Member of National Editorial Association Oregon State Editorial Association Oregon Newspaper Conference

BROWNLEE SADLY MIS-INFORMED.

The Forest Grove News-Times criticizes the Oregon State Editorial association for having selected Bob Sawyer of Bend for its president. Bob was recently appointed as highway commissioner and the News-Times pictures the editorial association as hopping into the middle of the political puddle and nabbing its man and caustically comments that this is like electing a grocer as head of the hardware dealers' association.

It is easy to give Editor Brownlee, of the News-Times, credit for greater prescience than this. The simile he draws is a punk one. Bob Sawyer was a newspaper man, and a good one, long before he was ever thought of for highway commissioner, still is a newspaper man and he will have to remain a good newspaper man in order to provide the necessities of life while serving as highway commissioner, for the job pays no salary.

This writer chances to know that the fact that Bob Sawyer is highway commissioner, and he should be a good one, had nothing whatever to do with his selection as president of the state editorial association. He would have been elected whether or not he had been highway commissioner. The fact that he is highway commissioner came near keeping him from getting the editorial association job and that is how near it came to being the reason for his selection. Of course a fellow who couldn't get away from his home town to attend the meeting should not be expected to know these things, but if he is going to criticize he should make it a point to know what he is talking about. Brownlee is a good editor, but this is once he was way off his trolley. He should keep better posted by attending the association meetings. The association needs him, and he certainly needs the association.

OREGON IS CONSERVATIVE.

There are those, many of them living in Oregon, who like to hold up the Webfoot state to ridicule because of freak taxation measures which are proposed within its boundaries and because of burdens placed upon the taxpayers. These howlers would have us believe that in no other state of the union are freak taxation measures proposed and that in no other state in the union does industry have to protest against tax burdens placed against it or proposed to be placed against it.

But the last session of the Washington legislature referred to the people a proposed constitutional amendment that would repeal every existing taxing law in that state and give the next legislature carte blanche to evolve an entirely new taxing system.

A recent issue of the Business Chronicle, published at Seattle, contained this statement by Edwin Selvin: "The proposed amendment contains potentially enough dynamite to blow up the foundations of practically every integral segment of the financial and industrial structure in the commonwealth of Washington."

The proponents of the proposed amendment, so Mr. Selvin informs us, propose that the lumbering industry, public utilities, banks and corporations shall be saddled with the heavy end of the tax burden, while real estate, farm lands and other declared preferential forms of property are to be made relatively immune.

We do not purpose to gloat over the sad condition of affairs in our sister state. We do not wish industry and business in any state unfairly dealt with, and we only call attention to the condition in Washington to show that Oregon may be considered one of the conservative of the states. It has not yet adopted any freak tax laws, notwithstanding that many have been proposed. All freak tax proposals have been voted down, but the crepe hangers continue to howl about those proposed as if actually adopted.

Neither has Washington as yet adopted anything as yet that would put industry and business out of business, and let us hope that our northern sister will be as conservative and sensible as its Webfoot sister.

A revolutionist is usually somebody who is too cowardly to risk his own life to get something he desires, so he becomes a leader of the downtrodden and sickens them on from the rear.

After a girl has been engaged seven or eight years she begins to wonder if that is the length of time hubby would require in which to fulfill promises made after marriage.

People who knock the place they live in would better be satisfied for they are not wanted anywhere else.

A man who is tender-hearted is often one who isn't affected by anyone's troubles but his own.

CULP CREEK.

Aug. 21.—Clarence Moore, mail carrier on the Cottage Grove-Diston route, has left on a week's vacation. He is accompanied by his family and they will visit northern California points, going as far south as Gridley, about 400 miles from Cottage Grove. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nixon of Cottage Grove are accompanying them. The Nixons will remain for a month in California.

E. D. Tibbets and daughters, Mrs. H. B. Howard and Miss Hazel, left by auto today for a week's outing at Belknap springs. They will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. John Lamberty and daughter, Miss Charlotte, of Albany. Mrs. Lamberty is also a daughter of Mr. Tibbets.

O. G. Gilbertsen, one of the early day miners of Bohemia, who had been spending a week in Cottage Grove on business and pleasure, returned this morning to his Wall street property via the Sharps creek route, taking with him replenishment of supplies. Roy Heck of Cottage Grove accompanied him, returning with the car in the evening. Mr. Gilbertsen owns other valuable mining property in the district. He is authority for the statement that there are big things in store for the camp and that the day is soon to arrive when the people of Lane county will appreciate the uncovering of much hidden wealth in old Bohemia.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. William of Cottage Grove, parents of Mrs. George E. Potter, who had been spending some time on the Potter ranch on Sharps creek as guests of their daughter, returned home today. The Williams formerly resided on the McKenzie river near Wakterville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Patton will spend a few days' outing this week at Kitson springs. The stage of water in Row river is now about as low as any recent record shows.

Lita Grey Chaplin Gets Divorce Decree

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(U.P.)—An interlocutory decree of divorce was granted to Lita Grey Chaplin from Charles Spencer Chaplin in the court here today, bringing the famous divorce drama to a sudden but anticipated conclusion devoid of all sensations. Mrs. Chaplin is to receive $625,000 and a trust fund of $200,000 has been provided for the two Chaplin children. This fully meets the requirements of the California laws which in substance provide that the wife is entitled to half the property and monies earned by the husband subsequent to the marriage.

The Chaplin divorce case has held interest for a number of months, starting with sensational charges by Mrs. Chaplin.

Prune Growers Forced To Cooperation 1928

Faced by a serious situation as to the price of their product, the prune growers, packers and shippers of Oregon and southwest Washington have decided to proceed toward a complete cooperative organization for 1928, regardless of the California situation. The committee of nine representing the growers and packers met last week in Portland and decided to have the contract which was agreed upon at the Corvallis meeting of July 9 signed by the packers between now and October 1, to be held in escrow until January 1, and if 90 per cent of the prune tonnage is not by that time contracted for by the cooperatives, the contracts to be void, but in the meantime an effort will be made to have at least 90 per cent signed up. It is considered that the thought of self preservation will bring the growers together, as otherwise ruin faces the prune industry.

Hero of Shell Fire Elevators Nix

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22.—(U.P.)—Though he defied withering shell fire as he six times climbed a hill-top in the Argonne in October, 1918, and each time brought back a wounded comrade, Sergeant Michael Donaldson today refused to enter an elevator. Mike, here to rescue beautiful heroines at a movie studio, makes no bones about elevators. "Eighth floor? Nothing doing," he told a newspaper photographer. "I got cracked up in airplanes and I watched shells whiz over my head altogether too long to like the great open spaces. The picture's taken here or it isn't taken, that's all."

Bug Cafeteria For California Turkeys

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(U.P.)—Turkeys being raised by L. D. Love of Livingston, relieved of that worry which comes from fretting over the capture of choice bugs for the next meal, ought to be plump birds by the time Thanksgiving rolls around. Love has started a "bug cafeteria" and all the turkeys have to do is pick out their favorite dainty in the insect line. High up on a pole Love has placed a brilliant electric light that bugs just can't resist as they fly through the air. Succumbing to the attraction the insects are trapped in a funnel and drop through to the waiting turkeys.

TRAVEL ABROAD DECLINES INCREASES IN AMERICA

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—(U.P.)—Travel to the Pacific coast is to be stimulated by the present decline in travel from America to Europe, William Sproule, president of the Southern Pacific railroad company, declared upon his return here from a vacation tour of European countries. "Already those going to Europe have narrowed down to two classes, that to which money is no object and that which must take advantage of group tours," he declared. "Every indication points to increased travel to California, Oregon and the entire Pacific coast in the future."

SAGINAW.

Aug. 20.—Ivan Koch and family of Salem spent the week end at the home of Mr. Koch's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Champang were Sunday evening callers at the Logan river home. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson of Camas, Wash., spent one day last week at the home of James Connelly. Joseph A. Manning of Portland was in Saginaw and vicinity August 17 contracting for fir cones to be used in reforestation. Jess Thatcher and family visited Sunday evening at the E. H. Koch home. Bert C. Mitchell, who purchased the Moody property about a year ago, has sold it to persons from California.

Chrisman Ranch May Be Sold.

Fred Rosmond of Washington has made a substantial payment as an option on the Wes Chrisman and Glen Scott ranch of 800 acres above Doerns. The deal, if concluded, will be the largest ever made in How river property.

SOCIETY

The congregation of the Christian church held a reception in the church parlors Thursday evening honoring their former pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Carlson, who were visiting here from Sumner, Wash. The reception followed the regular mid week prayer service. Pastor Olive Taylor gave an address of welcome. Mrs. Carlson gave a vocal selection. "Let Me Live For Others," and Mr. Carlson entertained with musical selections on a saw. It was one used by his father 30 years ago. At the close of the program refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

A reunion of the Mrs. Mary Smith family was held Sunday at Albany, where the members from here met the Roy Smith family of Portland. Those attending from here were the Charles Heidler family, the J. T. Smith family, Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Short. Miss Madelle Heidler, who had been visiting at the Roy Smith home in Portland, returned home with her parents and Mrs. Mary Smith went to Portland with the Roy Smiths for a short visit.

The Utopia club will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Omer Moore for their regular meeting.

The missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H. A. Miller.

The annual Cottage Grove picnic, sponsored by former Cottage Grove residents now in Portland, will be held in Portland Sunday, August 28, at Peninsula park. Dinner will be served at 1 o'clock and a program and sport events will be features of the afternoon's entertainment. This is a great meeting

CHINESE MISSIONARY TO BE SPEAKER TONIGHT

Pastor H. Clarke, who recently returned from China, where he barely escaped with his life during the recent Chinese revolution, will tell the story of his adventures at 8 o'clock this evening at the Christian church. He was one of a group of six who made a trip across China from Tibet to Hongkong. The trip took several months and was made on mule back. The revolution was at its height and the country was overrun with undisciplined soldiers. The group had many thrilling experiences before they reached safety. Pastor Clarke arrived last Tuesday in San Francisco from China. He holds the degree of master of arts and a diploma of education. He was a missionary and educator in western China. During the next year, while conditions are quieting down in China, he will take post graduate work at Yale.
