PLANS MADE FOR BOYS CAMP ON ROW RIVER

Culp Creek, Ore., June 17.—(Special.)—H. H. McAllister, secretary of the Boys Y. M. C. A. at Eugene, has arrived with a party of 17 at the old camp at the mouth of Sharp's creek, and is putting the grounds in order and outlining further improvements, to make the spot a permanent summer camp.

Mr. McAllister and his associates came out last Friday, planning a new camp near Lundpark, at the mouth of Champion creek canyon. Becoming discouraged with the site in question, they undertook to lay out a three-acre permanent camp above Disston. Today they abandoned this site and moved down to the old camp that for several years has been an outing resort for the boys. Mr. McAllister is now determined to make this a permanent camp, and is arranging for many needed improvements.

A chapel and a cook house will be built and as fast as possible other construction work will be taken up.

The camp will open to the boys July 7, closing July 19, with Secretary McAllister in charge. He will be assisted by the following, some of whom are already with him in the camp: E. C. Holderman, athletic director; Gilbert Sprague, life saver; Dr. W. B. Neal, physician and in charge of the hospital; Mrs. B. Dunbar, Eugene, head cook; Sam White, second cook; Lyle Wynd, botanist; Glen Bessonette, Pioneer leader; Marion Zencher, leader and organist.

Phil McFarland, of Enterprise, Wash., will instruct in woodcraft, while A. H. Saunders, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Eugene and Dr. Stivers, of the First Christian church, Eugene, will officiate in spiritual services.

EPIDEMIC OF SMALLPOX IS THOUGHT ON WANE

A mild epidemic of smallpox, which has existed for some time in the city, shows signs of abating, and probably will die out in two or three weeks, according to Dr. C. E. Frost, city health officer. Efforts are being made to check the disease by quarantine, but effective restriction is almost impossible, owing to the mildness of the epidemic. Many persons have the disease in such slight form they do not become ill enough to require the services of a physician. It is from these cases, which have not come under surveillance of doctors, that the disease has spread.

Quarantine rules are being enforced in cases where doctors are called before the disease has passed the virulent stage. Vaccination has helped greatly to check further spread.

Celebration Plans Off.

Plans for celebration of the Fourth of July in Cottage Grove probably will be abandoned, according to business men of the city who were interested in the proposal to stage a celebration.

Veterans Get Extension.

World war veterans have until July 2, 1927, to reinstate their war time insurance policies, according to recent announcement by Kenneth L. Cooper, regional manager of the U. S. veterans' bureau in Portland. July 2, 1926, was the original time limit set, but congress recently extended the time one year. This action was advocated by the American Legion on the grounds that many war veterans had not yet adjusted their economic affairs, so they could carry one of the government policies.

An added feature of the new ruling is the privilege of taking out a five year level premium term policy at a low rate prior to the above date. This may later be converted into one of the six forms of permanent life and endowment policies.

The ruling will aid local ex-service men, American Legion officers state. Many veterans had signified their intention of converting their government insurance, but had expressed a desire for more time.

Rain Is Welcome.

Culp Creek, Ore., June 19.—(Special.)—The "long dry spell" of some three weeks duration, was broken last night by a warm rain. Today has the appearance of a mild continuation of summer showers, very much to the satisfaction of farmers, with the exception of those who have hay down. However a 12 or 24-hour rain will do very little damage to the hay crop, and will be beneficial to the grain crops and gardens.

B. K. Lawson Visits.

Culp Creek, Ore., June 19.—(Special.)—B. K. Lawson, general manager for the McCleary Estate Co., Wedderburn, Curry county, Oregon, "Where the Rogue river meets the sea," was a visitor at Culp Creek yesterday. Mr. Lawson is well known in Laas county, particularly in Eugene and Cottage Grove. For a number of years he was engaged in business in the latter city and has been closely identified with public and military affairs of the state since the Spanish-American war days.
