LITTLE COUNTRY PAPER.

I got a little paper from a little country town—

A far from the dailies, that on Sundays weigh us down;

It's printed every Friday, and it always has no supplement.

Nor colored rotogravure, but I'm always glad it's sent.

It gives no clever verses by syndicated hands,

But states that Mrs. Williams entertained some friends at cards;

"Ye Bertha" saw Judge McArthur shake his head today;

It says the Curtis family sold out and moved away.

On Monday it's silent, and there's nothing on finance—

It tells that the Heberkars gave an in stallation dance.

That Miss Day is returning soon to open up for school.

That Alexander Hargrave lost a valuable mule.

It's that Jimmie Gallagher can be around again.

It claims that the alfalfa crop is much in the grip of clever men for the road work to commence.

Will Anderson hauled lumber for his new garage and fence.

The worldly ones may smile at it, but these home town items form a bond through many years and miles—

Oh, little country paper, with your little weekly talk!

I'll read with you down remembered roads and walks.
