KITCHEN CUPBOARD

Things to Try

CANDIED orange peel and candied lemon are quite popular, but best of all is the thick, nicely flavored grapefruit when candied.

Candied Grapefruit.—Remove the rind from a grapefruit, leaving on about one-fourth inch of the pulp. Cut into long narrow strips, cover with cold salted water and bring to a boil. Drain and repeat four or five times, the last time boiling until tender. Drain and weigh, allowing a pound of sugar, one cupful of water for each pound of the rind. Boil the sugar and water for two minutes, add the grapefruit and simmer until the grapefruit is transparent—about thirty minutes. Drain, roll each piece in granulated sugar and dry on a tray in the oven.

Grandmother's Date Cake.—Into a mixing bowl put half of a cupful of soft butter, two and one-third cupfuls of brown sugar, four eggs, one cupful of milk, three and one-half cupfuls of flour, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg and one pound of dates cut into pieces. Bake in a tube pan.

Raisin and Green Pepper Salad.—Boil one-half cupful of raisins until plump and soft, arrange on a bed of Chinese cabbage with shredded green peppers. Serve with:

Thousand Island Salad Dressing.—Beat one-half cupful of olive oil into one cupful of mayonnaise dressing, add a teaspoonful of vinegar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, one teaspoonful of pimentoes, one teaspoonful of green pepper, one teaspoonful of olives, all three chopped. Mix all the ingredients thoroughly, then beat in gradually one-half cupful of chili sauce. This will keep, if kept in a cold place for a long time.

Prune and Almond Salad.—Stew large prunes, remove the stones and stuff with shredded almonds. Arrange on tender lettuce and serve with a French dressing. Prunes or dates added to sections of orange and served on lettuce with French dressing is a good salad combination.

Pin Consumption

In these days of efficiency no one should ever pick up a pin. The ancient proverb which promised an entire day of good luck as a reward for picking up a pin has been outgrown.

The United States now uses more than 20,000,000,000 pins a year, about 200 per capita.

The pin is not only very ancient, but many of the so-called modern forms are actually copies of pins in common use thousands of years ago.—Thrifty Magazine.

Losing Ground

"The world is getting better every day," replied Miss Cayenne. "But my limited observation tempts me to think it is growing worse every night."

Who Isn't?

Diner (Indignantly)—Bring the proprietor here at once, there's a wasp in my soup.

Waiter—It's no use sending for the boss, he's deadily scared of 'em himself.—Passing Show.

EUGENE MAN IS HURT IN HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

E. C. Rexford Bruised When Struck By Car Monday Evening.

E. C. Rexford, buyer for a Eugene meat market, was painfully injured Monday evening in an accident on the Pacific highway between Walker and Creswell when a big automobile struck Rexford and carried him through a wire fence after striking and killing a large bull, a part of a herd of 16 cattle Rexford was driving.

Frank Safley of Cottage Grove, who had sold the cattle to Rexford and was helping him drive them, narrowly escaped injury.

The car driven by D. Parker of Salem, and containing two other men, was travelling at about 40 miles per hour, it was said. Rexford and Safley had been keeping the cattle off the pavement as much as possible, but three of the animals had strayed onto the pavement as another car passed and just in front of the Parker car.

Parker swerved his car to miss a cow and struck the bull, an animal weighing 1100 pounds. The bull was thrown astride the hood by the impact of the blow and his back broken. He was carried 95 feet before he rolled off of the car, which then struck Rexford, who was unable to get out of the way. Rexford was carried upon the hood 15 or 20 feet before the car struck a hole and stopped.

Rexford was taken by a passing motorist to a Eugene hospital, where it was reported he had numerous cuts and bruises, but none serious.

The speeding car narrowly missed a telephone pole in its wild dash after striking the bull. None of the men in the car was hurt, but the car was considerably damaged.

Community Chest Favored.

Endorsement of a community chest as a means of solving the charity problem of Cottage Grove was given this noon at the regular weekly luncheon of the Lions club. The matter was considered at the request of the Mothers club, which favors the organization of the chest. Most of the drives for charity this year have been completed, but it was the opinion of club members that the chest should be seriously considered next year. A letter was read from the international secretary of the associated clubs in which information was requested as to the manner in which the Lions club assisted in giving Kelly athletic field to the city. The club was complimented on its work. Pastor Duncan P. Cameron was a guest and spoke at the luncheon.

Eugene Bankers Firm.

Eugene bankers are firm in their determination not to cash warrants of that city until some definite action is taken toward refunding warrants now outstanding. Members of the Eugene clearing house made this announcement following a meeting this week between bankers and Mayor E. U. Lee. The decision to refuse to cash city warrants was made by the clearing house last week, when bankers stated the city had failed to meet its obligations in the matter of warrants held by the banks. A bond issue of $170,000 is to come up for special election December 15. This issue, if passed, will be used to retire warrants and may help to restore the credit of the city.

Leaburg Postoffice Is Robbed.

The safe in the postoffice at Leaburg was blown by yeggmen about four o'clock yesterday morning and $25 in money was taken. No stamps or blank money orders were missing and no goods were taken from the store in which the postoffice is located, according to W. M. Clark, the postmaster and store owner.

Persons living near the store heard the explosion but nobody made an investigation.

Four men were seen to enter a car parked near the church west of the store and drive toward Eugene after the explosion.

Jacob T. Allen Dies.

Jacob G. Allen died early Wednesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. M. Hill, in Curtin. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Christian church in Drain under the direction of Karl K. Mills. Interment was in the Comstock cemetery. Mr. Allen was 77 years of age. He was born December 18, 1848, in St. Lawrence county, New York.
