The Pythian Sisters installed the following officers Wednesday night of last week: Mrs. Orpha Shanda, most excellent chief; Mrs. June Bird, past chief; Mrs. Nettie Quimby, excellent junior; Mrs. Bessie Dahl, excellent senior; Mrs. Alice Kent, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland, mistress of finance; Mrs. Susie Wiese, manager; Mrs. Clara Ellsworth, protector; Mrs. Clara Collins, guard; Mrs. Alice Kent, press correspondent; Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland, captain of degree staff; Mrs. Clara Collins, trustee; Mrs. Gladys Hall was installing officer and she was assisted by Mrs. June Bird and Mrs. Ivan Farmer. Mrs. Bird, outgoing M. E. C., was given a plant by members of the temple, Mrs. Hall, who has served three years as M. of R. C., and Mrs. Ethel Hagen, who has served three years as M. of F., will be granted past chief certificates by the grand temple. Both Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Hagen were given gifts by members of the temple. After installation brother knights served refreshments. The committee in charge was Ed Wiese, H. J. Shinn, Ernie Tiller and Charles Shanda. The Research club gave a Chinese dinner for members and guests Tuesday night in the Baptist church parlors under the supervision of Mrs. Louis Henry Randle. The dining room was hung with Chinese panels and the table was gay with Chinese decorations. True Chinese foods were served and considerable merriment was caused by the efforts of the diners to eat with chopsticks. A social time followed and Rev. L. H. Randle, who spent seven years in the interior of China, gave an informal talk on China and also answered a number of questions. Additional guests were Mrs. L. G. Hayes of Chicago, Mrs. Alice McC. Miller, Mrs. Martha Eastham, Miss Esther Silaby, Mrs. W. M. MacGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sikes, D. A. Emerson.

A. W. Shofstall, W. J. White and Ira Isom. The Utopia club held a no-hostess 1 o'clock luncheon at the Colonial cafe Thursday of last week in celebration of the birthday anniversary of the club. The luncheon table was attractive with a centerpiece of red geraniums and red tapers. A feature of the luncheon was a birthday cake lighted with six candles. Mrs. F. L. Grannis and Mrs. C. E. Frost, retiring president and secretary, gave each member a potted fern. After the luncheon the club went to the home of Mrs. Elbert Bede for its annual meeting and the following officers were elected: Mrs. S. L. Mackin, president; Mrs. H. B. Griggs, vice president; Mrs. A. A. Richmond, secretary-treasurer. The club voted to make a contribution to the student loan fund sponsored by the state federation of women's clubs. The Presbyterian Missionary society entertained yesterday afternoon in the church parlors for missionary societies of the city. Due to inclement weather the attendance was small, 28 being present. Mrs. H. A. Miller led devotionals. Mrs. L. H. Randle, who spent seven years in the interior of China as a missionary, talked on "Worship of China," women's quarter, Mrs. Roy Short, Mrs. C. C. Cruson, Mrs. George Matthews and Mrs. Victor Chambers, sang and Mrs. W. J. Wiseman sang a solo. Dainty refreshments were served. A Presbyterian society gave a potted cyclamen to Mrs. Randle.

Temper Shortens When Age of 40 is Reached Are you approaching forty? Beware! Let the best of the ages of forty and sixty-one "pet peevs" are "at peak." Savants of the international congress of psychology announce that the child, and the young man and woman, are fairly broad-minded about annoyances. Having survived such trivialities until forty, one is inclined to let go, and it is from that time until one is sixty that you should guard against becoming slave to your dislikes. A better place would be to remove one's self from the scenes of temptation. If one dislikes mosquitoes, he should try to find a place where there aren't any. If a man, and it is his duty to dance with stout ladies, crash the high school dances and sub-bred parties. If, now in the thirties, you develop morose tendencies when the saxophone tender next door tunes up, move away before forty, unless you wish to give your murderer complete play. This may be bad psychology, but it's good advice.

Skidding Car Crashes Gasoline Pump A pump at the A. C. Clark service station on north Ninth street was wrecked several days ago when a car driven by a traveling salesman skidded on the slippery paving, crashing into the pump about 20 feet from the paving. One of the supports of the pump was dislocated. Settlement was made for the damage. Several other cars have since come near crashing into the station. Four cars at different times skidded at the same point Tuesday night, but all stopped without injury before striking anything. Royal Arcanum Installs Officers. Cottage Grove council of the Royal Arcanum, at a meeting last week, installed the following officers: George Wickendall, regent; Louis Henry Randle, vice regent; Harrison Knight, orator; A. C. Bagley, past regent; Worth Harvey, treasurer; Dan Hamant, secretary; Ivan Barker, collector; Harold Swartz, chaplain; Ross Peterson, outer sentinel; Harold Wolfard, inner sentinel; Ross Glass, guide.

SCOUT COURT OF HONOR WILL BE THURSDAY, JAN. 30 A court of honor for boy scout troops of the city will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening, January 30, in the high school auditorium. A number of merit badges will be awarded, including the first ones to be granted in aviation. Several scouts will be up for advancement and one scout is up for star scout ranking. Llewellyn Ross, Eagle scout, the highest ranking a scout may win, is up for Eagle palms which requires five merit badges in addition to the number for Eagle scout. Troop No. 18 will give a scout playlet and it is probable that troop No. 16 will give a stunt. Water, served with meals aids in digestion, if it is not used to wash the food down. Coffee in the bean retains its flavor longer than in ground form.

Humble Cow Looked On as Evidence of Wealth In the early centuries the cow was looked upon as a source of wealth as well as food. One of the first words for money, "pecunia," from the Greek word "pecus," meaning cattle or herd, and the first coins made in Greece and Rome were stamped with the cow's head.

When Sails Beat Steam When the steamer Enterprise, commanded by Capt. James Henry Johnston, English pioneer navigator, reached the Cape of Good Hope on October 13, 1825, it is recorded that "a great crowd gathered on the shore to admire the wonderful object that could move at will without direction of the wind and to the accompaniment, it must be said, of a mighty puffing and volume of smoke."

Probably Ferrest Wish On a shore-bound train recently the Stroller sat behind a fussy old lady. The seat in front of the woman was occupied by a gentleman who had his window open. "I wish that man would shut his window, my hair is blowing around something awful," she remarked to a woman in the seat beside her.

Where Criminals Hung The little triangular garden at Kensington gate, London, was once known as Dead Man's green and has a somewhat gruesome history. Tradition avers that Dead Man's green, as it used to be called, was the site of the Surrey gallows, where many a highwayman and less romantic scoundrel met his doom in the eighteenth century. Here, too, some of the Scottish followers of Prince Charlie were "hanged, drawn, and quartered" after the rebellion of 1745.

Language Peculiarities English has twenty-six alphabet letters, twenty-one for consonants and five for vowels. English has some forty-four sounds, twenty-four consonantal and twenty vowel. To represent these forty-four sounds in spelling, English has well over 400 separate orthographic combinations, making an average of ten possible spellings per sound. What can you do with a language like that? And yet there is a charm about it—J. E. Rankin Aiken, in The Bookman.

Cleaning Plaster Statues When plaster statues have become dingy and dusty first give a thorough brushing and dusting. Take a good quality of white cream colored paint and make it thin with turpentine. Apply this to the statue with great care so that no paint settles in the crevices to impair the modeling. The statue can then be kept clean by wiping carefully with a wet cloth. Many statues in the Corcoran Art Gallery, Washington, are treated in this way.

Wind Sways Skyscrapers Strong gusts of wind against tall steel buildings cause the structures to sway and vibrate, tests have shown. According to reports, two of the tallest buildings in New York city bend as much as three inches at the top of their towers, three inches in either direction from the neutral fixed position, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Designers of a tall building soon to be built in Chicago allowed for a sway of two inches in either direction.

Happiness in Work There are social and economic maladjustments, and many of them lead to failures. Failure is unhappiness. But no man fails if he likes the job. Ford is right. Life's work is in the job. It is the thing that we mean by the "pursuit of happiness" in America; it was the quest of the men who built this wonderful American government for us, and it still is the thing which lures us on to larger achievements. Jobs are full of thrills if we wish it so; but we get these thrills only when we fit the job, when we like it, and give it the best we have in us when we put something of ourselves into the thing we do.—Mobile Register.

Another interesting connection between cattle and gold is found in the story of the discovery of gold in California. People came overland by pack train, around the Isthmus of Panama, and in sailing vessels. The first gold was discovered in 1845, and it was almost as good as a gold mine.—Kansas City Times.

The Degree of Honor lodge held open house Wednesday night of last week in I. O. O. F. hall. The Eugene lodge had been invited to attend but inclement weather made it impossible. Mrs. Lois A. Giese of Portland, national regional director for Oregon and Washington, gave an instructive address on the purpose of the organization, its founding and origin. Rev. Duncan P. Cameron gave a talk complimenting the officers. Several musical numbers and readings were given. Installation of officers was held. Refreshments were served.

The Tuesday Evening club held a meeting in the city library Tuesday evening and the topic for study was recent medical discoveries. Mrs. B. R. Job and Mrs. S. L. Mackin were leaders. Mrs. Mackin discussed bacteria, yellow fever, malaria, tuberculosis and tetanus. Mrs. Job told of new discoveries in the treatment of smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria and of the use of insulin. A round table discussion followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Barker entertained Thursday night of last week for the Bona Tempo club, inviting as additional guests Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garoutte. The evening was spent playing bridge and Mrs. Earl Garoutte held high score for the women and John Finneran for the men. Dainty refreshments were served.

The American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary will give a party Friday evening in Phillips hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bazy, members of the organization, who are leaving soon to make their home in Jerome, Ida. Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Ernie Tiller and Mrs. Peter Nelson are the auxiliary committee in charge of arrangements.

Rev. Duncan P. Cameron entertained Friday night at his home for his class in the Presbyterian Sunday school. He was assisted by Mrs. W. J. Wiseman and Mrs. Clarence Stoneberg. Thirty-five boys and girls were present and the evening was spent playing games. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. H. B. Griggs entertained with a dinner last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Merle Strader, chief operator at the telephone office here for several years, who has gone to the Grants Pass telephone office. Miss Evelyn Grove, who is taking Miss Strader's place, was also a guest.

Mrs. Claude Akime entertained the Tuesday Bridge club with a 1 o'clock luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Colonial cafe. Mrs. H. A. Hagen was an additional guest. The luncheon table was attractive with pink sweet peas and pink tapers. At cards Mrs. W. H. Daugherty held high score.

Mrs. Harold Whitlock entertained at 7:30 last night for La Mercere Pont club. A shower was held for Mrs. Fred Anderson. The evening was spent playing bridge and Mrs. Helen Hewitt held high score and Mrs. W. W. Lattie low. A one-course luncheon was served.

The benefit card party planned by the Keepers of the Den for this evening has been indefinitely postponed. The benefit, proceeds from which will go toward maintaining the city playground, will be held when weather conditions are more favorable.

Members of the Royal Arcanum and the Royal Arcanum basketball team and their wives and sweethearts will hold a basket social at 8 o'clock Monday night in Phillips hall.

Mrs. William Bartels entertained Friday afternoon for the Needlecraft club. A pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed and delicious refreshments were served. Red carnations were table decorations.

The O. L. H. club meeting scheduled for Tuesday was postponed for two weeks. Mrs. W. W. McFarland will be hostess to the club at that time.

Two Women are Injured in Sleighing Accident Mrs. Lester Brant suffered a painful bruised limb and sprained ankle and her sister, Bertha Hefflin, sustained a dislocated hip and sprained ankle in a sleighing accident last Thursday. Mrs. Brant and her sister and another sister, Mrs. J. E. Martin, were riding on a sled being pulled by an automobile when the sled crashed into a car parked on a curve. Mrs. Martin escaped without injury but the other two, who were on the end of the sled, were bruised and severely shaken. Mr. Martin was driving the car and Mr. Brant was with him. The two women are recovering satisfactorily.

Effort to "Be Ge" Results Character is the individual's peculiarity of dealing with life. Character is to life what efficiency is to working. Hence plays a persistent hand in human nature. Effort is the sole reality from which any definite result can be expected. If failure comes, in spite of added knowledge, nothing remains but further effort. We have only to renew effort in the light of still better knowledge.—Psychology Magazine.
