STATE INCOME TAX YET AN ISSUE AT SESSION

(By ELBERT BEDE.)

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Ore. —Jan. 12.—The second income tax bill of the session appeared today. It is a duplicate of the bill introduced in the house yesterday by Representative Hazlett. The senate bill is fathered by Senators Carsner and Butler. Both the house and senate bills are practically exact duplicates of the grange bill defeated in the November election. A. R. Shumway, former member of the house and recently a candidate for United States senator, is here as the grange lobbyist and professes to find a friendly feeling towards income tax, not so much for the tax itself, as because some way must be derived to raise more money and an income tax is the simplest way out of a difficult situation. Many opposed to income tax see plainly that some of their pet appropriations may go by the board unless something is done and some are willing to take income tax rather than lose appripriations in which they are interested.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Ore., Jan. 11.—That income tax is looked to by some as a means for the relief of the existing strained conditions of the state treasury is evidenced by the introduction of house bill No. 11 by Hazlett. The schedules run from 1 per cent on $1000 of net income to 6 per cent on $9000 or more of net income. The bill is said to be practically a duplicate of the grange income tax bill defeated at the recent general election.

While it can not be gainsaid that there is a strong minority that will favor this method for producing revenue, yet there seems little probability that such a tax law can safely pass the roll call gauntlet. The principal reason for this belief is that the people themselves have twice spoken adversely on income tax, which leaves the majority here, who are personally opposed to income tax, free to use this as the best kind of reason for voting their convictions.

The graduated tax also has lost favor with many. There seems to many little more reason for making the man with $10,000 of income pay six times as great a proportion of taxes as the man with $1000 of income than there is for making the man with $10,000 of real property pay six times as great a proportion as the man with $1000 of real property.

However, the condition of the state exchequer is such that it is more than probable that a flat income tax law, to remain in effect for the coming biennium only, would be grabbed in the manner that a drowning man grabs at a straw.

Pyrotol Pool to Close.

O. S. Fletcher, county agent, has announced that the pool for the next carload of pyrotol, government explosive, will be closed January 20. Two carloads have already been received and distributed. A number of orders have been taken on the third carload. A number of the farmers in this vicinity are making use of these opportunities to order the explosive.

The county agent stated that orders could be sent direct to his office or left with either the Bank of Cottage Grove or the First National Bank.

Not Uncalled For.

A spinster living in a London suburb was shocked at the language used by two men repairing telegraph wires close to her house.

She wrote to the company on the matter, and the foreman was asked to report.

"Me and Bill Fairweather were on this job," he said. "I was up the telegraph pole and accidently let the hot lead fall on Bill. It went down his neck. Then he said: 'You really must be more careful, Harry.' "—Everybody's.

A one course luncheon was served. The rooms were attractively decorated with Oregon grape.

The Past Matrons club will meet Monday afternoon at the Masonic hall with Mrs. J. Q. Willits and Mrs. Louis Kramer as hostesses. Election of officers will be held.

Upstairs Came Down.

A little girl went into a large hardware store and had her first elevator ride.

"How did you like it?" asked her father.

"Why, it was so funny, daddy," answered the child. "We went into a little house and the upstairs came down."—Good Hardware.

Rural District Water Impure.

Following an analysis at O. A. C. of samples of water used for drinking purposes in rural schools throughout the county a number of districts were notified the water was unfit for drinking, according to report of E. J. Moore, county superintendent. It is thought contamination is due to rains and districts where the water is not pure have been asked to provide other water for drinking. Mr. Moore suggested that by pumping most of the water from the wells and allowing a fresh flow from under ground veins much of the surface seepage would disappear.

Lane County Ranked Second.

Lane county ranked second of twelve counties for 1926 in prohibition law enforcement, where the national league of law enforcement operates. According to a report of Lewis M. Kletzing, director of the league, 58 arrests were made in Lane county for prohibition violations and of the assessed fines, amounting to $8730, $3570 were paid. Jail sentences aggregating 1395 days were imposed.

Linn county, which led for the year, recorded only one more arrest than Lane and was somewhat lower in fines and jail sentences.
