonished a day or two ago to find a five-point buck making an inspection of the surroundings at the plant. It seemed to be interested particularly in the work at the shingle mill which the company is erecting. After satisfying itself that everything was moving smoothly, it inspected the Methodist camp meeting grounds and tabernacle nearby. Whether it was converted to city life was not learned. The buck was seen again the next day in the vicinity but seems to have since returned to the woods. It is believed that the deer was chased into the city by dogs, as it appeared to be worn out from running.

Thornton Corners, Nov. 11.—(Special.)—A buck deer was seen one day last week by members of the section crew of the O. P. & E. They reported the animal crossed the Arthur Woodring place, jumped the fence into the railroad right-of-way and continued up the track, apparently unafraid of the men working nearby.

COTTAGE GROVE BOYS MAKE GRID TEAM

William G. Skilling and Wendell Cochran Play With Freshmen.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Ore., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—William G. Skilling of Cottage Grove, who played three years on the Cottage Grove high football team under Hargreaves and Grannis, is a member of the University of Oregon freshman team. Skilling played halfback at Cottage Grove. He tips the beam at 143.

Wendell Cochran, another Cottage Grove high school player, is a member of the squad. Cochran showed up well, but injuries will keep him out of active practice this season.

Spike Leslie, Oregon coach, has a fairly fast team, but it is lighter than the elevens of the last few years. About 70 have been trying to make the team.

What Is He Slumber Party, Men Wish To Know

What is a slumber party? Few men—and fewer women—probably know.

But those men who don't know are going to have the opportunity to learn—at least those who have been invited to attend one to be held at the S. L. Godard home next Thursday evening. Probably it is needless to say that Mrs. Godard is not at home and will not be until after the party.

The affair will start at 6 o'clock and Host Godard has informed those whom he has invited that they will have to prepare their own evening meal. That is the first thing that is likely to put the guests in a poor condition for slumber—and it is probable that there will be others. In fact the party is likely to be anything but what its name implies.

LOCAL MINISTERS MEET AND ORGANIZE

J. C. Orr and John A. Linn Officers of New Association.

J. C. Orr, pastor of the Baptist church, is president of the new ministerial association of Cottage Grove, organized Monday. John A. Linn, pastor of the First Methodist church, was elected secretary-treasurer. They will hold office until January, when officers for 1926 will be named.

Resident pastors of five churches attended the meeting and are members of the organization. Meetings will be held once a month. Progressive steps along the lines of moral, social and civic betterment, and cooperation with other organizations of the city, are the objects of the new association.

COTTAGE GROVE MAY BECOME FIRST CLASS DISTRICT

Report Submitted to County Superintendent Shows School Population of 1005.

The census of Cottage Grove school district, submitted today to the county school superintendent by Worth Harvey, school clerk, shows that there are 1005 children of school age within the district. If these figures stand after a check in the superintendent's office, they mean that the district goes to first class, the requirement for which is 1000 children. Eugene is at present the only first class district in the county and the Cottage Grove district is the only other likely to become first class for some time to come. Springfield is third in the county, with 750 children.

Mrs. Harvey had charge of the actual work of taking the census.

Vacation Dates Set

City schools will close December 23 to begin the Christmas holiday season, it was decided Tuesday night at a meeting of the school board. Classes will be resumed January 4. Plans were discussed for repairing the heating plant in the west side school building. The usual bills were allowed.

Flowers Bloom and Berries Ripen

While frost has visited many places in Oregon, Cottage Grove seems to be the most favored spot of the famous, fertile, fruitful Willamette. Sweet peas, roses and other flowers continue to bloom and strawberries are ripening. In most years many have this berry on the Thanksgiving table.
