STUDENTS AND LIQUOR.

Through kindness which it trusts will be repaid by future strict moral deportment upon the part of the young folk concerned, The Sentinel refrains from publishing the complete details of recent events which resulted in bringing several high school students before the school board. The names of those concerned are also withheld, with the hope that appreciation of this kindness may be demonstrated by a conduct upon the part of those concerned that will show that they truly regret what they have done that has brought shame upon the school and sorrow and tears to parents.

Told in as few words as possible, several students drank liquor either at or immediately following a recent high school party. When brought upon the carpet the pupils refused to tell where they got it. They did, however, deny that any was given to any girl or girls, despite gossip to the contrary.

The pupils concerned are on probation and must walk the straight and narrow path if they wish to continue their education, and they can not participate in high school activities or athletics during the remainder of the year. This means that the winning football squad is broken up and that Cottage Grove may lose the pennant—all through the indiscretions of a few. We trust those concerned realize what disappointment they have brought the coaches that whipped into shape a team which has lost only one game.

The astounding truth in connection with this truly sad affair is that, so we have been told by those who were present, the young folk talked of drinking moonshine liquor as though it was a common thing and that in this case it was justifiable because dancing was not permitted at the high school party. An excuse like that needs crutches.

If drinking liquor that is made contrary to the laws of our land and must be drunk where the arm of the law does not reach, is to be by our young folk considered only a passing event of a day and of no serious moment, what are to be expected of our citizens of the future?

Two outstanding morals are to be pointed.

Firstly and foremost, we here see the results of lax parental discipline. In these days of the automobile, of the movies, of jazz, sheiks and flappers, of free and easy conduct on the part of many older ones, parental discipline is harder than ever to maintain. It often means taking the pleasure out of life for parents, but it is more worth while than ever before and, unless parents are ready and willing to cooperate with school authorities and other authorities in holding youngsters to their place, we must expect our girls to become cigarette-smoking flappers and our boys moonshine tipplers.

The second moral to be pointed is: If we older ones expect the younger ones to leave filthy illicit liquor alone, we should set the example which we expect them to follow. Youngsters have an irritating way of imitating their elders in the things we do not want them to do.

W. H. WEATHERSON.

Pioneer newspaper work at the outposts of civilization has developed many men who have become conspicuous in their communities, and often over the state. Meeting and overcoming adversities has made them rugged and lovable characters. It is the solemn duty of The Sentinel to record the passing of one such, W. H. Weatherson, who was known over the entire county in which he labored for more than a quarter of a century. For many years he directed the destinies of The Florence West. He met and overcame competition in the little community, Lane county's only seaport, where there was hardly room for one paper, but when the paper passed from his hands it soon withered and died. Now it is no more, and Florence is without a newspaper, as well as without its pioneer editor.

Whatever his faults and foibles may have been, he earned the right to finger a harp, in place of the little types with which he composed vigorous editorials. His scissors have been sheathed and his pen has been laid down, but he will be long kindly remembered by those who knew him in his pristine vigor.

Familiarity breeds contempt. Our great movie sheik has been deserted by his wife because he wanted to stay home evenings and rear babies. After this confession he surely will be deserted by the flappers to whom he was their movie hero.

A man may be willing to die for a girl, but not for the girl who is willing he should.

Society

A burlesque Sousa's band entertained members of the Eastern Star Friday night in the Masonic hall. The program consisted of several amusing instrumental and vocal numbers. The instruments consisted of drums, combs and jazz horns and the musicians were attired in uniforms of various styles. Mrs. Herman Edwards was leader. The members were Mrs. Schofield Stewart, Mrs. Merville Veatch, Mrs. A. W. Helliwell, Mrs. Dale Hawkins, Mrs. F. E. Dixon and Mrs. Lynch Curran. Miss Laura Stewart was pianist; Mrs. Schofield Stewart was chairman. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Hawkins entertained with a duet of discords. A business session preceded the entertainment.

Mrs. Lydia Stouffer was honor guest Thursday at Constellation club, the occasion being her eightieth birthday anniversary and also her wedding anniversary. Mrs. Stouffer is a charter member of the club and also a charter member of the local Eastern Star. She was presented with a huge birthday cake lighted with candles and a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Mrs. Earl Hill, Mrs. H. W. Titus and Mrs. N. E. Glass were hostesses to the club. A short business session was held and the remaining hours spent in needlework. A cafeteria luncheon was served. Additional guests were Mrs. C. A. Hood of Portland, Miss Belle Burkholder and Mrs. F. L. Grannis.

Mrs. J. Q. Willett was hostess today to the Past Matrons club. Mrs. D. H. Hemenway was an additional guest. A short business session preceded the social afternoon. A two-course luncheon was served by the hostesses. The rooms were decorated with old fashioned marigolds, ferns and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Ranson Cone was hostess to the Ad Libitum club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Raymond Cone was an invited guest. The time was pleasantly spent in social conversation and needlework. A tempting luncheon was served. The rooms were decorated with large white chrysanthemums and potted ferns.

The W. C. T. U. held regular business meeting Friday afternoon in the Methodist church. Pastor John A. Linn gave an interesting talk on law enforcement.

Members of the Tillicum club will go to Eugene Wednesday evening to be guests of Mrs. C. H. Vandenburg at her home.

The Keepers of the Den met for their regular 12 o'clock luncheon Thursday at Hotel Bartell. Mrs. R. L. Stewart, former president of the club, was presented with a beautiful picture by the members in appreciation of her service to the club.

A benefit card party will be given Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in I. O. O. F. hall by the Past Noble Grands club.

Mrs. C. J. Kem will be hostess tomorrow afternoon to the Tuesday Bridge club.

The Utopia club will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. L. Grannis.

The Joker club will meet with Mrs. W. E. Lebow Friday.

Rates on Fruit Lowered.

Reduced express rates on Oregon fruit and nuts will make it possible for Oregonians to send these delicacies east as gifts. F. E. Mendenhall, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, last week received a letter from the Portland chamber stating that body had secured from the American Express company the lowest rate for shipping dried prunes, nuts and apples, all in one package. Under the old ruling it was difficult to send a combined package east. It is believed the new plan will result in putting these specialized products into the hands of many persons. The rates are effective December 5, 1925.

Teachers Attend Institute.

Schools of the city were closed Thursday and Friday while teachers were in attendance at the annual Lane county teachers' institute in Eugene. All teachers of the local schools attended. Problems concerning schools were discussed and addresses were made by a number of prominent educators of the state. F. L. Grannis, principal of the Cottage Grove high school, made a talk to high school teachers on the relationship of students to athletics and Miss Mildred Storrett of the junior high school spoke on the desirability of membership in the Oregon State Teacher's association. O. W. Hays, superintendent, was a member of the resolutions committee.

Facing a Burglar

If a burglar is at your bedside and bids you throw up your hands, throw them up. Keep them up. If you are awakened by noise below or above or in another part of your apartment and, while you are investigating, come face to face with your burglar, stop where you are. Don't be foolhardy. Obey him implicitly. It is cheaper. You can earn more money, you can buy jewels to replace those he takes; But not, my friend, if you are dead.

But if you have the drop on him and are sure of it, if you are sure you won't miss—let him have it. It may not be the sporting thing to do but he is no sport. He is not giving you a sporting chance—and will not.—George B. Dougherty in Liberty.

Death in the Waters

The overflow of a river in consequence of excessive rainfall is the most familiar type of flood, but there are many others, says Nature Magazine. Low-lying coasts of the ocean are often inundated by so-called "tidal waves"—which have nothing to do with the tides in the ordinary sense of the term.

Some of these waves are due to earthquakes, others to storms. In the Lisbon earthquake of November 1, 1755, 60,000 people were drowned by a wave eight feet high that advanced from the sea.

The most destructive storm waves have occurred along the coast of the Bay of Bengal. The one of October 7, 1787, is said to have risen 40 feet in the River Hugli, sweeping away 300,000 souls. The Calcutta cyclone of October 5, 1864, caused the drowning of 48,000 people.

In the terrible Backergunge hurricane of 1876 the water rose from 30 to 40 feet in less than half an hour during the night of October 31-November 1, and 100,000 persons perished.

One on the Pastor

The good parson was a little absent-minded, and somewhere or other during the day, possibly at the barber shop, he acquired a hat that looked very like his, but belonged to some one else. That evening he dined out and when the guests were leaving the host accompanied them to the door. "This is yours, is it not?" said the host, picking up the parson's hat. "Yes," said the parson, "that is mine."

There was a queer smile on the host's face as he handed over the headgear. For pasted in the crown thereof was a card bearing this legend, meant for all and sundry: "No, my friend, this is not your hat!"

Obedience

I do not know of anyone who makes us feel more than Milton does the grandeur of the ends which we ought to keep always before us, and therefore our own pettiness and want of courage and nobleness in pursuing them. I believe he failed to discern many of the intermediate relations which God has established between Himself and us; but I know no one who teaches us more habitually that disobedience to the divine will is the seat of all misery to men.—F. D. Maurice, in "The Friendship of Rocks."

Backache Is Warning!

Cottage Grove Folks Are Learning How to Heed It.

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff; drag through the day feeling tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of failing kidneys. Urinary troubles quickly follow. Neglected, there's danger of gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. Don't wait for serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, before it is too late. This Cottage Grove resident tells an experience:

Mrs. Narcissa L. Smith, 118 north First street, Cottage Grove, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I suffered so with my back I could hardly keep going. Frequent dizzy headaches made me miserable. My work was burdensome and I often neglected it and my kidneys acted irregularly—Doan's Pills cured me of the backache and all signs of kidney complaint."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Melburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

We are giving away a crystal bowl containing two gold fish, with the purchase of a fifty-cent box of Lac-Lax, the delicious candy laxative. Children delight in these lively little gold fish, the goldenest we could find anywhere. They are fascinating to grownups, too, and the clear crystal of the aquarium reflecting the golden flashes of alert, busy little inhabitants adds an ornamental touch to the home.

We couldn't think of a more acceptable gift with which to introduce this very mild and pleasant laxative. And a laxative of this kind is very important at this particular time. Lac-Lax are mild and harmless, nothing habit-forming about them. Grown folks like them and children really delight in taking them, for they are just like little mint lozenges.
