THE INTERNAL, NOT THE EXTERNAL.

It seems to be the spirit of the times to be dissatisfied with what we have.

Do we see someone with more than we have, especially among our associates, we want all that that person has and entirely overlook others of our associates who have less than we have and who in turn will become more dissatisfied when they see us added to those who have more than they.

Did we wish only for the things which mean comfort for ourselves, for the things which make us better able to instruct others in a better way to live and for the things which would enable us to in some way make others happier, our wishes might be noble ones, but to have things merely for the one purpose of making a display of them, is not only inelegant but is the underlying cause of the spirit of dissatisfaction and unrest. We not only keep ourselves dissatisfied but we irritate those who wish they could make a similar display.

We are led to make these remarks by the case of the man who has just been elected to the highest office within the gift of the people of his native city, the same in which as a child he was the victim of an accident which robbed him of his eyesight.

Not having his eyesight, he probably did not note when he was not dressed as some of his schoolmates were dressed. He did not note that the furnishings of his home were more meager than the furnishings in the homes of his friends.

He did not even complain that he was handicapped as none of his mates were handicapped. He did not complain that his mates had more than wealth of any magnitude could buy—the precious gift of sight. That such was the case is shown by the fact that he graduated from the grades and high school, not only with those of his own age but with such honors that he won a university scholarship.

It is most refreshing to think that in this great democratic country it is possible for a lad without worldly goods and without eyesight to get an education equal to that available to the wealthy. This in part recompenses for disgust with those whose temperaments are such that they can not absorb education if there be any lack of bodily adornment.

Those who think have observed that only once in centuries is a person remembered for the lavish raiment he wore, while the thousands whose names are an inspiration to greater effort are those of whom there is no record of the kind of clothes they wore, except in exceptional cases like that of Abraham Lincoln, whose clothes were quite in contrast with those of Beau Brummell who died an imbecile and a pauper.

It has been true for ages, it is true now, and it will ever be true that we are remembered for the things we do and not for display of wealth. The clothes which we wear now may appear hideous to those of another generation, but the things we think and the deeds we do will not go out of style regardless of the number of ages through which they may live.

PATTERSON FOR GOVERNOR.

Ike Patterson, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, has issued his platform. He needs a broad one on which to stand and that is the kind he has issued. He would eliminate much of the prison scandal by putting the penitentiary under the board of control, he would remove the fish and game commissions from politics and he would make the governor responsible for the expenditures of his administration by making him the budget making official.

Ike has served the state long enough to know some of the things that ought to be done and its a cinch if he is placed in the gubernatorial chair some of them will be done.

Not only is Ike a capable square shooter, but the democrats can start no mudslinging campaign against him that would get anywhere. He is the logical candidate to beat the fearful Walt. A candidate that can be elected is the kind that should be nominated.

A California man stole a case of moonshine and a package of razor blades. We should say that razor blades would make about the right kind of "chaser" for the kind of whisky that is made these days.

Medford residents are complaining about chickens that scratch up gardens, and cats that howl all night. Why don't they use their smudge pots?

Shooting Match Forfeited.

The Cottage Grove Rod and Gun club forfeited its two matches in the Oregonian telegraphic shoot yesterday. Members of the team were lured away by fishing.

Benston-Burnette

A surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Leah Burnette and Elwin R. Benston, solemnized Saturday, April 10, in Albany, Judge B. M. Payne officiating. Miss Burnette is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Burnette and though she has lived here but a short time is well known among the younger set. Mr. Benston is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Benston of Saginaw and has a wide circle of friends here.

Mrs. L. C. Liston was hostess Tuesday at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Gray Goose for the Tuesday Bridge club. A centerpiece of purple irises was used as table decoration. Following the luncheon the guests went to the home of Mrs. Liston to play bridge. Additional guests were Mrs. Walter Woodward, Mrs. Charles S. Hall and Mrs. Victor Chambers. Mrs. W. H. Daugherty held high score. Several letters and cards from Mrs. G. C. Dyott, a club member who is now in Vienna, were read by the secretary.

Plans for a Girl Scout group to be organized under the sponsorship of the American Legion auxiliary were discussed at the auxiliary meeting Monday evening but no definite action was taken. Mrs. G. M. Scott and Mrs. F. L. Grannis were appointed to secure a leader for the proposed group. The American Legion was entertained by the auxiliary at a social session following the regular meeting. Mrs. Fred Bennett, Mrs. Charles S. Hall, Mrs. George Scott and Mrs. Victor Kena were hostesses. Delicious refreshments were served.

A surprise party, honoring "Mother" Allison on her seventy-sixth birthday anniversary, was held Sunday at the F. H. Allison home. The six Allison boys and their families gathered for the affair. The sons are H. F. Allison of Roseburg; J. W. Allison, Grants Pass; D. Y. Allison, Roseburg; G. F. Allison, Portland; and S. V. and F. H. Allison of this city. Frankie Snodgrass gave several vocal selections.

Mrs. W. E. Lebow and Mrs. C. M. Miller were hostesses to the Joker club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lebow. Additional guests were Mrs. H. K. Metcalf and Mrs. O. M. Kem. Bridge was the evening's diversion, after which the guests were taken to the Gray Goose, where a delicious supper was served. Sweetpeas and forget-me-nots were used effectively as decorations.

The Good Will chapter of the World Wide guild, an international organization of young women of the Baptist church, was organized at a meeting of young women held Tuesday evening in the chapel car. Miss Louise Hunderup, state worker for the guild, whose headquarters are in Portland, helped to organize the group. Miss Mildred Marquis was elected president and Miss Ramona Spriggs secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Elbert Bede was hostess to the Utopia club this afternoon. Special guests were Mrs. Vinal Randall, Mrs. L. L. Harrel and Mrs. Dan Hamant. The rooms were attractive with spring flowers. An artistic bowl of wisteria blooms formed the table centerpiece. A delicious two-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. H. W. Titus entertained the M. P. G. club Tuesday, April 13. Additional guests were Mrs. W. H. Daugherty, Mrs. S. M. Titus and Mrs. Saphronia Jessop. The rooms were effectively decorated with irises and hincinths. Dainty refreshments were served.

The Past Matrons' club was entertained Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Veatch. The afternoon was spent socially. Spring flowers were the decorations. A dainty two-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Ransom Cone was hostess to the Ad Libitum club last Thursday afternoon. Guests took needlework and the afternoon was spent sewing. Wild lady slippers were the decorations. A dainty two-course luncheon was served.

A pie social and package sale was held Tuesday evening at the Christian church by the ladies' aid. More than $10 was raised. A short program was given and refreshments were served.

Mrs. George O. Knowles was hostess to the O. L. H. club Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent playing bridge. A delicious two-course luncheon was served.

The women's relief corps will hold its regular meeting at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in I. O. O. F. hall.

They say nothing is impossible. Well, try to get a flapper to go for a ride in a buggy.

A Michigan train was wrecked by a motor car. The worm has turned at last.

HEBRON.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
April 20.—Several members of the W. O. W. lodge of Cottage Grove visited Sunday with Lincoln Taylor.

Mrs. Belle Geer and grandson Verlin Powell attended Sunday school at Lorane Sunday morning and visited the Bob Powell and Compton families in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. Jackson Sprinkel and three children visited Sunday afternoon with the Misses Taylor.

Mrs. William McCoy also visited the Misses Taylor Sunday morning. Johnnie Carlile broke his ankle Friday morning at school. His aunts, Mrs. Phoebe Young and Mrs. Mary Doolittle, came Saturday morning to care for him.

Agnes Taylor visited over Sunday with the Gilerist girls, attending church Sunday morning and Christian Endeavor in the evening. Miss Myrtle Gilham and little niece Cerna visited Friday with Mrs. Gilerist and attended the aid society meeting held there in the afternoon. Seven were present and tied a comfort.

Mr. Searle visited here Friday evening and Saturday. Anna Jepson and Hazel Fuhrer

NOTICE OF SALE OF GOVERNMENT TIMBER.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE.

Washington, D. C., April 7, 1926. Notice is hereby given that subject to the conditions and limitations of the acts of June 9, 1916 (39 Stat., 218), June 4, 1920 (41 Stat., 758), and pursuant to departmental regulations of April 14, 1924 (50 L. D., 376), the timber on the following lands will be sold May 27, 1926, at 10 o'clock a. m. at public auction at the U. S. land office at Roseburg, Oregon to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value as shown by this notice, sale to be subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Interior. The purchase price, with an additional sum of one-fifth of one per cent thereof, being commissions allowed, must be deposited at time of sale, money to be returned if sale is not approved. How We Do It!

Just the other day we bought 63,000 bags—about 157 carloads—or 6,300,000 pounds of sugar. Quite a bit of sugar—wasn't it? Enough—one would think—to last us for some time. But—for Skaggs Stores—this was just about a THREE WEEKS' SUPPLY! Can you conceive of any ordinary store—or chain of stores, for that matter—buying and selling in such quantities? Hardly! Naturally, with such a tremendous purchasing power and such an outlet for merchandise, we get the lowest possible price. And these lower prices we pass on to you. For instance—on this one item alone—we are saving the patrons of Skaggs Stores 10 to 25 cents a bag. This is our idea of service—the service of saving—and it is reflected in the prices quoted below.
