Burkholder-Penner.
Miss Kathryne Penner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Penner of Dallas, became the bride of Charles Stouffer Burkholder at an attractive home wedding held at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Clara Burkholder. Pastor Duncan P. Cameron of the Presbyterian church performed the ring ceremony. Only immediate members of the family and a few friends were present. Baskets of pink and white roses formed a background for the wedding party and roses were room decorations. The bride wore a becoming frock of blue green crepe and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, sweet peas and ferns. Miss Belle Burkholder, sister of the groom, caught the bridal bouquet. The bride has been connected with the Millay's Beauty Shoppe for three years and has a host of friends among the younger set. Mr. Burkholder was born and reared in the house in which he was married. He is employed by the Smith-Short grocery. A wedding luncheon was served after the ceremony. The table was attractive with baskets of pink and white roses and bride and groom cakes. The bride's cake was decorated with a doll bride, the wedding veil extending over the cake. The couple left after the luncheon on a two-week honeymoon touring through southern California.

Back of your Telephone

TELEPHONE service is essentially a community enterprise backed by national experience.

Almost every community on the Pacific Coast has at least one telephone exchange. And each exchange has its staff of home town folks—men and women who are your neighbors, who attend the same clubs and social gatherings, patronize the same stores and daily assume their responsibilities as interested citizens of the place where they live and serve.

Back of your telephone too is the cumulative experience of half a century of research and development—continuous and concentrated effort to improve the telephone art. Thus from the Bell Laboratories and all of the twenty-four operating companies of the Bell System, telephone service in every community benefits by new inventions and the discovery of better ways to do things—all making for the highest standards in telephony now known.

"Homeric Poems in Art" was the subject of an illustrated lecture given by Professor Frederic S. Dunn, head of the Latin department of University of Oregon, at a meeting of the Delphian society Monday evening. Professor Dunn dealt with the influence of Homeric poems on art from the ancient Grecian times down to the present, showing how artists and sculptors of all countries had chosen scenes from the Iliad for their work. Slides of famous paintings and sculpture depicted the story of the Trojan war. Much Greek mythology was woven into the address. A number of guests of the club attended.

Mrs. Clarence Cone and Mrs. E. L. Cooper entertained Monday evening with a covered dish supper in celebration of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cone and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Leonard and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. E. E. Cone. Twenty were present. The table was centered with a colorful basket of roses and rosebud placecards were used. A social evening was spent playing games. The guests surprised Mrs. Clarence Cone with gifts.

Miss Donna Bartell entertained with a 7 o'clock dinner Monday evening at Hotel Bartell for a group of friends.
