

Backache Is Warning!

Cottage Grove Folks Are Learning How to Heed It.

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff; drag through the day feeling tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of failing kidneys. Urinary troubles quickly follow. Neglected, there's danger of gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. Don't wait for serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, before it is too late. This Cottage Grove resident tells an experience:

Mrs. Narcissa L. Smith, 118 north First street, Cottage Grove, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I suffered so with my back I could hardly keep going. Frequent dizzy headaches made me miserable. My work was burdensome and I often neglected it and my kidneys acted irregularly—Doan's Pills cured me of the backache and all signs of kidney complaint."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Melburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

CITATION.

In the county court for the state of Oregon for Lane county.

In the matter of the estate of Joseph L. Mendell, deceased. To W. H. Mendell, N. L. Mendell, William Stanley, Rosell Stanley, Edna Stanley, Grace Stanley, Minnie Godfrey, Rosa Day, and to all other persons unknown, if any such there be, to show cause, if any exist, why an order of sale should not be made to the property herein described, greeting:

In the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby cited and required to appear in the county court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Lane, at the court room thereof, at Eugene, in the county of Lane, on the 27th day of April, 1926, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day then and there to show cause, if any you have, why an order for the sale of the real property belonging to said estate should not be made in accordance with the petition of the administrator on file herein; said real estate being described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a point in the donation land claim of James H. McFarland No. 58 township 29 south of range 3 west of the Willamette meridian, which is 1026 feet north 58° 49' east from the northeast corner of block 1 of D. G. McFarland's fourth addition to Cottage Grove, and running thence north 34° 42' east 250.5 feet, thence south 60 degrees east 80 feet more or less to the center of the Coast fork river; thence along center of said river, southwesterly, to a point south 55° 18' east of the beginning point; and thence north 55° 18' west 45 feet more or less to the place of beginning, all being in Lane county, Oregon.

Witness, the honorable C. P. Barnard, judge of the county court of the state of Oregon, for the county of Lane and the seal of said court hereto affixed, this 27th day of March, 1926.

Date of first publication, March 29, 1926. Attest: R. S. BRYSON, County Clerk. Lane County. By Eva Duckworth, Deputy. SEAL. m29a26(M)hw

Red Rain Mystery

Klyne stopped and looked critically down at the chalk-white face of the usually florid James Honeybun. The great criminologist drew the inspector aside and continued: "There lies the actual murderer of Sir Francis Lathrop."

"I do not think you would ever have brought him to the gallows, there are extenuating circumstances which would have weighed with the secretary, if not with the judge. And see! He would not even have gone up for trial. Mr. James Honeybun is on the point of death. That black-vised brute will have two murders to his count, and you have caught him in the act of one of them. Roake. What more do you want for a feather in your cap?"

Supported in the arms of one of the C. I. D. men, the younger Hon-

eybun signed to them to approach. "Mr. Klyne is quite right," he panted painfully. "I killed Sir Francis Lathrop in my own. Let my old dad down easy! What he did to save me, you know—the red rain stunt. Klyne has spotted everything from quite early in the game, I can see. He will turn on the limelight for you, inspector, and—maybe—it will be kind to me."

"I will try to make it so," Klyne bent kindly over the dying man. "And if it would soften your last moments—no, but it wouldn't," he broke off suddenly.

"What were you going to tell him?" asked Roake a moment later, as the assistant detective reverently covered the congested features. With a groan James Honeybun had passed away.

"I was going to administer comfort which would really have been torture," was Klyne's reply. "I was about to inform him that the late Sir Francis Lathrop had married his sister-made her his lawful wife. It would have been too cruel, and I am never that if I can help it. It would have been as good as telling him that he had no reason whatever for killing Sir Francis Lathrop."

For the first time since the handcuffs were snapped on his wrists Wilnot asserted himself.

"Never cruel. 'What about me and your third degree? If I could only get my hands on ver!'" (To be continued.)

To Those Who Judge Quality by Price

The quality of Ford cars cannot be judged by the prices at which they are sold—because Ford prices are made possible by conditions that are absolutely unique in the automotive industry.

From mine to market the Ford car is the work of a single organization. The Company owns and operates the mines and forests that furnish the raw materials for its products. This material is carried over Ford transportation routes, fabricated in Ford mills, manufactured in Ford plants—and the finished product is sold to the public through Ford dealers.

The following statement, previously made in an advertising message, is repeated because of its significance to the public:

"If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford, according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design, it would be impossible to offer it at anything like Ford prices. And it is well to note that even with less costly design they have not met Ford prices."
