

SOCIETY

At the close of the regular meeting of Eastern Star Friday night members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls were guests of the chapter. The girls entered the chapter room at the invitation of the worthy matron, Miss Beth Bede, worthy advisor, and Mrs. H. B. Griggs, mother advisor, were escorted to seats of honor in the east. Mrs. Griggs and Miss Bede responded to greetings from Miss Mariette Esmant, worthy matron, and Mrs. Charles Beidler, Mrs. William Thum and Worth Harvey members of the advisory council gave short talks. Games were played and at a late hour refreshments were served. The entertainment was in charge of Mrs. Ruth Haldeman, Miss Lois Godard and Mrs. C. A. Bartlett. The refreshment committee was composed of Mrs. C. E. Roberts, Mrs. G. B. Armstrong, Mrs. Charles Beidler, Mrs. Charles Vandenberg, Miss Esther Silsby, Mrs. George Jacobson and Mrs. N. E. Glass.

Mrs. H. B. Griggs entertained Thursday for the Utopia club and invited as additional guests, Mrs. S. V. Allison, Mrs. D. H. Hemenway, Mrs. C. M. Foster (Larane) and Mrs. Paulus (Portland), house guest of a daughter, Mrs. Omer Moore. A short business meeting was held and it was decided to change the meeting day of the club from the last Thursday of the month to the third Thursday. Names for the Christmas gift exchange were drawn and the remaining hours were spent socially. At the close of the afternoon a tempting two-course luncheon was served. Bouquets of combined autumn flowers were attractive table and room decorations.

The Needlecraft club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Fred Bennett for their usual afternoon of needlework. A special guest for the session was Mrs. Baldwin, aunt of Mr. Bennett, who is visiting here from Washington. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served a dainty two-course luncheon. Vari-colored asters and Michaelmas daisies were room decorations.

Mrs. J. A. Wright was hostess Wednesday for the Social Twelve club. All members were present with the exception of Mrs. Herbert Eakin, who was attending church. The club voted to send a dozen jars of fruit to the Albertina Korr home in Portland. Names were drawn for the Christmas gift exchange and it was decided to hold a no-hostess banquet for the Christmas meeting. Following the banquet the club will meet at the home of Mrs. C. F. Hoskins. Mrs. H. A. Miller presented each member with a bouquet of beautiful flowers from her garden. At the close of a pleasant afternoon a delicious two-course luncheon was served. Quantities of gorgeous fall flowers were artistic decorations. Mrs. S. E. Compton will entertain the club for their next meeting.

Mrs. O. L. Nichols was hostess Wednesday for the women's foreign missionary society of the Methodist church. The meeting was opened with devotionals led by Mrs. S. L. Mackin. Mrs. J. H. Hendricks reviewed the first chapter in the interdenominational study book on Jerusalem. The book is written by Helen Barrett Montgomery, who has traveled extensively in the Holy lands. Mrs. Albert Woodard gave a demonstration of the playlet, "Why Foreign Missions?" taken from the Missionary Friend. The mystery box was in charge of Mrs. C. E. Umphrey. A mission song was sung to the tune of "The Old Oaken Bucket." An afternoon of bridge was enjoyed and Mrs. Fred Anderson held high score and Mrs. H. A. Hagen second high. Fall flowers were colorful table and room decorations. The club will be entertained next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Sam Veatch.

The initial meeting of the year and Mrs. Ivan Sams was welcomed as a new member. Bridge was played during the afternoon and Mrs. Fred Anderson held high score. At the close of the session a luncheon was served. The club will be entertained in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Lester Booth.

The M. P. G. club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Joe Smith, who invited as additional guests Mrs. J. A. Wiseman and Miss Lila Howe. A pleasant social afternoon was spent with needlework and at the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. Asters and colorful autumn leaves were attractive room decorations.

The Presbyterian ladies' aid society will hold their annual experience social at the church Wednesday afternoon. The hostess committee (Continued on page 5.)

MOUNTAIN STATES POWER COMPANY

The Christian ladies' aid society held its annual experience social Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors and the losing side in a recent pig contest entertained the winners. Mrs. Herbert Whitlock was captain of the losing side and Mrs. Mary Hambrick of the winners. Each side sold cooked food articles, the winners turning in more money than the losers. Thirty-eight were present. A short business meeting was held and plans were made for the annual chicken dinner to be held November 8 at the church. A program and playlet followed and members told how they earned their experience money. Mrs. Doolittle gave an interesting report of her efforts. Mrs. Stella Baker, who has been secretary of the aid for seven years, was given a quilt in appreciation of her services. Refreshments were served.

Young people of the Christian church will entertain high school students and other young people of high school age at 7:30 Friday night in the church parlors. Committee have been hard at work for several weeks preparing to make Friday a most enjoyable evening and Marvin Shaw, president of the group, says they expect a large attendance. The entertainment committee has arranged games in the form of a tournament, the three schools to enter being the "Saginaw School of Fine Arts," the "London Tech" and the "Goshen Military Academy." The winning school will receive a beautiful hand engraved cup. Clark Aydelott, who is in charge of games, promises a lively time.

The Mizpah class of the Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Tuesday night for annual election of officers. The following will serve for the coming year: Mrs. A. W. Shofstall, president; Mrs. William Chestnut, vice president; Mrs. O. W. Blackmore, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. W. V. McGee, teacher; Mrs. Mary Smith and Mrs. George Jacobson, lookout committee; Mrs. W. L. Hatch and Miss Stella Adams, flower committee. At the close of the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. Fred Hammond, Mrs. Beech and Mrs. Alice Miller.

A family reunion was held Sunday at the S. J. Leonard home. A dinner was served and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leonard of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Leonard of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Young of Salem, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leonard and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bright Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Leonard of this city. A social afternoon followed. Ralph, Clyde, Roy and Brighton are sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Leonard and H. A. Young is a brother of Mrs. Leonard. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. J. C. Selms of Hood River, was unable to be present.

The O. L. N. club held its first meeting of the fall season Friday afternoon. Mrs. W. W. McFarland entertained the club at the Colonial cafe. Mrs. George Jacobson was welcomed as a new member and additional guests were Mrs. A. W. Kime and Mrs. T. C. Wheeler. At a business meeting names were drawn for the annual Christmas gift exchange. A pleasant afternoon was spent playing bridge and Mrs. Jacobson held high score. At the tea hour dainty refreshments were served. Baskets of fall flowers were attractive decorations.

The wedding of Miss Hazel Virginia Bosley, former Cottage Grove girl, to Ernest Shiller will be an event of October 4 in Palo Alto, Cal. The ceremony will take place in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snow. Miss Bosley is the daughter of the late D. C. Bosley and a sister of Fred Bosley of this city. Mrs. Bosley and Fred left Tuesday by motor for Palo Alto to attend the wedding. They will return home via Bend and Center lake and will visit at the H. C. Gilliland home in Bend.

The American Legion and the Legion auxiliary will hold joint installation Monday night at the O. G. P. hall. Frances Zeigler, commander of district No. 2 of Corvallis, will be installing officer for the Legion. It is expected others from Corvallis post will be present. This will also be a social night and following the meeting refreshments will be served. Mrs. George Matthews is chairman of the refreshments committee.

The congregation of the Methodist church will hold a covered dish supper tonight at 6:30 at the church. It will be in nature of a farewell reception for Rev. W. J. Monroe, who is taking up his abode as executive secretary for the Wesley hospital at Marshfield. The committee in charge wishes to announce that pie will be served as dessert and each family will provide a part of the meal. Prayer meeting services will follow the supper.

The Tuesday Bridge club was entertained for the opening meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. C. E. Roberts Tuesday. A 1 o'clock luncheon was served and the afternoon was spent playing bridge, with Mrs. C. J. Kem holding high score. Mrs. A. W. Shofstall was a special guest. For table decorations asters of combined shades were used and baskets of fall flowers added to the attractiveness of the room.

The Tuesday Study club met Tuesday night in the city library and for the evening lesson continued the study of France. Mrs. Charles Beidler gave a book review of "Her People and Her Spirit" by Lawrence Jerrold, which dealt with the history of France. Mrs. Dan Hamant reviewed "Paris on Parade," which featured the social life of the famous French city.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy dry, evacuating bowel, called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose. Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 25 for 25c today at Kem's for Drugs.
