

SAFETY FIRST

It costs almost nothing to insure safety for your valuable and important papers when you place them in our safety deposit vault where no one but you can get to them. Even if you lose your key there is no chance for someone else to find it and use it, as our master key must also be used in conjunction with yours. Safeguard your valuables with this long established old reliable institution.

The First National Bank Of Cottage Grove

Capital $50,000 Surplus, $25,000

RESPECT FOR JUSTICE

Does God send men to hell? Read—"Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire prepared for the Devil and his angels, not you, to go there you will be an intruder on the Devil and his angels. Many are saying let's be friendly; but we don't have to read the Bible. Keep a Sabbath, go to church, only as we like to, of course we will help, we can pray when we please (but don't) we will risk it; let's have a good easy time. Seeing as I do we can't be ourselves to a regular church program. Then, "in that day," what day? You can guess, I think; many will say Lord, Lord, have we not, in thy name done many wonderful works?" Then will I profess unto them I never knew you, depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

City Briefs

Dr. H. A. Hagen, president of the Lions club, W. J. Meyer, George Kerr and Rev. Duncan P. Cameron attended a Lions club luncheon in Eugene Wednesday. Dr. Clarence W. Spear, newly elected football coach at University of Oregon and a guest of honor of the club, was the principal speaker. George S. Kerr was a week-end visitor in Sutherlin, a guest at the home of Miss Nellie Carroll. Nelson Motor Co. is equipped to take care of all your automobile troubles and can quote you the cost of the job before the work is started. Miss Werdna Isbell and Dale Wyatt were guests over the week end at the home of Miss Isbell in Hood River. Mrs. H. R. Godard, who has been seriously ill with the flu, is reported improving. Glenn Breedlove spent the week end in Salem at the Isaac Vinson home. Snooker, pool, cards, fountain, tobaccos. The Pastime. Glen Scott has recovered from a severe cold that kept him confined to the house for several days. Fred Bartels was home from the University of Oregon for several days this week. Tom Parker came in from Lundmark Monday and went to Albany for a visit of several days. He will be employed again this summer on road work for the forest service. Drive in and gas with Raker. Open until midnight. Mr. and Mrs. William Landess Jr. of Vernonia visited during the week at the home of Mr. Landess' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Landess Sr. Walter Pletcher of this city received $2 Tuesday as county bounty on three bobcat pelts. John Procter, who arrived recently to visit his wife, expects to spend another week here before returning to San Francisco. Illness is no joke. But there is no need of wearing a long solemn face when cheerful happy health is yours through Chiropractic. Make Chiropractic Your Habit. Dr. H. A. Hagen. S. E. Cole of this city has been included in a panel of 35 veterinarians drawn for the federal court term in Portland. He will report to the court of Judge Bean Monday, March 24. The regular Tuesday meeting of the local society of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was cancelled so that members might attend the boy scout benefit play, "Good Morning Judge," at the high school gym. Come see our new line of spring and summer millinery just received from New York. Attractive models for matrons and misses, priced to sell. Let us serve you. New York Millinery Parlors, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Beatty, Kern Bldg. ml3p C. W. Caldwell writes that he and Mrs. Caldwell have left Long Beach, Cal., and are now visiting in Chula

Viola with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bradley, former residents. He writes enthusiastically of Chula Vista and its surroundings. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Helliwell and son Billie were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Titus of Eugene. Dr. and Mrs. Tinkaman of Corvallis will arrive Saturday to spend the week end with Rev. Duncan P. Cameron. Yes, Nelson Motor company can sell you a radio of the most standard make. Philips is its name and it is some performer. Ask for a demonstration in your home. Miss Gavin of Eugene, county health nurse, spent Monday here checking on health conditions of school pupils. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Busch received word Saturday of the sudden death of a little niece, Shirlene Joyce Harrington, Thursday evening at Forest Grove. She was the second of twin daughters born February 10 to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harrington, formerly of this city. Her little sister, Shirley Maxine, died February 17. The Cottage Grove Radio service has re-erected its aerial towers which were blown down by a recent high wind. Mrs. Earl Garoutte has recovered from a recent severe illness. Harrison Knight has traded his property on south Tenth street and Grant avenue for the old Schieff building, located on Main street at the bridge, now owned by I. B. Morris. Mrs. Buell of Falls City is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Woodward. Mrs. Buell expects to remain in the city for two weeks. A. L. Williams of Culp Creek collected bounty on a coyote at the county clerk's office Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Metcalf and daughter Virginia left Saturday for Portland, where they will visit at the home of Mrs. Metcalf's sister, Mrs. Bert Lawson. Later they will go to Seattle to visit their sons Donald and Harry, who are students at University of Washington. Omer Moore, who is employed in Coquille, spent the week end with his family in this city. Mrs. F. H. Allison visited last week in Portland at the home of a sister, Mrs. Chet Griffith. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Litwiler have moved to the O. E. Woodson house on north Ninth street. It is the residence formerly owned and occupied by Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Hagen. Mr. and Mrs. James Turner of Garwin, Ia., visited Sunday at the I. A. Randall home. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hall and family of Oakland, Ore., also were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Randall. Mrs. Hall is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Turner. The latter are time neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Randall. The boy scout drum corps went to Drain and Creswell Saturday to advertise the boy scout benefit play, "Good Morning Judge," given here Tuesday night by the Lions club. Mr. Redick, national auditor for the Fraternal Order of Eagles, left here Saturday after spending several days visiting the Cottage Grove aerie. He audited the books of the local lodge and called a meeting of the officers at which he stated that everything pertaining to the aerie was in splendid condition. He congratulated the officers on the fine showing made by the lodge. Mrs. Louise Kirby of Sutherlin was a week-end visitor in the city. She left Tuesday for Aberdeen, Wash., where she will visit her sister, Miss Susan Simpson. Both Mrs. Kirby and Miss Simpson are former Cottage Grove residents. Miss Harriet Ostrander, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at a Eugene hospital Thursday, was brought home Sunday in the Mills ambulance. She is convalescing satisfactorily. Mrs. Ostrander was in Eugene with her daughter during her stay at the hospital. Mrs. James P. Graham, who has been ill with the flu, is reported improving although still confined to her home.

Marshall Mendenhall of Burns is visiting this week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Mendenhall. His sister, Mrs. George York of Eugene, accompanied him and spent the week end here. Mrs. L. Laaser and small son of Reedspoint are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Counts. Mr. Laaser, who came over with his family Saturday, returned to Reedspoint Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Powers of Portland visited last week at the home of Mrs. Powers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bartels. The infant son born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Overton died Saturday. Interment was in the Masonic cemetery. No funeral services were held. Frank McCollough and son Floyd have been confined to the house the past week with an attack of flu. Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Woodson left Saturday for their stock ranch in eastern Oregon near Baker. They expect to be gone about ten days. Mrs. Hattie Maddox and daughter, Mrs. Nellie Schaefer, of Salem spent the week end with relatives in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Holliday of Brownsville are guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Dale Sturges. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McFarland have moved from their home on west Main street to an apartment in the Bert Lawson building. The McFarlands have rented their home to Mr. Thompson, who is employed at the J. H. Chambers & Son mill.

No. 2
L. C. Smith
TYPEWRITER
$25
Cottage Grove
Sentinel
Office Equipment

Mr. and Mrs. John Goff and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Goff and their families of Vallier, Mont., were guests Friday at the S. L. Mackin home. John Goff and Mr. Mackin were college chums in Minnesota. The visitors enroute home from Los Angeles. Verne Garoutte of Bandon spent the week end here on business. Mrs. Velma Groom arrived Sunday from Coquille and was a guest Sunday night at the home of Mrs. Melia Currin. She left Monday for Portland in company with her son-in-law, J. J. Jackson, and will visit at the Jackson home. O. E. Crowe, county road commissioner, was in the Row river section Tuesday in the interests of county road work. Raymond B. Coulter has filed suit for divorce in the circuit court against his wife, Helena A. Coulter. Mr. and Mrs. Noble White and daughter Joan returned to their home in Seattle Monday. They had been visiting at the home of Mr. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. White, who accompanied them to Eugene on business. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Wyatt were week-end guests at the home of their son, Ernest Wyatt, in Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nokes of Albany were week-end guests at the home of Mr. Nokes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nokes. The claim of C. S. Bostlag against the estate of Elgar A. Williams was heard in the probate court Tuesday. The claim is for $226 and judgment was deferred by Judge C. P. Barnard until Tuesday, March 18. George Jennings was here from Bohemia to spend the week end. He is expecting to do extensive development work at the Lead Crystal mine as soon as weather permits. Mrs. Harry Stevenson, who had been visiting at the home of a sister, Mrs. Viola Walker, left Monday for her home in Los Angeles. Mrs. C. A. Bartell went to Salem Monday to visit at the home of a sister, Mrs. Miller. Loren Harvey, Georg Bjorset and Ivan Barker motored to Monroe Sunday. Johnnie Wallace, who was taken suddenly ill Saturday, is reported improving and able to be about his home again. It was at first thought he suffered a stroke of paralysis but later his illness was attributed to high blood pressure.

There Is No Substitute For Newspaper Advertising
The Sentinel

MANY NEW FAMILIES MOVE TO OREGON IN FEBRUARY
During February Oregon gained 61 families, who bought 22,905 acres of land and invested $205,400, according to the report of W. G. Ide, manager of the state chamber of commerce. February of this year far surpassed the same month of 1929 when 11 families made Oregon their home and bought 752 acres of land and invested $22,500. The report also points out that 212 families wrote of their intentions to move to Oregon this coming summer and that they would have more than a million dollars for investment purposes. During the month 3315 families answered the state chamber's advertising, asking for information about all parts of the state. Over 15,000 pieces of Oregon literature and letters were mailed to these families. Light Posts Arrive. Posts for the Main street ornamental lights have arrived, but nothing can be done towards their installation until the arrival of cable which left the east February 20 and is still somewhere on the high seas. The curb and gutter part of the work has been completed by Contractor Godard.

No "Frills," but Real Meals in Lumber Camps
Some one recently writing of Maine lumber camp meals describes the table in rather interesting terms: "The food is all on before the cook shouts: 'Come and get it!' You will not find finer bowls, white napkins or a dozen knives and forks to every person, but you'll find real grub, the kind that delights the stomach of every woodsman. There are no 'courses.' You eat as much as you want of anything that is on the table. The cooks are coffee, milk and tea are in large pitchers. Other food is in tin or enameled basins and in large quantities. The cups are of tin and hold a pint—a real man-sized cup. Knives, forks, spoons and plates are also of tin or enameled ware. Some of the tin mix beans, bread, pickles, potatoes and onions together and then cover it with molasses. As soon as a man has eaten he takes his dishes and deposits them in one of the huge dishpans that is usually in the sink at one end of the cookroom. To leave your dishes on the table would be a certain sign of 'greenhorn.'"—Lewiston Journal.

Scottish Judge Noted for Bathos on Bench
Newly appointed judges are invariably warned against undue loquacity on the bench. A dreadful example of such verbosity is found in the case of Lord Eskgrove, a Scots judge of a hundred years ago. Eskgrove could never be content with a plain statement and he strove to adorn the tale often led him into almost incredible depths of bathos. Condemning a tailor to death for murdering a soldier he declared: "Not only did you murder the soldier, but you deprived him of life, but you did thrust, or push, or pierce, or project, or propel the lethal weapon through his regimental breeches, which were his majesty's." On another occasion, sentencing two criminals for house-breaking with violence, he ended a long recital of their crimes by deploring: "And all this you did, God preserve us, just as the family were sitting down to dinner."—Montreal Star.

Desolation in Wake of Gigantic Gold Dredges
Automobile tourists through the northern part of California are liable to have their attention attracted to mountains of cobblestones frequently seen. Sometimes these piles are 50 or 60 feet high and several hundred feet long. They are never beautiful and they are not striking in the landscape. In fact, they are eyesores, but there is little prospect of their removal. These piles are the accumulation of the gold dredges, gigantic constructions which eat their way through the mountains, leaving a trail of desolation. Farm lands and orchards are bought up by the operators and left in ruin, for the land is useless for any purpose whatever after the passage of the dredger. These machines cost about a quarter of a million dollars, but the cost of operation is very small. A large quantity of the earth must be treated to recover a small quantity of the yellow metal, but at that the business is very profitable. The stones taken from the soil are useful only to grind up for cement, but the piles standing today will offer crushed stone sufficient for the demands of the entire country for many years.—Washington Star.

Earliest English Clock?
In the first chamber of the great tower of Salisbury cathedral lies a rusty, odd-looking piece of mechanism which may prove to be the earliest turret clock in England, dating back to 1386, or six years before the earliest record of the turret clock, now in the Science museum at South Kensington. An interesting feature of the Salisbury clock is the hand wheel for winding the going (as distinct from the striking) part. Only a little work at a trifling cost would be required to make the clock go again.

Let Down
Mother had been trying very hard to teach little Betty to be more polite. At last she really seemed to be successful. "Just you see how good she is at dinner time," mother boasted to her husband. Dinner time came. There was a great pudding. "Betty," said the child's mother, "will you have some more pudding?" "No," replied the daughter. "No what, Betty dear?" "No fear, mother."

Desert Aster a Beauty
In Painted canyon is found the desert aster—superlative one of all western composites bearing the much-used name of "aster"—yellow-tinged, with yellow center, and two or three inches across. And with enough irregularity to give it an air which we can only satisfactorily describe as chic. It is a perennial with a low woody base, a generous annual growth of slender herbaceous branches, and a liberal dower of foliage.

Sanity in the Madhouse
I should imagine that a madhouse would be an excellent place to be sane in. I'd a long sight rather live in a nice, quiet, secluded madhouse than in intellectual clubs full of un-intellectual people, all chattering nonsense about the newest book of philosophy, or the latest social earnest, elbowing sort of Movement that wants you to go in for service and help to take away somebody else's toys.—From "The Poet and the Lunatics," by G. K. Chesterton.

Maggie Superstitions
For generations the magpie has been regarded as an uncanny bird. In Sweden it is connected with witchcraft; in Devonshire, England, if a peasant sees one, he spits over his shoulder three times to avert ill luck; and in Scotland magpies flying near the windows of a house foretell the early death of one of its inmates.

Architectural Advance
A pendative in architecture is a structure in masonry designed to support a domical vault over four or more isolated piers. Its development by Byzantine architects of the Sixth century made it possible to erect domes above interiors of any desired plan, and was one of the greatest acquisitions in the history of architecture.

On Rainy Days
If your children grow tired of this or that toy game, collect these into one big box in the attic or cellar and reserve them for rainy days. They forget the toys away and will take new interest in them.

L. R. Long Is Dead After Four Days' Illness
Lafayette R. Long, taken ill early Saturday morning, died at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning of double pneumonia at the Pacific Christian hospital in Eugene. He had been a resident of this city for 40 years. He was aged 54 years, 4 months, 24 days. Funeral services will be held a 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Mills chapel and Rev. Duncan P. Cameron of the Presbyterian church will officiate. Interment will be in the E. F. & A. M. J. O. O. F. cemetery. Pallbearers will be Mahlon E. Sweet of Eugene, M. P. Garoutte, Earl Hill, E. C. Lockwood, Frank McFarland and LaSells Stewart. Mr. Long was born October 18, 1875, in Coquille, Ore. He came to Cottage Grove in 1890 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Long, who died several years ago. The family built the Long & Son flour mills in the Long addition to Cottage Grove. Mr. Long was married about nine years ago to Mrs. Jean Mosby. Besides the widow, surviving relatives are a sister, Mrs. Mamie Reynolds of Walla Walla, Wash., and a brother, Ed Long of Los Angeles. Mrs. Reynolds arrived Sunday and Ed Long is expected to arrive today.

Deputy High Priest Visits
Hugh E. Brown, district deputy grand high priest, paid an official visit to Cottage Grove chapter, R. A. M. last night and witnessed conferring of the past master's degree. He complimented the chapter upon its activities and said it is the outstanding chapter in his district. Mrs. Reynolds arrived Sunday and Ed Long is expected to arrive today.

Bridge Is Repaired
The Bryce creek bridge that was taken out when a tree fell on it last winter, has been rebuilt and is now ready to start. It is once removing a slide which blocks the road into the Bohemia district. Class to Have Ladies' Day. The community men's club class will hold its third ladies' day at the class hour Sunday at the Arcade. Special music and features are being arranged.

Desolation in Wake of Gigantic Gold Dredges
Automobile tourists through the northern part of California are liable to have their attention attracted to mountains of cobblestones frequently seen. Sometimes these piles are 50 or 60 feet high and several hundred feet long. They are never beautiful and they are not striking in the landscape. In fact, they are eyesores, but there is little prospect of their removal. These piles are the accumulation of the gold dredges, gigantic constructions which eat their way through the mountains, leaving a trail of desolation. Farm lands and orchards are bought up by the operators and left in ruin, for the land is useless for any purpose whatever after the passage of the dredger. These machines cost about a quarter of a million dollars, but the cost of operation is very small. A large quantity of the earth must be treated to recover a small quantity of the yellow metal, but at that the business is very profitable. The stones taken from the soil are useful only to grind up for cement, but the piles standing today will offer crushed stone sufficient for the demands of the entire country for many years.—Washington Star.

Puzzle Presented to English Legal Minds
A barrister contributes to the Times, in a letter, an ingenious and apparently insoluble puzzle, which may be summarized thus: A says to B, I will teach you to be a barrister, half fee now and the other half if you win your first case. B was taught, and called to the bar, but failed to do anything at all for two years. A then said to himself: If I sue him for the installment of my fee, and win the case, he will have to pay me; if I lose, then he has won his first case, and will therefore have to pay me. That seems unanswerable until we get B's view: If A wins, then I have lost my first case and need not pay him; and if he loses, then by the judgment of the court I need not pay him. So that is that; and there is no evident solution.—Weekly Scotsman.

On the Menu
The portly gentleman who had been engaged to sing in the musical program following a dinner at a large restaurant was looking very enraged. He kept scowling at the menu of mixed meats, and to his consternation, his name had been omitted! Approaching one of the organizers he brandished the program furiously, and demanded the reason for the omission. The young fellow whom he approached glanced down at the card, then laughed nervously. "Aren't you Signor Jelly, the singer?" he asked. "Yes," was the reply. "Well, you're not on the menu, being 'Jelly,' said the young chap, 'it appears to have been put on the menu by mistake.'"—Montreal Star.

"Making Good"
The spirit with which you tackle your job is just as important as the mechanical equipment you bring to it. Going at it with your mind set on winning is the first essential to making a success of any work you may undertake.—Grit.

Essential Qualities
Coolness, and absence of heat and haste, in the qualities of a gentleman makes no noise, a lady is serene.—Emerson.

World's Largest Rodent
The capybara is a South American rodent which sometimes reaches a weight of 150 pounds and which is the largest rodent in the world. It is found in many rivers of South America and lives on roots and shoots.

Terrible Interruption
What is more annoying than to become engrossed in a first-rate detective story and be disturbed by a woman somewhere in the house shoveling coal?—Kansas City Times.

Typewriter ribbons, Sentinel.

ANGORA GOATS SEEN PROFITABLE INDUSTRY
A. C. Gage, National Authority, Will Show Educational Films Friday. That prosperity for a large number of owners of cut-over land in the Cottage Grove country lies in the Angora goat industry will be claimed by A. C. Gage, national authority on mohair and editor of Angora Journal, Portland, who will show his Angora goat and mohair films at the regular show at the Arcade tomorrow (Friday) night. This will be in addition to the regular show, which will be in no way curtailed. Much is being said about prosperity that has come to Texas landowners through the mohair industry. There the range is much inferior to that in Oregon, yet there the industry is a ten-million-dollar one, while here it is only a one-million-dollar one. Texas has 85 per cent of the Angora goats of the country, and it is the ambition of Mr. Gage to see his home state pass the record of Texas. He conducted a series of meetings in Lincoln county last week. There the goat industry is being promoted by a former resident of Texas, and the slogan, "Get Going With Goats," has been adopted. Mr. Gage recently returned from an extended eastern trip, during which he showed his goat and mohair films to automobile and furniture manufacturers. Mohair is far superior to wool in wearing qualities and in retaining dyes, and because of its susceptibility to dyeing it can be manufactured in beautiful and outstanding shades. While Angora goats are subject to few ills, yet they prove profitable only when given reasonable care, especially at kidding time. They should not be turned loose to shift for themselves. While they are valuable in clearing land, and feed on many forms of vegetation that other animals disdain, yet some care in feeding is necessary in order to get choice fleeces. While goat meat has never been a popular article of diet, the fact seems to have been merely because no serious attempt has been made to put it on the market as food. In recent years it has had considerable sale, and by many is considered superior to mutton.

O. S. C. BAND TO APPEAR HERE ON FRIDAY, MARCH 21
The Oregon State college military band, which has won the name of being one of the best college bands on the Pacific coast and which will appear here in concert Friday night, March 21, at the high school, has played at every world fair on the Pacific coast since 1900. Captain H. L. Beard, nationally known veteran bandmaster and a former student of the world famous cornetist, Herbert L. Clarke, has directed the band since 1905, with the exception of last year when he was on sabbatical leave in the east. Under his leadership the band has grown stronger year by year until it is now a self-supporting organization. In addition to its appearance at fairs and expositions the band has always taken an annual concert tour during spring vacations. The band also appears at the O. S. C. team's major football games and has won the name of being a well drilled and trained organization. An interesting program has been prepared for the band's appearance here.

Mrs. Alexander Thompson Visits
Mrs. Alexander Thompson of Portland arrived in the city this afternoon to meet women of the city and interest them in the candidacy of Senator Charles Hall for governor. Mrs. Thompson, who is a political speaker of prominence, was a member of several sessions of the Oregon legislature.

Regular meeting Wednesday, to be followed by special meeting Thursday, at which the E. A. degree will be conferred on three candidates. A program of unusual interest and refreshments will follow initiatory work.

Do you think their ads do them any good? Do you trade there? to day!

One Friend Tells Another
We'll bet that Mrs. First Order was surprised at the Reasonable Price.

QUALITY MARKET
Fred J. Anderson, Prop. Free City Delivery Phone 46

DRY WOOD
Special on short pieces of dry slab—6 to 12 inch lengths—$1.75 per load, while it lasts. This wood is dry inside but appears wet to the sight. BLOCK, SLAB AND FOREST—BOTH DRY AND GREEN CITY FUEL COMPANY PHONE 18.

Own Your Own Home
Loans may be had on desirable improved city property direct from us. No bonus or commission. Prompt Service. Easy monthly repayment. Write for information and send photograph of house if possible. The Valley Building and Loan Association Albany, Oregon

Big Hard Time DANCE
MARCH 17 at Mountain View Pavilion on Row River Road A Real Dance—A Real Orchestra DONT MISS THIS ONE Prizes given for best Costumes AL WHITMAN, Prop.

DRY WOOD
Special on short pieces of dry slab—6 to 12 inch lengths—$1.75 per load, while it lasts. This wood is dry inside but appears wet to the sight. BLOCK, SLAB AND FOREST—BOTH DRY AND GREEN CITY FUEL COMPANY PHONE 18.

Own Your Own Home
Loans may be had on desirable improved city property direct from us. No bonus or commission. Prompt Service. Easy monthly repayment. Write for information and send photograph of house if possible. The Valley Building and Loan Association Albany, Oregon

A FRIEND OF FRIENDS
There are all types of friends, true and false. The most common is the "fair weather" friend. But even the truest could not respond more quickly or more willingly in a time of financial need than a well-filled bank book. And you will feel no embarrassment whatever in asking your bank account for help! Any person who will deposit a fixed sum each pay day in the Bank of Cottage Grove will enlist this Friend of Friends and feel sure it will not desert him when help is needed.

Bank of Cottage Grove A STRONG BANK COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON

BRIDES
If you want to show that new husband of yours just what light, fluffy biscuits you can make—try using Sperry Drifted Snow Flour in the recipe!

SPERRY DRIFTED SNOW FLOUR

The Northwest's Largest College Band
Directed by Captain H. L. Beard, Famed military band-master
Appearing in Cottage Grove — Friday, March 21
8 piece collegiate dance band—Vocal and instrumental solos—45 selected musicians—Dazzling uniforms—Comic dialogues—Quartet features—Concert Numbers—Movies.

Concert — High School Gymnasium
7:30 P. M.—50c, 25c
Anspies High School
DANCE — ARMORY
9:00 P. M.—$1.00
Anspies American Legion

Watch for Big Afternoon Street Parade!