Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers, and what I hear over the Radio during the various tooth paste hours. I tell you its a lucky thing for us that peoples teeth are in such bad shape or we never would get any amusement at all. In the old days when we did nothing with our teeth till we died off, why we had no amusement at all. We couldent turn a dial and get our favorites Amos and Andy. Tooth paste has been responsible for more good laughs than Barnums Circus has, and you can use the wrong kind too. According to the announcers, there is various kinds that cause decay, while their kind brings on added growth, so you got to be mighty careful.

Course the best thing in the world in the old days was to chew on a tough piece of steak, or kinder gnaw on and around a bone. But nowadays on account of having to buy so much tooth paste why it dont leave enough to get the steak to whiten and toughen the teeth. A good old rump steak woud give your teeth more exercise and build up a foundation than a steel tooth brush would.

But these lettuce sandwitches just dont offer much resistence to the old Molars and they dont get much exercise on them. Malted Milk over a soda fountain just might as well be inhaled as far as the teeth is concerned. This Caviar assisted by Cocktails is another National dish that dont offer much physical resistance to the eye teeth. In fact as far as the old Tusks are concerned there is really no reason for owning them.

A Wolf has the best looking teeth in the World. They are always white. Even the announcer wont tell you that there is film forms over them. But on the other hand look what the old Coyote misses. He never did hear about Madam Queen, he dont know the King fish from a Setter Pup, He has nothing to console his lonely hours only chewing on some competitor. He has the whitest teeth, but he is not informed on how many times a day the little Baby Wolves should grab a tube of "Never Tarnish" and scrape the wisdom teeth.

If this Country had static for a solid month, there is no telling what would become of people's teeth. But everything is sorter drifting to the sanitary anyhow. In the old days when we wasent so sanitary, why we were strong enough to withstand all the germs. But nowadays we have to be careful of the Microbes for if they get a hold on us we are gone. We are not physically able to withstand em. In the old days as many as wanted to could drink out of one cup, and the last one would just shake his head and swallow down Mike-Robles just as fast as they would acumilate. But now the old individual cup wont go for over one sitting, or it will knock the second individual right into the infested class. The old fashioned Goard that the whole family drank out of from birth till death, would kill off more of the modern population than a war. We just aint built to stand the assults and batteries of an unwrapped-in-paper containers. New handkerchiefs, everything is bundled up separately. Nothing comes in the gross anymore.

But while we have lost in strength and endurance we have gained in amusement and instruction. For there is not an hour of any day that some one on the Air dont keep us warned of what lies in wait for us in case we dont use their remedy. There is just more different things that can happen to us than there used to be. An open cuspidor is not only passe, but its a social horror.

If you think there is not unemployment just look at these E flat golf courses and see the amount of people out of work. It's wonderful exercise. You stand on your feet for hours watching somebody else putt. It's just the old-fashioned pool hall moved outdoors but with no chairs around the wall.

You don't hear so much of prohibition lately. Just drinking for the novelty of the thing has about wore off, and the ones that really liked it and decided to adopt it seriously have just settled down to steady drinking and are keeping pretty quiet about it.

UPPER ROW RIVER.

(By JACK HOWARD.)

August 5.—(Special.) — A letter from Henry Cooper, who left Dorena a few weeks ago with his wife and four sons for California, where they go annually to work in the orchards during picking season, indicates that business conditions are not better than here. There is a reasonably abundant apricot crop, but there appears to be a picker for nearly every apricot.

A trial run has been made at the new little mill recently installed by W. C. Shearer on the John Wicks ranch north of Dorena, but the plant will not be put into active production until the crew completes a truck road down the slope to the Harms creek county road. A 40-foot bridge across the mouth of a draw is now being completed. It is believed that the product of the mill will be handled over this road on trucks without difficulty. The little mill, with Milo Mee, veteran sawyer, in charge of production, turned out some splendid timbers for the road and bridge construction.

The Howard ranch is now without the garden which has been the pride of its owners and which has contributed liberally to the family, and all because of selfishness and lack of gratitude on the part of a deer which the Howards befriended and have several times saved from dogs. In fact, the Howards saved the life of the mother when she was heavy with the faun that has now destroyed the Howard garden. It was eight or nine years ago that dogs chasing the mother, were turned back. She so keenly sensed the friendship and security to be found at the Howard ranch that she often visited the orchard, where she would munch apples from the ground while humans were picking from nearby trees. She always sought the orchard when hard pressed by hunters and dogs, and the Howards never failed to turn back her tormentors. Then the faun came, and it was raised in the orchard. It had the confiding nature of a child, would approach to within a few feet of the home and at night played in the yard.

The mother and faun remained close to the Howard home that winter. Then one day, and for many days, the faun came home alone. The bullet of a closed season hunter had found its mark. A friend said later that he could give the name of a hunter who bragged of having got the pet doe, but the Howards did not want to know.

The orphaned doe preempted the Howard ranch and her appetite was such that a fence had to be put around the garden. One night the gate was forgotten and the contented manner in which the doe the next morning rested chewing her "gum" indicated what had happened to the early cabbage, carrots and such.

New Folders Advertise Oregon.

Two colorful and interesting pieces of litreature advertising Oregon and designed to promote tourist travel to this state have just been published by the Southern Pacific and many thousand copies are being distributed by this company's representatives throughout the United States.

One is a three-color broadside featuring the 100th anniversary of the coming of the first covered wagon train to Oregon. President Hoover's proclamation, calling upon all citizens of the nation to commemorate the event, is graphically displayed on the front cover. The inside pages are devoted to a large layout of Oregon scenic views together with descriptive copy. Headlines urge the reader to "follow the covered wagon to Oregon via the Shasta route of the Southern Pacific."

The other piece is a handsome 16-page folder, "Oregon Outdoors," with cover and center-spread map in four colors. Each page contains large groupings of cuts showing Oregon's scenic grandeur with short paragraphs of crisp description to impress the reader with Oregon's matchless offerings as a place in which to live and play happily.

CREED OF THE CAREFUL MOTORIST

The creed of the careful motorist, as reported to the public safety department of the Oregon State Motor association, is as follows:

I will drive my car as though "half the world was deaf, dumb and blind" and their safety in my keeping.

I will keep my car under control at all times so as to be able to meet any emergency that may arise.

I will keep uppermost in mind the rights and privileges of other drivers and pedestrians and observe the golden rule.

I will slow down at crossings, intersections and schools and other places where care and caution must be used.

I will never pass slower-going vehicles on the brows of hills, around curves or at crossings.

I will signal when about to stop or make a turn out of the traffic line and watch for signals of the cars ahead.

I will adapt my driving to weather and road conditions and be on guard against rain, slippery roads, ruts, obstructions and traffic jams.

I will obey all traffic and parking regulations.

I will make sure the road behind me is clear before backing up, and will give proper signals before pulling away from the curb.

I will practice courtesy at all times.

His Occupation Gone

The chantyman is no more. He was the chorister of the old packet ship. He sang the lines of the chanties and the crew joined in the chorus, performing their tasks as they sang. There were pulling songs, windlass songs, setting and furling sails, pumping the ship out. Some were intended to beguile the men while getting up the anchor.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Kem's for Drugs.

There Is No Substitute

Business training has no substitute, and no matter whether you work for yourself or for others, you will be handicapped without it.

The old idea that the best way is by the road of experience has been exploded, and now we realize that a business education acquired in a good school is most desirable.

The Eugene Business College, which begins its regular Fall Term Tuesday, September 2, is prepared to give this training at a reasonable cost and in as short a time as possible.

Many have already registered and we urge you to do so at once and begin with the class "Tuesday, September 2."

SMALL ACCOUNTS WELCOMED

There is no discrimination at this bank between large and small accounts. One receives the same welcome as the other, receives the same attention as the other. Each receives the same complete banking service that we have to offer. Many of our present large accounts started with small accounts that we welcomed years ago, and the fact that the small accounts have become large ones is in many instances the result of the service that we were able to give the owner of the small account. Don't let the size of our capital and undivided profits make you feel that we cater to big business only. We have grown in large part because the community has grown, and the community can not grow except through the prosperity of the person with a small account as well as the prosperity of the person with a large account.
