Under the Big Dome

(By ELBERT BEDE.)
STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Ore., Jan. 11.—The retiring governor said that the kind of moonshine made in Oregon is not safe for beverage purposes, but he disappointed a number by not describing the kind that can be drunk. This is about the only advice he failed to give.

Yielding to popular demand for fewer laws, Speaker Carlin has suggested a repeal of laws committee and is ready to make appointments on such a committee. As a matter of fact there is not so much need for such a committee as is generally supposed. The number of new laws enacted by any session is comparatively small. A vast majority of bills are for amendment or repeal of present laws, and for these there is a great demand from the people of the state of every class. Senator Bill Strayer informed me today

ARCADE Theatre WEEKLY PROGRAM

Thursday, Jan. 13
"OH BABY"
with Madge Kennedy and Creighton Hale.
Talk about a real comedy with lots of laughs, here it is. An old man playing the part of a baby makes some real comedy.
Snapshots No. 10 and International News.

Friday, Jan. 14
"THE BLONDE SAINT"
with Lewis Stone and Doris Kenyon.

Alone on a savage island with the man she hated most—and only he stood between her and the mob. Don't miss the mad leap into the Mediterranean—the fight in the temple ruins—it's immense and thrilling.
Comedy.
"Goose Land."

Saturday, Jan. 15
"THE GREAT K AND A TRAIN ROBBERY" with Tom Mix.
A thriller that stands alone. The foremost western thriller of the greatest western star in a great railroad story.
Comedy
"The Mad Racer"

Sun.-Mon, Jan. 16-17
"STELLA DALLAS"
with Ronald Colman and Belle Bennett.
Written from the heart about a typical American girl whose heart craved romance. Directed at the heart, striking true to its aim. Stella Dallas the kind of girl that makes main street talk. Her love life bared in an epic of heart emotion that stirs the soul, thrills the senses. A great picture.
Comedy
"Snookum's Outing."

Tuesday, Jan. 18.
"THE PERFECT SAP" with Ben Lyon and Pauline Stark.
He learned love making from books. A wizard when he captured bandits but a blizzard in the arms of a girl. A knockout comedy.
Comedy
"Jolly Tars"

Wednesday, Jan. 19.
"THE OVERLAND STAGE" with Ken Maynard.
Give him a girl and a gun and a hundred Sioux warriors can't stop him. Hop on the Overland Stage and ride west with the frontiersmen. A picture you will long remember.
Comedy
"Marry Month of May."

that he never before has had so many requests for minor amendment of existing laws. He will have the largest grist of legislation that he has ever had and only one new bill in the list.

Denton G. Burdick, speaker of the session of two years ago, is recovering from an affliction that resulted in the temporary loss of his voice. It was fortunate for him that this did not happen two years ago, for a speaker without ability to use his vocal cords would be about as useless as a Scotchman without the address of a bootlegger.

Claude Ingalls arrived in today from Corvallis and immediately his presence was noted because of the effulgent diffusion of violet rays. His excuse for his presence here was to see this writer display his voice instead of the legs which Claude, Hugh Hume of the Portland Spectator and George Putnam of the Salem Capital-Journal have made more famous than pulchritudinous. It was understood that he expected to be called into conference by Governor Patterson, Speaker Carlin, President Corbett and other state officials and wished to make it easy for them to ask him for their advice.

Since the retirement of Chief Clerk Draper, Billy McAdams, mail clerk in the house, probably holds the record for long distance service. He has been on the same job for 29 years. "Things ain't what they used to be," he merrily recollected today. "I can remember the old days when, during the election of a United States senator seats in the front of the house sold for $25 each. Boys would bring in apple boxes to sit on and often sold them for $5 each. Nope, she ain't what she used to was."

Bert Bates is here from Hollywood, Calif. He was a frequent visitor at Cottage Grove when Buster Keaton was there with his company last summer and the Hollywood girls prevailed upon him to go home with them, his wife to go as chaperon, of course. He assisted in the production of a two-reeler, by Marion Mack, who is the girl in the Keaton picture, and is home for two or three weeks between pictures. Miss Mack suffered a nervous breakdown following her return to Hollywood. The attentions of her ardent male admirers at Cottage Grove probably were too much for her, but the physicians thought it was exposure during a rainstorm scene that was part of the picture. Bert pronounces the picture made at Cottage Grove, "The General," as one of the best ever put on the silver screen. Bert's home is at Roseburg, where he and his father own the News-Review.

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore., Jan. 7.—(To the Editor.)—I noticed with much interest, in last Thursday's Sentinel, Mr. Mendenhall's criticism of your criticism of Mr. Hogan. I am sorry I did not see your criticism but more sorry that you laid down and took the count. Have you been converted to the "peace at any price, policy?" In my judgement, you are both wrong and it becomes my painful duty to set you right for we cannot afford to allow two good men to go wrong in a town of this size, the percentage is too great. You fit the beginning of the present calendar several years before the birth of Christ and Mr. Mendenhall several years after His birth.

I am a little at sea as to what either of you are driving at. Ate you seeking to establish the date of Christ's birth by the calendar or the date of the calendar by Christ's birth? Inasmuch as the date of the birth of the Man of Galilee is not known to anyone but Mr. Mendenhall, how are we to fix the date of the calendar by that? We know, of course, that it began with the year 1, but, inasmuch as it was, for nearly 500 years, juggled with, worked over, revised and changed, may we not, possibly, have lost a few years? However this may be, you are wrong, Mr. Editor, in saying our present calendar dates back prior to the time of Christ. Our present calendar was constructed out of the old Julian calendar by Pope Gregory XIII in the year 1582.

Inasmuch as I have often said that no man knows the day, week, month or year in which the Man of Galilee was born, I was taken aback a little when I read Mr. Mendenhall's statement to the effect that "The Man of Galilee first saw the light a little more than four years before the beginning of our present era, or to be more exact, in December of the year 5 B. C." and wondered if I had been talking through my hat. But after investigating through the medium of the Britannica, I am still of the opinion that it is a secret that no man knows. On page 666 of vol. 4 I find the following: "The first Julian year (this was the calendar revised by Gregory) commenced with the 1st of January of the 46th year before the birth of Christ." And in Vol. 13 page 658 I find as follows (the same work): "It must be admitted that we cannot demonstrate the exact year of the nativity, but critics of all schools are verging more and more toward the acceptance of 4 B. C., as the probable year of Christ's birth."

Here, it appears, there is about 40 years difference in the guesses of these two scholars and neither one of them agrees with Brother Mendenhall. When two scholars who have spent years in study and research, backed up with an enthusiastic desire to solve the riddle, can get no nearer together than 40 years, it seems hazardous to fix, not only the year, but the month also.

As opposing the statement further of Brother Mendenhall, that the nativity occurred in December, I quote further from the Britannica as follows, with reference to Christmas Day. "Christmas Day.—a festival of the Christian church, observed on the 25th of December, in memory of the birth of Jesus Christ. There is, however, a difficulty in accepting this as the date of the nativity. December being the height of the rainy season in Judea, when neither flocks nor shepherds could have been at night in the fields of Bethlehem." O. M. KEM.

SOCIETY

Organization of the Pythians Sisters lodge, Cottage Grove temple No. 62, was completed Tuesday night at W. O. W. hall, with a membership of more than 35. Mrs. Rae E. Bate, grand chief of Sisters, Miss Rose Farrington, mistress of records and correspondence, and Mrs. Leo Ballagh, grand senior, state officers from Portland and St. Helens, assisted in the organization. The Eugene team put on the installation work. About 25 from that city were present. The local officers elected and installed were Mrs. W. J. White, M. E. C.; Mrs. O. M. Kem, M. E. S.; Mrs. A. W. Kime, M. E. J.; Mrs. Max Bird, marshal; Mrs. Frank McFarland, sitting P. C.; Miss Myrtle Kem, past chief; Mrs. H. A. Hagen, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Hall, secretary; Mrs. R. C. Forward, press correspondent; Mrs. Ella Wiese, trustee for one year; Mrs. E. H. Dahl, trustee for 2 years; Mrs. Forward, trustee for 3 years; Miss Kem, pianist; Opal Shanda, captain of degree team; Mrs. Quimby, sentinel. Following the evening's work, a banquet was served. The lodge will meet next Monday night and a night of regular meeting will be selected.

The Research club met Tuesday afternoon at the library with Mrs. William Baker as program leader. Her subject was "Travel in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington, D. C." The following interesting program was given: "Independence Hall and famous old roads leading from Philadelphia," Mrs. O. L. Van. Osdel; "Reading from Christopher Morley concerning Philadelphia," Mrs. Robert Quigley; "Reading of a short biography of Benjamin Franklin," Mrs. D. P. Cameron; "The White House and the Smithsonian Institute," Mrs. D. C. Bosley; "The Congressional Library," Mrs. M. S. Power; "The Arlington Cemetery," Mrs. D. A. Forbes; "Baltimore, the city of Monuments and Squares," Mrs. D. D. Roberts; "Effect of Wars of 1812 and 1917 on the City of Washington," Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall; "Population, size and interesting facts concerning the three cities," Mrs. William Baker. The Research club has given to the local library a year's subscription to a juvenile magazine entitled "Child Life."

The opening meeting of the Delphinian society was held Monday night in the parlors of Hotel Bartell. The course of study for the club was briefly outlined and the general topic of the evening was "Contributions to Our Civilization by Prehistoric Man." The program included: "The Epoch of Prehistoric Life," Mrs. D. D. Roberts; "Discovery of Fire," Mrs. W. J. White; "Primitive Homes," Mrs. C. C. Cruson; "Development of Food Plants," Mrs. Schofield Stewart; "Domestication of Animals and Primitive Clothing," Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall; "Art and Picture Work," Mrs. W. J. White; "Religion of Primitive Man," Mrs. C. E. Umphrey. A general discussion followed. Mrs. Victor Kem gave two vocal selections. The meetings will be held for the time at the hotel. The regular meeting nights are the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Extensive plans have been made for the visit of Mrs. G. J. Frankel, president of the state Federation of Women's clubs, who will pay an official visit to the Lane county clubs today at a meeting in Eugene. A one o'clock luncheon is being given at the Eugene hotel and it is expected the eight federated clubs in the county will send representatives. Receiving with the committee will be Mrs. B. R. Job, Mrs. J. H. Chambers and Mrs. D. D. Roberts of this city. Reports on the work of their respective clubs will be given by Mrs. R. H. Vench of the Social Twelve club, Mrs. S. L. Mackin of the Tuesday Evening Study club and Mrs. M. S. Power of the Research club. A number of other women from Cottage Grove are attending the meeting.

A group of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil White Sunday in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. A set of silverware was presented to the honored couple. A dinner was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cooley and family of Eugene, Mrs. Myrtle Cooley and family of Eugene, Mrs. James Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cooper entertained a group of friends at their home Tuesday night, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Jack Glover, their house guests from Vancouver, B. C. The evening was spent with games and contests after which a dainty supper was served. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cone, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Morford, Mrs. A. A. Brund, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Grannis and Mr. and Mrs. Glover.

The O. L. H. club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. D. H. Hemenway, who invited as additional guests Mrs. C. E. Frost, Mrs. George Jacobson, Mrs. Roy Meeks, Mrs. E. W. Arnes, Mrs. H. B. Griggs and Mrs. Sam Vench. The afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mrs. H. A. Miller held high score. A two-course luncheon was served, the menu including a large birthday cake with two candles in honor of the club's second birthday anniversary. Pussy willows were attractive house decorations.

Mrs. S. S. Lasswell was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Tuesday Bridge club for the regular club meeting. A 1 o'clock luncheon was served and special guests were Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. and Mrs. Herbert Lombard. Mrs. A. L. West was welcomed as a new member of the club. At cards high score was held by Mrs. Lasswell. Pussy willows were effective room decorations.

The Tuesday Evening Study club had a most interesting meeting this week taking as the study topic the life, style and works of Dorothy Canfield Fisher. Mrs. Omer Moore was program leader. "The Homemaker," the writer's most popular book, was reviewed by Mrs. Charles Adams. The scholarship loan fund was discussed and the three federated clubs of the city will ask the other clubs to contribute toward this fund. The clubs of Cottage Grove have been very generous in their support of this fund in previous years. A large umbrella rack to be placed in the new city library will be given by this club. Mrs. Dan Jannat recently was elected to membership in the club.

About twelve members of the Delphinian club went to Eugene this morning to attend a group meeting of the Delphinian society. (Continued on page 3.)

"STELLA DALLAS" TO BE JAN. 16 AND 17 AT ARCADE

Flappers, the female of the species, and flappaeks, the male counterpart, have their innings galore in the Henry King production of "Stella Dallas," which will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Arcade theater.

Boysish boys, shingle cuts, fan fare trims, in fact, all manner of modish, up-to-date hair cuts, are in evidence with the girls. Balloon trousers, flannels, blue serge coats, checkies and canoe paddles are the fashion hints followed by the boys. Youth and beauty in and about an exclusive summer resort have full play in this Samuel Goldwyn production which is a romantic drama, adapted by Frances Marion from Olive Higgins Prouty's celebrated novel.

Of the two more important young folk in the picture, special note is given to Lois Moran, the wiseful unmoderated girl, who plays the part of Laurel, daughter of "Stella." Lois Moran is not a flapper. She has been called a "fragile cameo."

Young Douglas Fairbanks Jr., in his romantic moment, exemplifies the semi-awkward, bashful youth with a care-free flare to his actions.

These young moderns indulge in all the outdoor sports known to American youth: horseback riding, swimming, canoeing, tennis, picnicking, fishing—all give added verve and dash and a touch of color to the drama, and lend contrast to the heart appeal of the main theme.

Besides Lois Moran and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., the cast in "Stella Dallas" includes Ronald Colman, Belle Bennett, Alice Joyce and Jean Hersholt.

SKAGGS SAFEWAY STORES Distribution Without Waste

Feeding the West!

No longer are the food requirements of the West supplied in the old wasteful, thoughtless, hit-or-miss manner of a few years ago. Under the system of retailing that has produced the Safeway Man, guesswork has given place to accurate knowledge, waste has made way for economy and efficiency has kicked carelessness out of the back door.

Through thinking, planning, manipulating — studying the needs of one section of the country in relation to the food supply available in another section and employing all of the tremendous facilities for economical buying and selling provided by more than 900 retail stores—the Safeway Man brings your daily needs to your table by the shortest route and at the lowest possible cost.

Just how the Safeway Man performs this modern miracle of merchandising and what it means to you will be more fully explained from week to week. Right now, the opportunity to avail yourself of the savings he effects for you is presented in the items listed below.
