Selling Quality Products.

The Farmers' Sun of Toronto, Canada, makes the following suggestion: "There is little doubt that potato growers could have obtained a profit instead of a loss from last year's production if every grower had graded his crop, selling only the large, desirable potatoes which command a good price. The culls could have been used to feed live stock, or even left to rot with profit if this had been done. The same idea holds true for the fruit growers, the poultrymen and the hog growers. This is a day of quality demand on the part of the consumer. The poor quality products can be sold at a price, but often this portion is all that is needed to create a surplus and thereby drive down the price of the entire crop."

Siuslaw Viewers Make Report.

The three viewers sent out on the Siuslaw highway between Cushman and Mapleton by the county court to make negotiations with land owners for rights of way for the new water level route of the Siuslaw highway are meeting with fair success, according to Carl Bergman, one of the viewers, who reported to the county court Saturday.

The men started work at Cushman Monday, June 3, and have gone as far as Tom Neely's place. They report that they are not having much trouble securing needed pieces of land.

Valentines in Museum

Valentines have gone out of style among young lovers in England, and the tender missives of long ago are acquiring a museum of value. An exhibition of 400 varieties was recently held in a London museum. With them was shown an old post office sign urging the public to mail their valentines early.

'Round the Circle

(By JACK HOWARD.)

Church and Sunday school affairs in the Dorena community, which seemed to be at highwater mark throughout the winter, are reported as stabilized for the summer season, notwithstanding the tendency of all to shirk responsibilities and duties during summer. The union Sunday school observed Children's day June 9. Sunday school was at 10, preaching services at 11, conducted by Rev. Sams, and at noon a basket dinner was served. An excellent program was given at 2:30.

A good working bunch is a-top the new mill structure of Arthur Demare, now receiving its finishing touches in placing and lining up machinery. Delay has been occasioned on account of the weather, but Mr. Demare expects to have the plant in full operation by next Monday. He expects to operate this week testing out the equipment and cutting stock for completion of the mill building and for an extension. Among the new faces seen at the little plant was that of W. C. Shearer, more familiarly known in these parts as "Young Bill"—application a trifle far-fetched these days, for "Young Bill" isn't quite so "dern young" as he was some 20 years ago when he and his father, W. S. Shearer, now of Salem, were with the Chambers Lumber company at Dorena. But he is here on the job big as life, which means that proper line up of machinery is assured. Mr. Shearer and family returned here several years ago and have a home on the old mill site of the Bohemia Lumber company, having purchased a substantial tract there, and aside from the trifling change of making a farm out of the place again, Bill puts in a lot of time at mill plants in this section and near Cottage Grove, among whom he enjoys a good reputation as an A-1 mill wright.

Lee Thomason has been in the woods with one helper, C. J. Howard, for the past ten days and has a good start on the falling end of the new enterprise, and it is understood that Mr. Demare will have a yarding crew at work in a few days. The initial logging will probably be done with horse equipment. The management is desirous of getting into operation as it has several orders booked for July delivery.

Nothing happens that points not to some good. But the present rainy period is not so good for the strawberry crop which has been reported by the several growers of this section as promising. For the past several days berry fields have been so soaked that it has been impossible to get onto the ground and, while the backward weather has had a tendency to hold the product somewhat in check, some loss in yield is already apparent and a continuation of the present weather will cause a material loss. The price has been strong. It is reported that the first berries locally grown reaching the Cottage Grove market brought $4 the crate. The next few days were ideal ripening weather and the price slipped down to about $3. 'Twas then old Jupe gave another swish of his sprinkling pot and the price snapped back a bit and is still holding firm. So much for the berries. Now for the good o' it. The earlier cold period had a tendency to retard grain and hay crops and checked garden making. Eventually a few good days came along and gardening was prosecuted with vigor. Then came another cold and menacing spell of weather that gave growers the fidgets, some prophesying that "everything will rot in the ground." Then came those several days of good weather, and almost before one could realize it long green rows marked the garden plots and potatoes—good land!—they jumped out of the ground by inches, and it was only yesterday that the writer noticed a small patch in bloom. Not having anything else to howl about Mr. Knocker took a swipe at the grain and hay crops. "Seems to me," said he, "they don't look so good—we are going to have a mighty light crop—color is off—see how thin that stand is?" But again old Jupe side-swiped his old sprinkle can and, while the berries are suffering a bit, the grain and hay fields are now thick, velvety carpets of thrifty green and an abundant crop is assured; so Mr. Knocker is again in the dumps. Yes, leave it to old Oregon weather and Oregon soil. We may lose a few crates of berries and we may be shy a bit on cherries; but the apple crop is promising, with prunes and bush berries coming along fine; and we are not suffocating from a heat wave.

Mrs. A. E. Dean, formerly of Dorena, where she was a popular teacher in the schools some years ago, who is now identified with educational work at Agatha, Ida., has returned home after a brief visit with friends and former students in the Row river country. While here she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teeters. Nellie Teeters, who graduated from the high school this year, had Mrs. Dean as her first teacher.

As one tops the Harms creek grade, going north on the county road, he gets a splendid view of the new grade work on the extension of the road directly past the Grant Bales home. Mr. Teeters, local charge d' affaires of county road work in the Dorena district, completed the grade several days ago and as soon as weather conditions and time from other important work permits, the new grade will be substantially graveled.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated.

BLUE MOUNTAIN, June 11.—(Special.)—A number of friends and relatives gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Potts to help them celebrate their thirty-second wedding anniversary. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wilkinson of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. William Ostrander and daughter Harriet, Kathleen Beidler, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sproules and daughters Gladys and Wilma, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Neet of Cottage Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rissue and son George and Mr. and Mrs. James Potts and son Ray. A bounteous dinner was served and a pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed.

Virgin Gold

In an unknown cave on the Auckland Islands lie the remains of a ship which contained more than $10,000,000 worth of virgin gold and nuggets. Some seventy years ago she sailed from Melbourne, loaded with miners returning with their gold from Ballarat.

Becalmed among the islands, a current drifted her into a great cave. Her masts, striking the roof, were driven through the hull and she sank. A few survivors reached the coast of New Zealand, but no search has yet discovered the cave in which lies the hull of this valuable treasure ship.

Her Place in the Sun

She lay lifeless, a mere shattered torso. Her beautiful vacant eyes stared calmly at you; even yet the flawless waves stuck to her golden hair. Her facial beauty was ruined; her lovely cheeks had slid down into her neck, and there they were in chunks. But still the light was in her eyes; she'd met her destruction bravely, and never squinted once . . .

"We'll need a new dummy," said the hairdresser, looking at the show window the storm had blown in.

Watermarks in Paper

Watermarks in paper have been used for a long time to lend distinction to the product of a particular paper maker and for other purposes. One of the oldest, a circle surmounted by a tall cross, is found in documents dating back to the Fourteenth century. Other old marks are the fleur-de-lys, the court jester, the huntsman's horn, the hand pointing to a five-pointed star and the tankard, well known in papers of the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or evere increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 25 for 25c today at Kem's for Drugs.

Reason for Popularity of Pigeons in Venice

Perhaps by rights it ought to be a water bird that Venetians cherish as the special pet of their city in the sea, but it isn't. The bird of Venice is the blue rock pigeon. The city is full of them. Their special haunt is St. Mark's square. Here there are always hundreds of them, and at two o'clock in the afternoon, when the city officially feeds them, they fly in from all parts of the city by the thousand.

The tourist in Venice has not done the usual thing unless he spends a little time feeding the pigeons on St. Mark's square. They are so tame they light on your head and shoulders and eat out of your hand, sometimes three and four at a time.

The story is that when centuries ago the army of the republic of Venice caused the downfall of Constantinople, it was a blue rock pigeon which brought the glad news of victory to the Venetians. Whether the tradition be true or not, the blue rock pigeon has found for many generations a safe and happy home there.—Florence Clark.

Clever Hiding Places for Family Treasures

In this day of checking accounts, safe-deposit vaults, wall safes, burglary insurance, of pursers on steamships and clerks in hotels who safeguard our valuables for us, it is difficult even to imagine what must have been the anxiety in the days when every woman had to look after her treasures for herself.

And yet even our grandmothers can sometimes tell us of the way they hid their jewelry deep within the feathers of the bed, of hiding their money in chinks of the wall or sewing it in the wide hems of their skirts. And the secret drawers and slides and cubby holes that we find in interesting old pieces of furniture bear witness to the fact that women of former generations have had a far less easy time of it to hide their treasures than we.

In the bureaus, desks and other pieces of furniture made by the master cabinetmakers of the Eighteenth century in France and England much time and skill were used in making these secret hideaway places—the location of which and method of opening was often kept a deep secret between the maker of the piece and the owner.

Farmer Secrets

Agriculture is more than a trade or a business. It is primarily an art, a personal profession, a mode of life, a calling. Farming is one of the basic occupations that spring from the very roots of man's nature—from the human impulse to create something that will be real, significant and lasting.—Farm and Fireside.

The REFRIGERATOR of the FUTURE...

Mechanism on top, hermetically sealed . . never needs oiling . . . quiet, all steel, cannot warp . . . electrically operated.

$215
At the Factory
with conveniently spaced payments

THE same group of engineers and scientists who perfected the hermetically sealed mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator, now have designed and produced an all-steel refrigerator cabinet—the first all-steel refrigerator ever built!

It is a small-family model—entirely of steel—strong and durable as a safe. It has no wood in it. It cannot warp. No cold can seep out, no heat can creep in.

Quantity production and the employment of the most efficient manufacturing methods have made possible this very low price—$215, at the factory. Never before has any single refrigerator been built in such great quantities . . . never before has such high quality been available at such a low price.

You will readily understand why this has been called "the refrigerator of the future" when you examine it yourself and compare it carefully with all others. Be sure to come in and see it. This, or any model, may be purchased on easy payments.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday evening, 9 to 10 Eastern Standard Time, over N. B. C. network of forty-two stations.

This easily accessible regulator mounted on the top of each General Electric Refrigerator, makes it possible for you to speed up the freezing of ice cubes whenever desirable.
