Cultivate the saving habit in your children by opening a savings account in their name. Teach them to save their pennies—a child's pennies are a man's dollars. A dollar or more starts an account and earns 3 per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.

RR Revenge!

He walked into the bird and animal store and asked for the proprietor. "I want to place a rather large order and I'd like to know if you can handle it," he explained.

"I think we can take care of almost anything you put up to us," parried the bird and animal man.

"What is it you want?"

"I want some cockroaches," said he. "Can you get me some?"

"Why, ah, why, I suppose—how many do you want?" stammered the storekeeper.

"Seventeen thousand, eight hundred and thirty-seven."

"Say, what are you trying to do, kid me or what?"

"No, I'm not," snapped the customer. "My lease says I must turn over my apartment to my landlord in the condition it was when I moved in. I'm going to see that that sun of a gun gets it in the same condition as when I got it."

A man who recently paid a visit to Paris took his wife with him, and as neither of them had been to the French capital before, they promised themselves a good time.

They began by treating themselves to a good dinner. Towards the close of the meal, he was telling his wife that her pronunciation was all wrong, and that she shouldn't say, "merci" as if it was our English word "mercy." Now I'll give that waiter ten francs, he told her, "and you listen carefully." He slipped the man a ten-franc note, and the reply was, "Thanks, very much, sir."

That there are class distinctions in crime and misfortune appears to be illustrated by this incident told by Sir Ernest Wild, W. C., recorder of London, who paid a recent visit to a prison. One of the prisoners seemed much upset. Asked by the governor, who was showing Sir Ernest round, what was the matter, the man replied: "Bad news from 'ome, sir; very bad news indeed."

"What is the news?" inquired the governor, sympathetically.

"It's about my brother, sir," was the answer; "he's gone into the work house, sir—the first member of our family to disgrace us."

One or the Other.

"Lafe Lagg's wife sings to him every evening," in the postoffice at Booger Holler, related Jig Fiddling. "Just sets and sings for hours at a time."

"Does he complain much about it?" asked some one.

"Not precisely; but he says he's about made up his mind to get a divorce from her or kill her, and he hain't quite decided which."

AMERICAN LEGION AIDS SALVATION ARMY BOYS

The American Legion collected $800 Wednesday for the Salvation Army to help defray expenses of the outing of 125 children, who are guests of the Salvation Army this week at Calapooya springs.

MAKE-BELIEVE SHOT IS CAUSE REAL EXCITEMENT

Days when every he-man packed a gun and backed up his statements with a shot were vividly recalled Wednesday when one of the Buster Keaton company soldiers accidentally fired his revolver in a local eating place. The gun was loaded with blanks but the report was loud enough to be convincing. Passersby dashed in from the street to witness the slaughter but found only two very much embarrassed make-believe soldiers.

Flames Injure Stock Of McQueen Grocery

Fire at 11:30 this forenoon came near destroying the Awbrey building, the lower story of which is occupied by McQueen's grocery. The upper story is housekeeping apartments. The flames started from a fire on the lot next to the Awbrey building where the I. O. O. F. building has been torn down. Rubbish was being burned by workman and dry grass alongside the building was set afire by one of the rubbish fires. It happened so quickly that workmen who were watching the fires and were ready with water did not see the flames until the building was afire.

The fire department was throwing two streams of water within a few minutes and soon had the flames under control. This was the first opportunity the department has had to test the pressure provided by the new million-gallon reservoir.

The greatest damage was by smoke to the stock of the McQueen grocery.
