BREAD AND BUTTER FOR OURSELVES.

We are greatly concerned at all times about our own bread and butter.

It, therefore, strikes The Sentinel as appropriate that a boosting campaign for home industries, started by the Lions club, and given impetus by other organizations, should select bread and butter made at home as the first articles to receive the attention of the home industries boosters.

Merchants of the city are signing an agreement to offer for sale only the home made articles and the number who have signed is encouraging to those in charge of the petition, which is yet open for signatures. Even one chain store has asked to be counted in on the campaign.

The sale in Cottage Grove of bread and butter made elsewhere has always seemed to The Sentinel to be ridiculous. The home made articles are as good as any made elsewhere and the wages spent in the industries which produce the goods remain in the community. It has been estimated that the payrolls of these two industries may be doubled if the proposed campaign is a complete success. The payroll of neither industry, some may say, is large as payrolls go in a sawmill city, but the fact remains undisputed that a number of small payrolls are equal to one large payroll, and Cottage Grove's position is not so secure that it can snap its fingers at any home payroll.

This is a campaign that should have been started years ago. It is a campaign that should receive instant response from those who buy bread and butter. Keeping the home dollar at home is hard enough at best. This is a simple and easy way of keeping a large number more at home and of adding to the number of persons on our payrolls and building homes in our city.

What is being done with bread and butter might well be extended to other things, and probably will be. For example, this writer has eaten home cured bacon and ham, made right here in our own little Cottage Grove, that is the equal of that prepared by any concern maintaining its payroll in some big city many miles away.

There are many ways in which we might increase the use of our lumber at home in this concrete-stucco age. A hundred ways can be easily found to keep the home dollar doing duty overtime.

Buyers of home made articles can easily make the campaign for home made goods a success by refusing to accept substitutes. No one should think that his nickels and dimes make little difference. It is his nickels and dimes of the other 3000 or more persons living here, that spell success or failure for home industry.

Keep our own nickels and dimes and dollars chasing one another in and out of our own stores and our own industries when it is consistently possible to do so, and we will be surprised at the way they will wax fat and hearty.

At Albany a woman, talking over the phone about a man named Abel, tried to explain the man's name by saying that he was the fellow who killed his brother. A short time later the police of that city arrested the man for murder. For delays in bringing murderers to justice this is the longest on record.

Some men have such mean dispositions that they find fault with the presents received at a surprise party.

It's better to keep your hands in your pockets than to always have them out for something.

Some must work to earn a living for those who are always giving good advice.

Some folks are so suspicious that they are not even sure of themselves.

MENDENHALL MAKES HISTORY CORRECTION.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., Jan. 3.—(To the Editor.)—In your issue today, in correcting Attorney Hogan, of the Doherty defense counsel, you say that the present calendar dates from "several years before the Man of Galilee first saw the light of day."

I regret to find that our genial editor, like Attorney Hogan, is a little lame on some points of history. "The Man of Galilee first saw the light" a little more than four years before the beginning of our present era, or to be more exact, in December of the year 5 B. C. "We are always pleased to make these corrections for fellows like Attorney Hogan" and our friend Bede.

FRANK E. MENDENHALL.

Editorial note.—Inasmuch as Mr. Mendenhall probably makes the correction from his own personal recollection of the events referred to, we are not inclined to argue the point with him.

RUNNING AIMEE AND ASA.

Cottage Grove, Jan. 3, 1927.
To the Editor:
I see by your paper that—
The Lorane bridge is falling down
Falling down—falling down.
Los Angeles also reports
The Lorraine bridge is falling down
Falling down—falling down—
So fare-you-well—my lady.
However, reports say the county will soon repair the Lorane bridge.

While Mrs. "Wise Man See Laugh" and Asa Keyes are going to repair the Lorraine bridge at Los Angeles with Rich-Woolley material.

Meanwhile how about the kid-nappers who are hiding beneath the Lorraine wag-on body. Asa Keyes doesn't seem to unlock the case, so he must not have the right Keyes or is he working on the wrong "case"?

SOCIETY

Election of officers and a social evening were held by the Degree of Honor lodge at a meeting Wednesday night. Officers are: Annabel Small, president; Nora Queen, assistant to president; Mrs. Elsie Wells, past president; Echo Vysett, vice president; Hilah Laf-foon, assistant to vice president; Helen Spray, left assistant to vice president; Marie Moser, second vice president; Agnes Barker, recording secretary and financier; Bertha Howe, treasurer; Hazel Miller, outside watch; Verva Dame-wood, inside watch; Edna Mc-New, usher; Ina Ballow, assistant to usher; Lena Wells, pianist. The Degree of Honor was organized here June 1 and now has 46 members. Three members were initiated last night, Nalden Osborne, Joan Edwards and Erma Whipp. Hall decorations were red, white and blue streamers and red candles and red carnations were the table centerpiece. Refreshments were served.

The Research club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Baker. Mrs. C. T. Wille was program leader and New York was the topic. The following program was given: "Museums in the city of New York," Mrs. D. A. Forbes; "Niagara Falls," Mrs. William Baker; "The Battery and Governor's Island," Mrs. D. C. Bosley; "Traces of Old Roads and Streets," Mrs. D. P. Cameron; "Up the Hudson," Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall; "West Point," Mrs. M. S. Power; "Greenwich Village (American Quarters)," Mrs. O. L. Van Osdel; "Beside the Hudson to Sleepy Hollow," Mrs. Robert Quigley; "Dutch Home-stands on the Way to Flatland," Mrs. D. D. Roberts.

Mrs. Victor Chambers was a charming hostess Tuesday afternoon for the Elmarites club. Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. and Mrs. R. L. Stewart were additional guests. Bridge was the afternoon's diversion and Mrs. Stewart held high score. Officers of the club were elected as follows: Mrs. H. A. Hagen, president; Mrs. Victor Kem, vice president; Mrs. Sam Veach, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Ivan Barker, reporter. A delicious luncheon was served and bouquets of old fashioned flowers were decorations.

The women's foreign missionary society of the Methodist church was entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. L. Grannis. Nine were present. Mrs. Josiah Porter led devotionals and Mrs. J. H. Chambers presided. The book, "Moslem Women," was studied and discussed. Light refreshments were served and potted plants were room decorations.

The LaComus club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. A. Miller. A social afternoon was enjoyed and a dainty two-course luncheon was served. An attractive bouquet of pink sweetpeas was the table decorations.

A banquet was held Saturday at the Christian church honoring the new minister and his wife, Pastor and Mrs. Cleve Taylor. Pastors of the city and their families were additional guests. A number of toasts were given.

A group of friends gathered New Year's eve for a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams. Twelve were present. A watch party was held and a social evening was enjoyed.

Mrs. W. J. Woods was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the M. P. G. club. The afternoon was spent socially and a two-course luncheon was served.

Equipment Arrives for Battery.
Artillery equipment has been received and assembled by Battery F, local national guard unit. Drill was held Tuesday night and drill periods for the year will deal entirely with artillery subjects. It is planned to make drill so interesting and instructive that all members of the battery will work to make it the best of those at training camp in the summer.

SILK PANTS AND LEGS.

(Corvallis Gazette-Times.)
The tailors of Paris have decreed that men hereafter shall wear silk pants, or panties. We have reason to believe that this is a trick of Elbert Bede. So much publicity has been given to Bede's legs this summer that he has induced the Paris tailors to issue this silk decree. Mr. Bede, it is understood, sent the tailors a picture of his legs encased in BVIs and assured them they were representative of American legs and the tailors declared that if legs looked so good in cotton what might they now do in silk? What indeed! They took the matter up with the parliament with the idea in view that enough additional silk might thus be sold to pay off the French debt and hence this important decree. Hugh Humes is reported to have represented Bede in this intrigue and when he appeared in Paris they thought he was Beau Brummel improved upon and they succumbed without a struggle.

No Innovations for Him.

The vicar of the English parish had decided to use the revised version of the Bible instead of the authorized version in reading the lessons. At the end of the evening service on the first Sunday he had made the innovation the vicar was waylaid by a member of the congregation. "Didn't care much for them there lessons you read to-night sir," he exclaimed. "Oh," said the vicar, "I suppose you prefer the authorized version. Now, why do you?" "Well, sir," was the reply, "it's like this; the authorized version was good enough for St. Paul, so it ought to be good enough for us."

KELLY AND PLANE ARE SAFE CENTRAL OREGON

(Special to The Sentinel.)

THE DALLES, Jan. 6.—(United Press.)—Lieut. Oakley G. Kelly and his companion, Capt. John Stanley, landed at Long Creek last night and spent the night at a farm house, according to telephone conversation with the army flier by a United Press correspondent this afternoon. Kelly went out to aid in the search for Leslie Brownlee, lost in the snowed wilds of Mt. Hood, but the fog was so dense around the mountain that it was impossible to take the plane down to a point where it would be possible to see anyone on the mountain. After circling the mountain, Kelly turned east, hoping to find open country. Fog over Wasco and Sherman counties forced the flier to continue farther eastward and a landing finally was made at Long Creek without injury to the plane or its occupants.

No trace has been found of the missing Brownlee boy. The wilderness of the Mt. Hood region continues to hold its secret of his whereabouts and there is now a general belief that he will not be found alive.

Auxiliary Elects Secretary.

Ring Binders. The Sentinel

Start the New Year With a Loose Leaf Ledger

The expense is less after the first year, while the loose leaf system has many advantages over the use of bound books, to which nothing can be added, from which nothing can be removed.

Unused leaves of a loose leaf system can be used the following year. Unused leaves of a bound ledger are wasted.

At the end of each year the sheets for that year are put away in an inexpensive storage binder.

Introducing The Safeway Man

Primarily, Skaggs-Safeway Stores is an organization of men, and our purpose in presenting the Safeway Man to the public is that, through him, those we serve may get a clearer conception of our activities and the means by which we bring the necessities of life into your home at the lowest possible cost.

Through the pictured activities of the Safeway Man we will visualize the many and varied operations that enter into the scientific and economical assembling and dispensing of foods—the Safe Way.

Now, as a character, the Safeway Man is old in his contact with and service to the public. You meet him every time you come into contact with any part of this organization.

He is in the stores and markets, in the offices, on the trucks, in the fields, factories and warehouses. He is a man with a purpose, an ideal and a realizable ambition—a highly trained, thoroughly capable, always courteous individual, without whose zeal, loyalty and efficiency our extensive operations would be impossible. You will find it interesting and profitable to follow his activities closely and be guided in your food purchases by the recommendations he makes.

"BUTTERFLIES IN THE RAIN"

with Laura LaPlante and James Kirkwood.
This picture is just a big motion picture of life, contrasting the follies of youth today with the super folly of the social tyranny of yesterday.

Comedy
"Bear Facts" and International News.

Friday, Jan. 7
"SPANGLES"

with Marion Nixon and Pat O'Malley.
Massive, gigantic, sweeping in its enormity, this colossal drama of circus life will carry you away in a whirl of admiration. Mystery, romance, love and hate under the big top.

Comedy
"The Funnymooners"

Saturday, Jan. 8
"THE BUCKAROO KID"

with "Hoot" Gibson.
Quick on the draw, a rope wizard, saddle hawk, and more than that, a winning personality. See "Hoot" in his latest and greatest thriller. It's a knockout.

Comedy
"Hoot Mo!"

Sunday, Monday, Jan. 9-10
"MEN OF STEEL"

with Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon
Steel-red, steel-yellow, steel-steel burning hot—steel that blazes like a wild maid's kiss—steel that sparkles like the bluest eyes. Once—only once—could such thrill, fire, sweeping drama of life come to you in a blaze of love and courage unquenchable. A mighty picture.

Comedy
"And George Did"

Tues., Wed., Jan. 11-12
"FOUR HORSEMAN OF THE APOCALYPSE"

with Rudolph Valentino and Alice Terry.
The fulfillment of St. John's prophecy; the greed for world dominion calling forth conquest, war, famine and pestilence from the lair of the beast. One of the greatest pictures of all times. Souls of the nations at death-rip in an epic that epitomizes an era. Don't you remember this picture?

Comedy
"Wandering Papas."
