Man Follows Officer To City Jail

Night Police McFarland is getting them trained so that all he has to do is to open the jail door and let them walk in. Saturday night he endeavored to catch two men who seemed to have imbibed too freely of something that made their legs wobbly. He succeeded in catching only one, but after he had locked up the one and had started to leave the city hall building he found the second man at the front door trying to break in, with a number of persons seemingly ready to help him. When the officer opened the door the man claimed that he had been held up and was looking for an officer. To which the officer replied, "At the speed you were going the last I saw of you no one had a chance to hold you up," and then the officer unceremoniously yanked him inside and put him with his companion.

The two, Ira Lammers and Lucky Owens, were each assessed $25 in police court this morning but were unable to pay and are now boarding at the expense of the city.

Henry Nuhse, picked up yesterday, also on a charge of intoxication, was assessed a like amount, and also professed inability to pay. Later he gave Chief Pitcher a $20 bill with which to get him some tobacco. The chief got the tobacco for the prisoner, but gave only a receipt for the charge.

Oil Well Brings Quick Riches to Colored Boys

Farm Not Good for $400 Debt Now Producing $12,000 the Month.

CHICAGO, April 18.—(U.P.)—The second-rate soil of a small Arkansas farm has turned to gold for two small colored boys who until a few weeks ago lived unobtrusively in the Chicago negro district.

Oil wells on their mother's farm, which they inherited when she died three years ago in Cameron, Ark., are producing an income of $12,000 a month each for Arthur and John Sewell, 8 and 10 years old respectively.

Arthur Sewell, father of the young millionaires, came to Chicago after their mother's death and later married again. He worked in a factory. Debts accumulated faster than he could meet them.

As a result he negotiated a loan of $400 on the Cameron farm. The mortgage came due and he had nothing with which to pay it. The "gold mine" almost slipped away for want of a sum which the wells are now producing in a few hours.

Sewell was able to borrow enough to save his boys' property from the firm for which he worked, however. The discovery of oil and sudden wealth followed.

The father of the lucky youth has decided they will not be "spoiled" by their money.

"I won't permit them to 'live it up' if I can help it," he said. "They will have the finest education the world has to offer, but they will have to learn to work and appreciate their money."

"I've thought a lot about sending them to Africa when they grow up. I think intelligent colored men could do a lot of good there for themselves and other members of the race."

Sewell has made no effort to establish title to a portion of the farm on his own account.

"It belongs to the kids," he explained, "and I won't take any of it by going into court about it."

Too Much "Acid?"

Excess Uric Acid Gives Rise to Many Unpleasant Troubles.

AUTHORITIES agree that an excess of uric acid is primarily due to faulty kidney action. Retention of this toxic material often makes its presence felt by sore, painful joints, a tired, languid feeling and, sometimes, toxic backache and headache. That the kidneys are not functioning right is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Thousands assist their kidneys at such times by the use of Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. Doan's are recommended by many local people. Ask your neighbor!

Great Tourist Season Is Prediction

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—(U.P.)—If estimates by the American Automobile association, made in a report received here, prove correct one of the greatest motor tourist seasons in history will be recorded this summer.

Here are the estimates: Forty million people will spend their vacations on the open road this year.

This great migration of nearly a third of the nation, seeking health and happiness, will move in ten million motors.

Approximately $3,500,000,000 will be spent during the flow of humanity.

A 10 per cent greater estimate was given than last year.

A third of the tourists will carry camping equipment, to be used for outings of a month's average.

Two-thirds will depend on hotels for accommodations.

Fishing Season Opens. The opening of the trout season Friday found many nimrods out on the streams of this section. Only a few got the limit, most of the creels carrying but four or five of the piscatorial beauties. Cold weather and rain were given as the reasons for the poor catches. Many were out again yesterday, and reported about the same kind of luck.
