ARCADIE Theatre WEEKLY PROGRAM

Thursday, October 21 "MISMATES" with Doris Kenyon and Warner Baxter. A Roman festival where a cowardly husband gives a feast for a lie and a smashing climax as thrilling as the screen can give. It's wonderful.

Comedy. Felix Doubles for Darwin and International News.

Friday, October 22. "THE BOY FRIEND" with Marcelline Day and John Harron. A picture of the old south where men are Colonels and boys are soda jerks. What kind of a "boy friend" are you? A real picture.

Comedy. Sweet Pickle.

Saturday, October 23 "FOREVER AFTER" with Mary Aster and Lloyd Hughes.

Whether it is in front of cheering thousands—or under the roar of big guns. For her, always for her! A promise tangled in the skein of war madness. Comedy. Excess Baggage.

Sun.-Mon., October 24-25 "TAKE IT FROM ME" with Reginald Denny. This picture will give you the best laughs you ever had. I don't mean maybe. It's an eye-filler! It's a howl and it's Denny's funniest. It's just one big roll of laughter. Don't miss this great comedy. Comedy. Love's Hurdle.

Tue.-Wed., October 26-27 Harold Lloyd in "FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE." Bust up dull care with an evening with Lloyd. "For heaven's sake" you "auto" see this one. He makes the hard boiled boys go to church. It's a knock-out. You all know Lloyd. See him in his latest and greatest comedy. Comedy. Never Again.

SOCIETY

The Research club met Tuesday afternoon at the city library. Members responded to roll call by giving original slogans for candidates for governor. Mrs. C. Wilde was welcomed as a new member. General subjects for discussion were legislation and law enforcement as undertaken by the National Federation of Women. Measures of importance to women, which are to come before the next congress, were explained and discussed as follows: Uniform marriage and divorce laws, Mrs. D. A. Forbes; the Curtis bill for a federal department of education and cabinet secretary, Mrs. D. Cameron; the child labor amendment, Mrs. Robert Quigley; the Crampton bill to place prohibition agents under civil service, Mrs. D. Bosley. Mrs. W. J. White, program leader, led a discussion upon 'The United States, a member of the World Court,' 'The Fess Amendment' and 'National Parks.' Mrs. Van Osdel led a round table talk on the Housewives' Council water and power bonding amendment. Plans were made for a food sale to be held Saturday at Smith & Short's. Mrs. Robert Quigley and Mrs. D. D. Roberts are in charge.

The Tillicum club was entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George McQueen. Mr. and Mrs. George Scott, members who are now living in Eugene, were present and additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Graham. The evening was spent playing five hundred. Mrs. D. H. Hemenway held high honors and Miss Eunice VanDenberg won the consolation. The rooms were gay with Halloween decorations and paper caps were given the guests. A two-course luncheon was served.

The American Legion auxiliary held a covered dish supper Monday evening in Legion hall, having as guests Legion members and families. About 60 persons attended. The committee in charge was Mrs. J. A. Powell, Mrs. O. M. Kem, Mrs. Joe Smith. Following the supper the auxiliary held a business session at which it was voted to send $20 to the veterans' hospital to buy slippers for veterans. Plans were made for an old clothes drive. Mrs. T. L. Grannis is chairman and old clothes may be left with her or at Long & Carson's garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl K. Mills entertained at dinner Monday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Titus, who will leave soon to make their home in Eugene. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helliwell, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Short, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Woods, the honor guests and the host and hostess. A line party at the theater was held following the dinner.

The Tuesday Evening Study club met Tuesday evening and held a round-table discussion on measures to come before voters in the fall election. Each member came prepared to discuss some subject. A social time was held following the program to honor Mrs. H. W. Titus, who resigned as president of the club as she is moving from the city. Light refreshments were served and marigolds were the table centerpiece.

Mrs. O. L. Nichols and Mrs. Karl K. Mills were hostesses Monday afternoon to the Past Matrons club in Masonic hall. Mrs. H. A. Miller was honor guest in celebration of her birthday anniversary. A birthday cake decorated with pink candles was served in her honor. Pink chrysanthemums were room decorations and a pink color scheme was used in the table decorations. A delicious two-course luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neet honored Mrs. Clara T. Young at a 6 o'clock dinner last Thursday in celebration of her seventy-third birthday anniversary. A large birthday cake decorated with candles was the table centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl K. Mills entertained at dinner Sunday, honoring Judge O. P. Coshaw, uncle of Mrs. Mills. Guests were Pastor and Mrs. J. D. Chappelle and Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Wright.

A number attended the American Legion auxiliary benefit card party held Wednesday afternoon and evening in Legion hall. Both bridge and five hundred were played. Autumn leaves and varied bud chrysanthemums were decorations and refreshments of coffee and wafers were served.

Mrs. D. H. Hemenway entertained the O. L. H. club Wednesday afternoon at the American Legion auxiliary benefit card party. Additional guests were Mrs. C. E. Frost, Mrs. S. L. Godard and Mrs. W. E. Lebow of this city and Mrs. J. C. Johnson of Gold Beach, mother of Mrs. Lebow.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller entertained with a dinner Monday night at the Gray Goose. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. James P. Graham. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Miller and Mr. Graham. An evening of bridge was enjoyed at the Miller home.

A bridge party is being held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe Smith in honor of Mrs. H. W. Titus, who will leave soon for Eugene. Hostesses are Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Roy Short, Mrs. Albert Helliwell, Mrs. Karl K. Mills, Mrs. Charles Adams and Mrs. W. J. Woods.

Few Are the Changes Rung on Literature

The end of a tale told by Glump, the Neolithic bard, way back B. W. O. H. ("Wells' Outline of History"): "And so O-gog married U-gug, and they lived happily ever after."

From the well-known ode of Vichy, the bubbling troubadour: "And then, amid high rejoicing and welkin-ringing, did Sir Paodiegref, high Sir Grillepad for short, wed the fair lady Ysobel, eight five feet two inches; and the tale tells that forever afterward they lived happily."

The end of the novel by S. Off Slush, the famous Victorian romance writer: "The sacred words were said. They were man and wife. Happily, happily did they live forever after."

From "Garlic," by the realistic novelist, Arsenic L. Bite: "And so Pete, the stockbroker, undertook to pay the bridge debts of Annabel, the gay flapper. And they lived happily until they got into the train on their honeymoon, and she found that he had purposely left her stranded at home."—Kansas City Star.

Lonely Island Might Have Been America's

By only a small margin did the State department at Washington miss having the worry of the helpless island of Tristan da Cunha added to its cares, for it was once claimed by an American. The island, a lonely British possession in the South Atlantic, had a measure of prosperity in the early years of the Nineteenth century when the whole enticed men and wooden ships into the region. It was a haven for sailing ships from Salem, Gloucester and Boston. A Salem man named Lambert and a companion took up their residence on Tristan da Cunha and Lambert declared himself sovereign and sole possessor of the island. "On the rational and sure ground of absolute occupancy," his hope was to develop what might be called a "filling station" for whaling ships. But Lambert and his partner were drowned two years later in the tempestuous seas for which the island is infamous. Still the island has some things to recommend it. There are no laws, and when it was proposed to give the people a constitution, they regarded such a document as superfluous, so the few inhabitants living there manage their affairs without the complication of written covenants.—National Geographic Society Bulletin.

Ancient Bibles

The American Bible society says that "prior to the Gutenberg Bible, printed about 1450, many manuscripts of the Bible were produced in which both sides of the leaf were lettered. Writing materials were so expensive in the Middle Ages that it was the exception rather than the rule not to use both sides of a leaf. We have in our library at Union seminary four Latin biblical manuscripts of that type. It was quite possible to write the entire Bible in manuscript in a single volume, though the handwriting which had to be employed in that case was apt to be so small that it was very hard to read. Three of our biblical manuscripts mentioned above contain in a single volume both the Old and the New Testaments, so it was quite feasible."

Changing Lake Level

A seiche is a sudden change of atmospheric pressure on one part of a large lake which causes changes of level everywhere. If the pressure is increased in one place, the surface of the water there is lowered, and elsewhere correspondingly raised. If the change is one which lessens the pressure locally the water surface beneath the lessened pressure rises while it falls elsewhere. Once those changes are set up, there is some pulsation of the water level before equilibrium is established again.

Remorse!

A few weeks ago an Englishman drove up to the town hall of Rouen, France, handed the mayor 3,000 francs for distribution among local charities, and explained: "I was a motor driver in the army during the war, and in 1916 I ran into a French woman and smashed her umbrella. I did not stop to compensate her for the damage, and the fact that I didn't has p.ayed on my mind ever since. Will you please accept this as some sort of recompense!"

Easy to Lose

The score was 27 to 0 in favor of the visiting eleven at the end of the first period, yet the fair young fan who had announced she had placed a stake on the home team did not seem disheartened. "You shouldn't have bet on our team," counseled her girl friend. "Everybody knew they would lose." "I knew it myself, dearie," agreed the other. "I was betting kissea."—American Legion Magazine.

Reminded Her of "Mudder"

Jane was spending the day with Mrs. W. while her mother attended to some business in a neighboring city. Jane was given many playthings, but Mrs. W., coming into the room, found her gazing sadly out of the window. "Why don't you play with those pretty things, Jane?" Mrs. W. asked. "Everything I play wiv makes me think of my mudder," Jane answered disconsolately.—Boston Herald.

Visited by Vasco da Gama

Callcut, in Madras, British India, on the Indian ocean, was the first Indian port visited by Vasco da Gama in 1498. It was destroyed by Tippu Sahib in 1780, and ceded to the British in 1792.

Mr. Slow-Pay Again. The dentist had been trying to collect a bill for a set of false teeth. "Did he pay you?" asked his wife. "Pay me! Not only did he refuse to pay me, but he actually had the affrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth!"

CHRYSLER Model Numbers Mean Miles Per Hour "50" "60" "70" "80" Chrysler Standardized Quality Means the Maximum of Precision and Excellence The Chrysler plan of Quality Standardization differs from, and is superior to, ordinary manufacturing practice and methods, because it demands fixed and inflexible quality standards which enforce the same scrupulously close limits—the same rigid rule of engineering exactness—the same absolute accuracy and precision of alignment and assemblage—in the measurement, the machining and manufacturing of every part, practice and process in four lines of Chrysler cars—"50," "60," "70" and Imperial "80"—so that each individual car shall be the Supreme Value in its own class. Thus "purchaser's risk" is eliminated. The purchaser is assured of absolute safety. He knows that every Chrysler—from the lowest-priced to the highest-priced—is the supreme value in its class. That the value of each is unquestionable. Seventh Street Garage

SKAGGS' UNITED STORES "Owe No Man!" Money saving Distribution Without Waste Cash stores The practical wisdom of this command—given in the dawn of man's recorded history—has demonstrated itself over and over again in the affairs of nations and in the experience of individuals.
