Banana Tree Short-Lived

The banana of commerce, once considered a luxury, but now a staple food, is the fruit of a certain species of Musa, a tree which grows abundantly in the lowlands of the tropics where rainfall is ample. The trees grow rapidly, attaining a height ranging from 18 to 30 feet in about 12 months. Only one bunch or "stem" of bananas is produced by a tree, after which it is cut down.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Joe McKibben entertained Sunday with a dinner party in honor of Miss Mary McLaughlin of Kelowna, B. C., who is making her first visit to the United States. Miss McLaughlin and Mrs. McKibben will spend the week end with Mr. McKibben at McCreedie springs.

The Research club met Tuesday in the city library, with Mrs. A. L. Van Osdal as program leader. Mrs. A. W. Shofstall was present as a new member. The study was the rise of modern Italy and in response to roll call some interesting facts in connection with that country were given. One of the outstanding ones was that the Nobel prize in literature was recently awarded to an Italian writer, Madame Deledda, for her novel, "The Mother." The following program was given: "A Short Review of Italian History," Mrs. A. L. Van Osdal; "Victor Emmanuel II," Mrs. Robert Quigley; "Mazzini," Mrs. D. D. Roberts; "Cavour," Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, and "Garibaldi," Mrs. W. J. White.

Miss Esther Silsby entertained at her home Saturday afternoon for members of her vocal and instrumental classes and their mothers and a few friends. An entertaining and interesting program was given by the pupils after which the dining room doors were opened to show an attractively decorated Christmas tree. After the exchange of presents, dainty refreshments were served. About fifty persons were present. Many attractive gifts were given Miss Silsby.

The Latham Community club will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raymond Cone. The afternoon will be spent with sewing.

Mrs. D. H. Hemenway, Mrs. L. McAbey, Mrs. Ira Groves, Mrs. C. H. Vandenberg and Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall entertained Wednesday afternoon for the Presbyterian aid society at the church parlors. A business session was held and reports of committees given. The group voted unanimously in favor of urging the removal of cigarette ads from billboards in the city. A social hour was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Herbert Eakin will entertain today with a 1 o'clock luncheon for the Social Twelve club for its Christmas meeting.

Mrs. James P. Graham will entertain Monday with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Colonial cafe for the Past Matrons' club. Following the luncheon the group will go to the home of the hostess for a social time and exchange of Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Elbert Bede entertained today for the Utopia club with a Christmas party. Christmas gifts were exchanged and a social afternoon was enjoyed. A delicious luncheon was served. The luncheon table was centered with an attractive bouquet of geraniums and greens and red candles. The rooms were decorated in keeping with the Yuletide and a colorfully trimmed Christmas tree was a feature. Mrs. J. B. Fox, house guest of Mrs. F. L. Grannis, was a special guest.

The Tillieum club held a banquet Wednesday evening at the Colonial cafe. A turkey dinner was served. All members were present and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kurze of Albany and Mr. and Mrs. George Scott of Eugene, former members, attended. Miss Eunice Vandenberg of Eugene and Martin Anderson were guests. The club danced its Indian dance in Main street and then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Willits for a Christmas tree and exchange of gifts. Albert Williams acted as Santa Claus. Members were called upon to give stunts. Mrs. H. A. Miller gave in rhyme a present to each member and a mock trial of C. H. Vandenberg was held.

Sunday school will meet at 10 a. m. and B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Elmer Frans entertained Tuesday with a 1 o'clock luncheon for the Tuesday Bridge club. Mrs. Thomas Holleran, guest of her mother, Mrs. C. J. Kem, and Mrs. J. B. Fox, house guest of Mrs. F. L. Grannis, were additional guests. Luncheon was served at small tables which were centered with candles and Christmas greens. The rooms were attractive with Yuletide decorations in keeping with the season. Christmas gifts were exchanged and the afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mrs. C. S. Roberts held high score.

Mrs. George Morgan of Eugene entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon for the annual Christmas meeting of the O. L. H. club. The table was decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season and attractive small baskets were favors. Following the luncheon gifts were exchanged and the afternoon was spent playing bridge. Mrs. James P. Graham held high score. The hostess gave an orange wood salad set to each guest and Mrs. C. E. Frost gave each guest a present of English lavender. An attractive Christmas tree was the room decoration. The hostess was assisted in serving by her daughter, Mrs. Earl Fullmer.

Mrs. Omar Moore and Mrs. Elbert Smith gave a review of "The Revolt in the Desert" by T. E. Lawrence at the meeting of the Tuesday Evening Study club held Tuesday at the library. Lawrence is uncrowned king of the desert and his book is one of the most romantic epics of our time, reading like a tale from the Arabian nights.

Truths Self-Evident

Intuition is the faculty by which beliefs or judgments present themselves to the mind with irresistible force as self-evident truths, such as the axioms of Euclid's geometry. In short, it is the faculty by which we recognize the truth without the process of reasoning.

Zachariah L. Cox.

In the obituary notice of Zachariah L. Cox, published a week ago, the following facts were overlooked: He had been a member of the I. O. O. F. fraternity for a number of years and had been a deacon of the Baptist church for many years. He was ordained deacon of the church at Yoncalla in 1893 and after coming here was chosen deacon of the First Baptist church of this city, holding that position at the time of his death. There are 15 surviving grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.
