

The utilities of a city are combined in your motor car

YOUR automobile is something like a miniature city. There is an electric light and power system, a water system, a fuel system.

In the new Ford, you will find each of these systems of the latest design and best materials. Every part has been made to serve you faithfully and well at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Take, for example, the generator—one of the most important parts of the electrical system which supplies the current for lighting and for engine ignition.

In the new Ford, the generator is of the power-house type and is distinctive in many features. It has been specially designed to prevent most forms of trouble. Oiling is necessary only once a year. About the only thing you need do is to have the charging rate changed as the seasons change.

Closely allied to the electrical system is the ignition system. It, too, is of new mechanical design in the new Ford. There is but one high tension cable and that connects the coil with the distributor. Even cables from the distributor to the spark plugs have been eliminated. Special care has also been taken to make the distributor water-proof, thus preventing short circuits from rain, etc.

The entire electrical and ignition systems of the new Ford are so simple in design and so carefully made that they will give you surprisingly little trouble. Yet that doesn't mean they should be neglected. Certain little attentions are needed from time to time.

The storage battery should be given water and the connections kept clean. The generator charging rate should be changed as indicated. Spark plugs should be cleaned at regular intervals. Distributor points should also be kept clean and the distributor cam given a light film of vaseline every 2000 miles.

These are just little things, but they mean a great deal to your car. You can have them looked after at very small cost by the Ford dealer when you take the car in for oiling and greasing.

A thorough checking-up at regular intervals will lengthen the life of your car and give you many thousands of miles of carefree, economical motoring.

ROW RIVER RANDOMS.

(By JACK HOWARD.)
CULP CREEK, Dec. 10.—(Special to the Sentinel.)—Mrs. Ray Suter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Ben McCullum, with her son Frank, are visiting Mrs. Suter's parents.
Mr. and Mrs. Suter have resided in Washington for the past year.
Fifteen students are enrolled at the Willard school just above Culp Creek.

George E. Potter, logging contractor for Holmberg Bros., was confined to his home several days last week with a severe cold.

A number of excellent pens of chickens are to be seen along the market road within a few miles of Culp Creek, conspicuous among them being the pens of Earl Neal, Leslie Wicks and Frank Fisher.

In fact the Row River country, from its mouth to its headwaters, is well represented by chicken fanciers.

W. B. Patton, the "champion" coon catcher, is running true to the calling this year. Two weeks ago he brought home from a hunting expedition in the Sharp's creek region a fine big coon, and a few days ago, in company with old "Rock," his imported coon dog, he took in the Mosby creek territory. Returning home Friday he brought with him two more live coons. To the everyday mathematician nothing would be easier than to compute the number of live coons in the Patton coon den, but even at that he might be mistaken.
That made three live coons brought in within a week or ten days; now the question is: "How many coons has Bill?" One fellow bumps up suddenly like and say, "Why three, of course—that's easy." Another fellow hops up with the caustic exclamation: "You're all wrong—you couldn't figure out which way Portland suddenly by the serious illness of Mrs. Cone's mother and the plans had to be changed.

Three coons minus one leaves two.
'Peas like it's a sort of coming and going game with the coons and a catch 'em and lose 'em game with Bill for he has hardly rolled up since he is in his basket over on Mosby creek last Tuesday night until coon No. 1 made his getaway and hit for wadin' water. Seems like that coon knew that old Rock wasn't handled and it was get-away season.

DORENA.—Wayne and Emil Kirk are working at the Garrott & Hastings sawmill in the Kelly district.

Joe Danwood and bridge crew finished the bridge across Harms creek on the Row river market road at Dorena last Friday. This will quite likely be the last bridge work for the year so far as Mr.
Danwood is concerned, unless the county court decides upon the construction of another small bridge on Mosby creek which has been under construction.

Marvin McKibben has been busy the past week building substantial goat fence on his ranch north of Dorena on Harms creek.

The old planing mill of the Chambers Lumber company, which operated for several years at Do-rena 29 years ago, is being torn down by Wayne and Emil Kirk for Jailbreaker Given Sixty Days.

W. Orville (Red) Minnick, held at the county jail in Eugene on a charge of operation of a still, was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail Monday on a charge of breaking jail. The still charge was dismissed on motion of the district attorney. Minnick attempted to escape jail last week by breaking through one of the west windows of the jail building. As he jumped to the ground he was met by Officer Pollett of the Eugene night police.
