

SOCIETY

Paying her official visit to the chapter, Mrs. Minnie White of Portland, grand associate conductor of the grand chapter of Oregon and deputy for the grand worthy matron, was present Friday night at the regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star. More than 90 members and visitors were present and degrees were conferred in an efficient and graceful manner by the officers. Mrs. Victor Chambers was soloist for the initiatory work. Mrs. White addressed the chapter and a number of talks were given by members and visitors including Mrs. Jessie Hanson, past grand matron of Idaho, Mrs. Laey, worthy matron of the Creswell chapter, and Mr. Page of Roseburg. After the session closed refreshments were served in the dining hall by the following committee: Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. H. A. Hagen, Mrs. W. S. Averill, Mrs. G. A. Williams, Mrs. Bessie Sutcliffe, Mrs. Roy Leonard, Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, Mrs. J. H. Chambers and Mrs. W. B. Johnston.

More than 150 answered roll call Friday night at a joint meeting of the Woodmen of the World and Neighbors of Woodcraft. Talks were given by many of those responding to roll call. Bert Burrows presided at the meeting and the following program was given: Violin solo, Mrs. Allen Brown, accompanied by Miss Jessie Hanson; reading, "The Hired Girl," Little Miss Critic; violin solo, Wilbertha Wilson, accompanied by Jean Allison; address by Charles H. Van Deburg, who gave an interesting history of the building now owned and occupied by the W. O. W., which included the purchase of the building from Mrs. Saphronia McFarland in 1910. The last payment on the building was made last week. The lodge now has 17 members. At the close of the session a delicious supper was served by a committee from the Neighbors of Woodcraft assisted by the guard team. Mrs. Pamela Lewis, Cruson, well, a district officer, was present.

Mrs. T. C. Wheeler entertained the La Comus club with a 1 o'clock luncheon Tuesday at Hotel Bartell. A table of yellow and white was beautifully carried out in the table decorations. Centerpieces for the two tables were baskets of yellow chrysanthemums with dainty bows of yellow tulle tied to the handles. Yellow tapers completed the effect. Favors were in form of yellow baskets of candies and place cards and tallies were in yellow design. Three tables of bridge and one of coffee furnished entertainment for the afternoon. At the bridge Mrs. W. W. McFarland held high score and Mrs. E. W. Ames held low. Mrs. O. L. Nichols was the successful winner at coffee. Additional guests for the afternoon were Mrs. C. J. Johnson, Mrs. George Beach, house guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Lebow, Mrs. George Jacobson, Mrs. James P. Graham, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. W. B. Johnston, Mrs. C. E. Frost, Mrs. George Knowles, Mrs. Clara Burkholder, Mrs. Arnes and Mrs. D. H. Hemenway.

Mrs. J. A. Wright was hostess Thursday of last week for the Social Twelve club, entertaining with a George Washington party. An interesting presidential contest was a feature of entertainment with Mrs. D. A. Emerson and Mrs. N. E. Compton tied for the prize. Mrs. Emerson was guest of honor of the club the prize was awarded to her. Mrs. J. H. Chambers gave a paper on the life of Washington and Mrs. C. F. Hoskins gave a talk on "The Ideals of Washington." At the close of a social afternoon Mrs. Wright served a delicious two-course luncheon. The rooms were attractive with patriotic decorations and red, white and blue sweets formed a dainty centerpiece for the table. Guests for the pleasant occasion were Mrs. Lon Hill, a charter member of the club, now residing in California, Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. A. W. Kins, Mrs. Ray Trask, Mrs. Homer Galloway, Mrs. W. J. Morrow and Mrs. E. C. Shay.

Mrs. L. W. Coiner entertained Thursday afternoon with four tables of bridge. Mrs. R. L. Stewart received the prize for high score and Mrs. A. A. Richmond was given the consolation prize. At the ten hour the hostess served a dainty luncheon. Decorations of patriotic design were in keeping with George Washington's birthday. Guests for the enjoyable affair were Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Richmond, Mrs. Victor Chambers, Mrs. C. J. Kem, Mrs. Nelson Durham, Mrs. H. A. Hagen, Mrs. E. W. Ames, Mrs. George Jacobson, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. A. W. Shofstall, Mrs. Charles Heider, Mrs. C. S. Roberts, Mrs. Harold Axley, Mrs. John Fineran and Mrs. George Matthews.

The hostesses received a number of beautiful gifts. Guests were Miss Myrtle Hubbell, Miss Naomi Wynand, Mrs. Harold Whitlock, Miss Naomi Hilton, Miss Esther Van Osdel, Miss Zena Moughmer, Miss J. Frezer, Mrs. Mona Cullen, Miss Wells and Miss Rose.

The W. B. C. met Saturday in I. O. O. F. hall. Dinner was served at noon in the dining hall, covers being placed for 35. In the afternoon a program commemorating the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington was given in the lodge room. The program consisted of readings, songs and musical numbers given by children of corps members. During the business session Mrs. Minnie Sweet was initiated into the order and the charter was draped in respect for Mrs. Mary Spriggs, a member who died recently.

The Latham Community club was entertained last Friday afternoon by Mrs. Dwight Mercer and Miss Elizabeth Heeseck at their home on south 8th street. The hostesses are members in the Latham school. Members responded to roll call with suggestions of interest regarding the club activities for the year. Interesting notes from a health pamphlet were read by Mrs. Roy Fry. The hostesses were accorded a rising vote of thanks in appreciation of their aid in club affairs. Miss Heeseck gave several vocal selections during the afternoon. A number present worked on a baby quilt. Later in the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Additional guests were Mrs. Fred Guggisberg, Mrs. Gladys Kelly, Mrs. J. E. McCall, Mrs. Poe, Mrs. Alfred White, Mrs. Benney, Mrs. Graymond, Mrs. Herbert Ewing, Mrs. Melville Hanna, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Writz.

The Standard Bearers, a junior missionary society of the Methodist church, were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Omer Moore by the hostesses, Miss Vivian Longfellow and Miss Ina Cooley. The girls were fortunate in having Mrs. L. H. Randle, who gave a splendid talk on Chinese girl life, as a special guest. Mrs. Randle described in an interesting way the life of a Chinese girl from her babyhood to the time of her marriage and had articles of wearing apparel from that foreign country to show the girls. At the close of the evening light refreshments were served. Those present including the hostesses were Mrs. Randle, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Bansom, Mrs. Cone, Frances Randall, Goldie Collette, Dorothy Hubbard, Carolyn Grannis, Hespery Umphrey and Frances Mackie.

Mrs. Karl K. Mills, Mrs. L. H. Randle, Mrs. Norman Poe and Mrs. Claude Sherman entertained a group of congenial friends Tuesday night in the basement of the Baptist church. Guests arrived attired in aprons and overalls and enjoyed an evening of games and stunts. Plans were made to organize a club to meet once a month for social occasions. At a late hour dainty picnic lunches, packed in grass baskets, and coffee were served. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde White, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Byron McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Parr, Mr. and Mrs. John McCall, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McFarland, Mrs. B. E. Baker, Fred Walton, Mrs. Randle, Claude Sherman and Norman Poe.

Mrs. Clarence Cone entertained last Thursday afternoon in honor of her little daughter Betty, the occasion being Betty's sixth birthday anniversary. Fifteen little guests gathered for a pleasant afternoon and mothers of the children were the special guests. The little guest of honor was attractive in a party dress of pale green organza. Those present were JoAnn Morris, Sarah Jane and Pauline Moore, Junior Woolley, Doris Cone, Elmer Cone, Raymond Cone Jr., Marjory Quigley, Marcia Brund, Jeanette and Dean Laffoon, Marjory Woodard, Donna Hatch and Billy and Betty Cone. A birthday cake with six candles was a feature.

The Tuesday Bridge club met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. J. Kem, celebrating its eighth birthday anniversary. Newly elected officers for the year are Mrs. H. W. Lombard, president, and Mrs. C. S. Roberts, secretary. The retiring officers are Mrs. Kem, president, and Mrs. John Fineran, secretary. Bridge was played during the afternoon and Mrs. Kem held high score and Mrs. Lombard low. At the tea hour dainty refreshments were served. A birthday cake with eight candles was an attractive table centerpiece.

The Delphian society met Monday night in the city library and continued the study of drama. Mrs. C. C. Cruson was program leader and the general topic was "Oedipus the King of Thebes," a Greek tragedy. The prolog was given by Mrs. Miller; the first episode, Mrs. Schiefel Stewart; second episode, Mrs. Bert Trask; third episode, Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall; fourth episode, Mrs. C. E. Umphrey. Mrs. S. L. Godard gave the epilog. A contribution was voted to the scholarship loan fund.

The Research club met Tuesday night in the city library and members answered to roll call with current event items. The life of Sinclair Lewis, contemporary novelist, proved an interesting study for the evening. Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. A. W. Shofstall, Mrs. George Bjorset and Mrs. D. C. Bosley contributed articles to the program. Mrs. Lowell Sykes, sister-in-law of Mrs. Bjorset, was a guest.

Mrs. Harry Hart entertained a congenial group Friday night for a covered dish supper. Those present were Mrs. Bessie Sutcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sprankle, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Arnes and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Broelove. The evening was spent socially with games.

Mrs. G. B. Arnes was hostess this afternoon for the Ad Libitum club, having as a special guest her mother, Mrs. J. N. Mauls of Oregon City. At the close of a social afternoon with needlework the hostess served a tempting two-course luncheon. Quantities of Oregon grape and pussywillows with potted plants were effective decorations.

Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. entertained the Elmartez club at her home Tuesday. Bridge was an interesting game of the afternoon and Mrs. A. Hagen held high score. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. Red exarations were attractive table decorations and pussywillows were room decorations. Additional guests were Mrs. Herbert Lombard, Mrs. C. J. Kem and Mrs. Warren Oliver.

The Circle of the Baptist church met yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank Saffley with Mrs. Clint Spriggs as joint hostess. The Circle was formerly known as the ladies' aid and includes in the membership all women of the church. A missionary study was an interesting entertainment for the afternoon and the following topics were discussed: "Story of the Congo," Mrs. A. Baker; "American in China," Mrs. Truman Clark; talk on China, Mrs. L. H. Randle. Devotionals were led by Mrs. J. Eastham. At the close of the afternoon a dainty luncheon was served.

Twenty-five were present at the Methodist ladies' aid society meeting yesterday in the church parlors. Devotionals were led by Mrs. J. R. Hendricks and plans were made for covering the church. Refreshments were served at the church next Monday night when the monthly church night will be observed. Following a social hour the following hostesses served delicious refreshments: Mrs. E. H. Randle, Mrs. J. I. Smith, Mrs. Roy Leonard and Mrs. R. B. Reed. The rooms were attractively decorated with cyclamen plants and ferns.

The officers of the Order of Eastern Star met Friday at Hotel Bartell for a 1 o'clock luncheon, honoring Mrs. Minnie White of Portland, grand associate conductor of the grand chapter of Oregon. Covers were placed for 15 and table decorations and place cards were of a patriotic nature. After luncheon the group went to Masonic hall, where Mrs. White, who was on an official visit, presided over the grand worthy matron, held a school of instruction for the local officers.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sturges entertained Tuesday night in celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mr. Sturges. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cone, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Compton and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Umphrey. A pleasant evening was spent playing games. A birthday cake with 16 candles was a feature.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls held a business meeting Monday night in Masonic hall. Plans were made for a meeting on March 11 at which time five candidates will be initiated. The retaining committee for the next meeting will be Alberta Williams, chairman, Dorothy Umphrey, Carolyn Grannis, Bernadine Wiese, Jean Wheeler and Lois Godard.

Mrs. W. V. McGee was hostess yesterday for the missionary society of the Presbyterian church. The lesson study was "The American Indian" and was led by Mrs. George Matthews. Mrs. McGee had charge of the devotionals. An interesting report and review of the year's work of the society was read. At the tea hour refreshments were served.

The Star class of the Baptist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Clyde Butler, elected the following officers last Sunday: Lucile Leonard, president; Ruby Allen, vice president; Thelma Leonard, secretary; Lois Randle, secretary; Irene Johnson, treasurer.

Miss Violet Hakari was hostess for the La Merced Point club Wednesday of last week. At bridge Mrs. May Denny held high score. At the close of the afternoon a one-course luncheon was served. The Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations.

The Rebekah lodge will observe its social night at the regular meeting March 1. A program is being arranged and refreshments will be served by the officers. All visiting Rebekahs will be given a cordial welcome.

The ladies' aid society of the Christian church will meet Wednesday at the church for an all day meeting. The time will be spent quilting and a covered dish luncheon will be served.

The Knights of Pythias conferred the degree upon one candidate at the Wednesday night session. The initiation was followed by a social time and refreshments were served.

The missionary society of the Methodist church will meet next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Emma Porter.

The Crusaders will meet Sunday evening in the parlors of the Baptist church at 7:30 with Mrs. L. H. Randle as leader.

Mrs. N. J. Nelson Jr. entertained the Elmartez club at her home Tuesday. Bridge was an interesting game of the afternoon and Mrs. A. Hagen held high score. World Leveled On for Materials for Candy

The modern candy manufacturer uses almonds and filberts from Spain and Italy, walnuts from France, coconuts from the British West Indies, hazelnuts from Italy, all, figs and dates from Turkey, Persia, Arabia, Tunis, Algiers or Morocco; cherries from France; pineapples from Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii or Singapore; honey from Cuba and this country; vanilla beans from Mexico, cacao beans, from which chocolate for coating is made, from British West Africa, Trinidad, Tobago, the Dominican Republic and many South American countries.

Cane sugar comes from Cuba, Hawaii or possibly Porto Rico, and beet sugar from native-grown beets. These ingredients, strawberries, grapefruit, apples, peaches, from our own country, in addition to millions of gallons of milk and cream; thousands of tons of butter, corn sirup, molasses and gelatin are used yearly by American candy manufacturers in producing the candy we have today.

Difference in Height "Lucky" for Comedian

According to the Kansas City Star Andrew Carnegie once gave Harry Lauder a stock market tip which the comedian acted on and cleaned up a small fortune. Carnegie visited Lauder in his dressing room in New York one evening. The steel man was astonished and delighted to prevent the night escape of the smaller man than himself. Lauder denied the soft impeachment. An argument ensued. It was decided to settle the question then and there by measuring against the dressing room door.

Andy told Lauder that "if it turned out he he (Carnegie) was right in his contention and proved to be the taller of the two, he would give the comedian "a good tip on the stock exchange."

The measurer-Lauder's brother-in-law—overhearing this "decided. I think (says Harry), that the steel magnate would win."

"In any case," chuckled Lauder. "He gave the verdict in favor of Mr. Carnegie by a tenth of an inch."

"By United States Steel Company," whispered the millionaire on saying good-night."

Makes Fine Imitation of Artificial Flower

The artificial flower trade, in which thousands of persons are engaged, has within the last few years been completely revolutionized, both here and abroad. For a long time the petals were made of muslin, silk, satin and even of velvet. Cotton ever manufactured completely manipulated into the semblance of blossoms.

Of late years, however, there has been employed a substance that puts the most delicate textile materials ever manufactured completely in the background. It consists of the thinnest of thin shavings from the inner pith of an oriental palm that grows in Formosa, and can be compared to nothing so well as the almost transparent petals of a white poppy or a delicate tea rose. A tiny petal is heavy in comparison with this substance, which has all the sheen and translucence and even the slightly frosty appearance seen in some white flowers.

It can be tinted far better than silk or muslin and is virtually indestructible. In wet weather it gives and bounces a little limp. Just as real flowers do, but when the sun comes out it crisps, reasserts itself and takes on a new lease of life and beauty.

Daily Health Hint

Tremor of the hands is common in the old. In younger persons it may be due to fatigue or nervous nerve weakness caused by loss of sleep, abuses of alcohol and to bacco, too much night life, etc.

Job and His Turkey in Long Association

"Poor as Job's turkey" was apparently suggested by the older phrase, "patient as Job." In the opinion of James says "Ye have heard of the patience of Job." This, of course, refers to the patriarch whose history is related in the book of Job and whose patience is proverbial.

Some writers suppose that "poor as Job's turkey" was originated by Thomas Haliburton in "The Clockmaker." Haliburton described a turkey gobbler that was so poor that he had only one feather in his tail and so weak that he had to lean against a fence to gobble. This condition was attributed to the gobbler's persistent efforts to hatch chicks from eggs that didn't hatch chicks in them.

"Turkey," however, was popularly associated with Job in phrases before the Silk strikes appeared in 1887. In 1824 the Sentinel of Troy, N. Y., quoted the following extract from a paper called the Microscope: "We have seen it to say the 'patience of Job's turkey,' instead of the common phrase, 'as patient as Job.' And so it must go for this time at any rate. 'I would worry out the patience of Job's turkey to be picked and pillaged from in this way.'—Fatherland Magazine.

Persistent Ants Make Trouble for Keeper

Two colonies of wood ants, just installed in the London zoo, have outwitted the keeper by their cunning. The colonies were dug up at Lingsfield, Surrey, and the nests taken bodily to the menagerie. Here each was dumped on a rectangular island entirely surrounded by a moat to prevent the ants' escape.

Next morning, however, the keeper found the insect house swarming with the ants, which had spent the night bridging the moat by the aid of floating pine needles.

Having destroyed or recaptured the moats, the keeper proceeded to clear the moat, but so persistent are the bridge builders that he has had to pour paraffin oil in the water.

Pieces of Silver

The "pieces of silver," 30 of which were paid to Judas in his act of betraying Christ, was of peculiar interest to the Israelites, and was always spoken of in their holy books as the shekel of Israel, or holy shekel of the sanctuary. It was the amount which all Israelites, between the ages of twenty and sixty were required to pay into the public treasury as a ransom for their delivery during their sojourn in the wilderness.

A shekel was worth about 56 cents in American coin. Money was, however, much more valuable at that time, and the "30 pieces" were equal at that day to about $4,000 today. The shekel was somewhat larger than a half dollar and was always spoken of in the Bible as the emblem of Aaron's rod, as mentioned in Num. 17:8, surrounded by the inscription in Hebrew which is given in the eleventh chapter of Leviticus, with the words, "Shekel of Israel."

Sun Spots Solar Storms

The value and importance of the observations carried on at observatories made at the Mount Wilson observatory are so great that one can scarcely name even the most important of them in limited space, says N.Y. Times. In many of the great magnetic fields in sun spots, as well as the fact that the sun itself is a magnet, with its magnetic poles close to its poles of rotation, and that sun spots are great solar storms of cyclonic nature, seem to stand out among the numerous discoveries that have been made regarding the nature of solar phenomena.

Mexico Paying Off Debt

What is known as the "Plus Fund," in which Mexico, Texas and California were all concerned, was decided by the House International court decision of 1922. This concerned money which had been claimed by Mexico as due her from funds deposited in California. The decision pledged Mexico to pay $1,200,000 in money of the legal currency of Mexico, and that the Mexican government shall pay to the United States on February 2, 1923, and of every following year of the same date forever, an annual payment of $45,000.00.

Arcade to Show Film Version Famous Novel

"Shepherd of the Hills" Coming March Attraction for Show House.

When a novel read by virtually everyone is pronounced as screen entertainment, the film producer feels the weight of his responsibility to the followers of the novelist. Probably no novel of modern times has been so widely read as Harold Bell Wright's "The Shepherd of the Hills." The shepherd was not only a "best-seller" for over a year after its publication, but a consistently popular book ever since. For that reason, the bringing forth of its screen version is a real responsibility.

Charles L. Rogers, who produced the story in an elaborate film version for First National Pictures, to be presented at the Arcade Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5 and 6, felt this responsibility so keenly that he spent months in careful preparation before a scene of the film was shot. Albert Rogalski, who was not only a notable film director but an enthusiast over the possibilities of the novel as screen material, was selected to direct, as the very first step.

These all-star casts was selected with great care. Acting ability plus fitness to the character type required were the two qualifications that won each player who appears in his role. The locations, being as possible being on the actual story locale, were mapped out. Meanwhile, the adaptation of the novel was being written by Marion Jackson.

Probably the most important single item in producing a satisfactory screen version of a famous novel is the selection of actors to portray the story characters." Mr. Rogers observed. "We devoted great pains to the cast selection, and believe that it will meet with the approval of all readers of the novel."

After an intensive canvass of the entire film industry, Alec H. Francis was selected to play the title role in "The Shepherd of the Hills." Molly O'Day and John Boles were chosen to carry the romantic burden; Matthew Betz to play the villain role, and Romania Collins to assume the part of the Ozark patriarch, "Old Matt."

Other notable figures in the cast are Otis Harlan, Joseph Bennett, Maurice Murphy, Carl Stockdale, Marion Douglas, and John Westwood. Beautiful photography that enhances the entertainment quality of the whole production was contributed by Sol Polito and his staff; cinematographers. Part of the picture was filmed in the Ozarks and in Utah.

Friend Nature

If nature is so willing to help when real trouble faces us, we can surely count on her when minor cares and disappointments come.—American Magazine.

Father: "Why, daughter, that fellow only earns ten dollars a week." Daughter: "Yes, but, daddy dear, a week passes so quickly when you are in love."

Golf Course Work Progresses

Ray Vinson, who is supervising the laying out of the golf course, announces that work is progressing satisfactorily. The three greens which were needed last year are in first class shape and two more greens are being sown, according to Mr. Vinson. The work of grading and building bunkers is under way.
