Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Umphrey and daughter Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin and family and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Watkins were lunch guests Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rice near Oakland. Mrs. Rice is a cousin of Mr. Umphrey.

Mrs. James P. Graham was hostess for a delightful affair Sunday afternoon at her home. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller and Mr. Graham on their birthday anniversary. Dinner was served in the early evening. Pink was the color scheme for table decorations. Pink snapdragons and roses combined with ferns formed an attractive centerpiece and pink tapers aided to the effect. The Millers and Grahams have celebrated the occasion jointly for the past seven years. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hemmaway and Mr. and Mrs. Graham. Mr. Jacobson related many interesting incidents of his recent voyage to the Orient.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Esther Van Osdal of this city to John Procter of San Francisco came as a surprise to the bride's many friends. The marriage took place August 31 in Coquille. The bride is an only daughter of Mrs. Grace Van Osdal and has made her home in Cottage Grove for a number of years. She is employed as a stenographer in the law office of Herbert Lombard. The groom is a marine engineer stationed on a coasting vessel. At the present time he is on the steamship West Camargo, bound for South American ports. Mrs. Procter will remain in Cottage Grove until spring when she will join her husband in San Francisco to make her home there.

Miss Lula Currin entertained the Jockey club Friday evening at the Colonial. Eight tables of bridge were in play and Mrs. Oscar Woodson held high score. Miss Merle Bowen held low score. At the close of the evening, dainty refreshments were served. The room was colorfully decorated with autumn foliage and bouquets of choice gladioli. Special guests for the affair were Mrs. James P. Graham, Mrs. D. A. Emerson, Mrs. O. M. Kem, Mrs. Woodson, Mrs. Ira Isom, Mrs. E. W. Ames, Mrs. George Knowles, Mrs. C. J. Kem, Mrs. Thomas Holleran, Miss Merle Bowen, Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. W. W. McFarland, Mrs. W. S. Averill, Mrs. George Jacobson, Mrs. George Matthews, Mrs. W. B. Johnston and Mrs. Harry Metcalf.

The Delphian society met Monday night in the city library and the study of Shakespearean contemporaries proved an interesting program for the evening. Mrs. W. J. White was leader. Plays of Beaumont and Fletcher were reviewed and a round table discussion followed.

Mrs. Elvira Allen was honored Sunday on her 85th birthday anniversary when members of the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen on south River road for dinner. All the children of Mrs. Allen were present with the exception of one son. Mrs. Allen is enjoying good health and the occasion was indeed a happy one. The honor guest received many useful gifts. Those present were the honor guest, Mr. and Mrs. O. Knight, Miss Florence Mathis, Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Allen and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Allen and son.

Mrs. Omer Moore was hostess for the Utopia club Friday afternoon at her home on Quincy avenue. Guests meeting with the club were Mrs. Paulson of Portland, mother of Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Harry Metcalf, Mrs. George Mathis, Mrs. Mary Smith. The hours were spent in a social manner and needlework. Later the hostess served a tempting two-course luncheon. The tables were effectively decorated with centerpieces of colorful autumn flowers. Mrs. Vinal Randall was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. W. L. Hatch entertained informally a small group of friends Wednesday of last week, celebrating her birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent socially and at the tea hour dainty refreshments were served.

A group of congenial friends gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Claude Kime Friday night for a covered dish supper. The evening hours were spent with bridge. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garoutte, Mrs. A. A. Richmond, Mrs. Nelson Durham and Mrs. Vinal Randall Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Richmond. Seven tables were arranged for both afternoon and evening affairs. In the afternoon Mrs. Earl Garoutte held high score and Mrs. Thomas Holleran held low score. For evening Mrs. Claude Kime was high and Mrs. Clio Maxwell was low. The rooms were especially attractive with baskets of asters and zinnias in colorful hue and autumn foliage and berries. Soft shaded lights added a pleasing effect to the scene. Following cards dainty refreshments were served.

The Presbyterian missionary society was entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. W. Colner and Mrs. A. W. Shofstall. The evening was devoted to the devotionals and Mrs. W. V. McGee had charge of the query corner. Dainty refreshments were served at the tea hour.

Deputy Shadon of Corvallis was a guest of the Royal Neighbors at their meeting last night in I. O. O. F. hall. Degree work was exemplified for one candidate. A social evening was enjoyed.

Have Faith in Yourself
Puck up—you're as good as the other fellow, if you only think you are. Don't be the victim of an "inferiority complex." The first thing to do is to believe in yourself, then you won't have much trouble with other people.—Grit.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hogate Sunday in honor of Mrs. Hogate's birthday anniversary. Dinner was served early in the afternoon and the hours following were spent in a quiet social way. Mrs. Hogate was presented with a birthday gift. The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Hogate and son Clair, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Houser and nephew, Meryl Turner of Santa Monica, Cal., Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mason and daughter Ida, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sears and their house guest, Miss Whitsett of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Leonard and their sister-in-law, Mrs. H. A. Young of Salem, Mo.

American Legion Plans Armistice Day Program

Plans for celebration of Armistice day, November 11, were discussed at the meeting of the American Legion Monday night. Robert Fromm is chairman of the committee in charge and it is probable that the day's program will include the following: Trap shoot at the grounds on south Sixth street early in the forenoon; parade in which all civic and fraternal orders, school children and coast artillery company will be asked to take part; dedication of the display board of the Legion honor roll; football game in the afternoon between the high school alumni and the University of Oregon; football dinner at 6:30 for all ex-service men and their families. At 7:30 the Legion will sponsor a picture "The Leatherneck" at the Arcade theater and several reels of the "Pendleton roundup" will also be shown. A closing feature of the day will be a dance at the armory.

Rev. I. G. Shaw spoke on the Robinson bill, which is attracting nation wide interest. The bill provides for a secretary of education to be included in the president's cabinet. The matter was taken under discussion.

Ant-Killer Uses Pincers for Grinding Its Victims
Among the myriad forms of animal life are to be found many that are the deadliest. One is a creature only about three inches long which bears a superficial resemblance to the spider and also to both the scorpion and the vinegerone. Frequently it is mistaken for one of them, but its correct pseudonym is ant-killer, a name the implications of which are fully borne out by its behavior toward those little insects. Its reason, writes C. T. Reed in Nature Magazine, for killing the ants, and not the other small animals, chiefly arthropods, is not pure love of destruction.

After killing the insects it thoroughly grinds the bodies in its powerful and needle-like chelae, which project from the front of the small head. Then through a toothless mouth, scarcely bigger than a small pinhead, it sucks the juices of the bodies of the victims. The ant-killer is dreaded by the Mexicans as an enemy more venomous than the rattlesnake. As a matter of fact, it has no venom and is harmless, except for the rather painful wound that it might inflict with its sharp, strong, forcible acid-covered pincers. These spider-like animals are widely distributed throughout arid tropical and semitropical regions.

Man's Critical Faculty Potent Factor in Love
Man, as a rule, can be attracted by almost any pretty and relatively attractive woman. He can be stirred by any girl who is superficially charming, as most girls are today. But the test comes when that original attraction progresses to the place where it meets his critical faculty or instinct of self protection. Then he says to himself "Is this thing worth while?" Men may be charmed, but they are never won at first sight. When they become critical they almost invariably experience a sense of panic—that panic to which almost all of them will admit they have fallen prey during the process of falling in love. Then, if they are to be really won, they must find in the girl things which reassure them and convince them that it is worth while.

The next step, therefore, depends entirely upon the girl. It is at this critical moment that she either wins or loses the game, almost entirely according to what she then offers.—Adela Rogers St. Johns in Smart Set Magazine.

Slight Influences Handwriting
If the average handwriting of a person with normal vision is taken as a standard, that of the individual suffering from nearsightedness will be found to be much smaller and that of the farsighted individual much larger. The nearsighted person does not realize that his writing is small, for he sees it enlarged and the farsighted person does not know that he writes large, for his eyes reduce the image for him.

The Test
If you know good music when you hear it, a good picture when you see it, you're educated.—Capper's Weekly.

From the Polynesian
Primitive races in Asia and the South seas were addicted to tattooing. The word's origin is "Tatu," meaning to strike.

The Harder Task
Retaliation may help you to forgive your enemies, but only a miracle can make you forgive the success of your friends.—Capper's Weekly.

Degree of Chemistry
Colloidal chemistry is the chemistry of systems consisting of extremely finely divided material, such as bubbles, drops, grains, emulsions and films, in a state of suspension in other materials.

Amusement's Place. Let amusement fill up the chinks of your life, but not the great spaces thereof.—Theodore Parker.

Needs Verification. A piquant story runs that a wreath deposited by Emperor William on the tomb of Saladin at Damascus, and bearing his own name as well as Saladin's, was presented by the Arab guardian to the tomb to Colonel Lawrence upon the occasion of his triumphal entry into the city with the Arab forces of the Emir Faisal. But, like other stories centered round that romantic personality, this one should be accepted with due reserve.

New Invention

A small boy had watched a telephone repairman climb a pole, connect a test set and try to obtain connection with the testboard. There was some trouble obtaining the connection. The youngster listened a few minutes and rushed into the house, exclaiming, "Mama, come out here quick. There's a man up a telephone pole talking to heaven."

"What makes you think he is talking to heaven?"

"'Cause he hollered 'Hello! hello! hello! good lord, what's the matter up there; can't anyone hear?'"—Forbes Magazine.

So Simple

Mrs. Suburbs, who was absorbed in a romance of the Seventeenth century, suddenly looked up at her husband.

"George," she remarked, "listen to this: 'By his halldom, I exclaimed Sir Percival, 'It is past the hour of 12.' Now, what is a halldom, George?"

"What do you suppose it is?" he responded. "Doesn't the context tell you? Sir Percival's name said it was past 12 by his halldom, didn't he? Well, I should have thought anybody could have seen that halldom was the make of his watch."

Not Expected to Know

A class of small boys at Sunday school was being queried on the lesson, but none appeared to know his lesson.

"Perhaps this new little member of our class can tell us who it was that led the children of Israel across the Red sea?" the teacher said.

"Oh, teacher, he's just moved into our neighborhood last week and you couldn't expect him to know," volunteered one lad.

Light and Darkness

A man who looks toward the light sees no shadow; a man who walks toward the light leaves darkness behind him. People get in darkness by turning away from the light. They hide in obscure corners; they bury themselves in nooks, where the sun of righteousness cannot reach them; they close their blinds and shutters and wonder that they have no light. A house may be dark, but it is not because the Light of the World does not shed beams abroad.—Armory

Varieties of Wheat

To most consumers, wheat is wheat, and general information stops at this point. Wheat, however, seems to be an extensive family, among the members of which are the following varieties: Turkey Marquis, Fultz, Mediterranean, Poole, Preston, Haynes Bluestem, Red May, Red Waver, Kanred, Blackhall, Trumbull, Kubanka and Harvest Queen.

Incidentally, in the five-year period from 1919 to 1924, wheat acreage in the United States dropped off from 73,000,000 acres to less than 51,000,000.

Aviators' Dangers

The evenness of air while flying varies with the temperature. If the air is warm, or what is called thin air, it is difficult to gain altitude. In cold or dense air it is easy to gain altitude. The air over cities is warmer than over the surrounding country. It is when a flyer approaches warmer air that the plane has a tendency to lose altitude. In some places a change from cold to warm air is very abrupt. That is known as an air pocket, or bumpy air.

Echo Measures Distance

By means of a new device to be installed upon airplanes, the aviator will be enabled to judge the distance to the ground very accurately. This device makes use of the echo of the exhaust explosions from the engine, and even though the earth may be obscured by a thick fog the echo of the explosions, reflected from the surface of the ground, will tell the aviator his exact height. This apparatus is of immense value when the view of the earth is cut off and it is said to be very accurate even when quite close to the ground.
