ROW RIVER RUMBLES.

(By JACK HOWARD.)

DORENA, Ore., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Emit Kirk, who was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Wicks, Eugene, for three weeks recovering from a broken leg, has returned home. He is on crutches but able to attend to urgent business.

Arthur Bales has completed a private bridge across Harms creek near his home. The bridge is essential for the transportation of his excellent potato crop, nearing the ripening stage. Until this year he has forded the stream, but last year his ford cut deeper and the bridge became necessary.

It is still within the memory of a lot of Row river men when the only means of conveying the products of the fields was the big farm wagon and the draft team. In this age of motor trucks and tractors a hookup of a team to a wagon is uncommon enough to attract attention. Saturday Nye Land was holding the ribbons over a well groomed heavy team hooked to a substantial farm wagon loaded with sacked wheat direct from the field. He swung 'em around just as though he had been doing it every day for the last 20 years and stopped at the warehouse door of the Kirk store at Dorena. Everyone near was attracted by the now somewhat unique rig-up.

John Wicks, one of the early day settlers of Row river, is seriously ill at his home, much of the time confined to his room.

A car of peeled telephone fir poles will be loaded at Dorena early this week from the Emit Kirk stock, recently yarded from the cuttings on the Lee Thomason ranch.

DORENA, Ore., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—Roy F. Garoutte and Ed Lancy have returned from a brief prospecting trip in southern Oregon. They found the country too dry for even an enthused prospector and may possibly return to the diggings after the fall rains. In the meantime Ed will hunt once more for the Blue Bucket in eastern Oregon. He may be accompanied by his brother Steve of Prineville. Later Roy Garoutte may join the prospecting party.

Clarence McLin, well known rancher of this section, is back on his job as offbearer at the Garoutte & Hastings Lumber company mill, which went into commission Friday after a ten-day shutdown. Charles McLin is also on the mill payroll this week.

Grant Bales, one of the old-time ranchers and orchardists of the Harms creek section, who can't quite give up his early day occupation of timberman, and who has been home for a few days from the W. A. Woodard Lumber company camp while a new setting is being made, will return to his work the last of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shivers and little son Jack Jr., who had made Cottage Grove their home for two years, left by auto the last of the week enroute to their former home, Phoenix, Ariz., where Mr. Shiver's parents reside. They may stop at Sacramento for a time, if work in Mr. Shiver's line justifies. Jack is a patent roof layer and a truck driver. For six months before leaving he was lumber truck driver for the Garoutte & Hastings Lumber company.

Ford

75,000 MILES IN A MODEL A FORD

Letter from salesman shows reliability and economy of the car

IN THE past two years, many new Fords have been driven 50,000, 75,000 and even 100,000 miles. Everywhere the car has made an unusual record for reliability and economy. Following is a letter — one among many received — from a salesman who travels long distances daily by automobile.

"I purchased a Model A Coupe May 8, 1928, and at this writing have run it 75,888 miles.

"After I had driven 44,400 miles, I spent $45.08 in repairs and at 61,000 miles had an additional amount of work done costing $25.60. My tire mileage has averaged better than 18,000 miles.

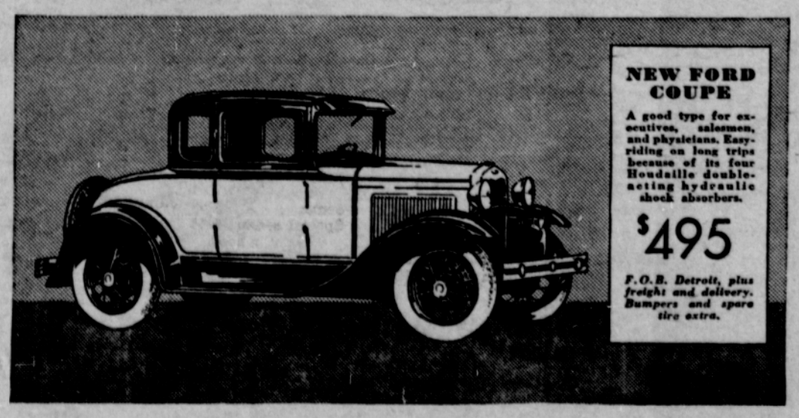
"I am a traveling man and my territory is from northern Virginia to Macon, Mississippi, and from Knoxville, Tennessee, to the Atlantic Ocean."

Similar tributes to the new Ford come to us daily from individual owners, from Federal and City Bureaus and from large industrial companies having fleets of several hundred cars.

They have found, as you will find, that the low cost of operation and up-keep on the Ford is even more important than the low first cost of the car. In twenty, thirty, or fifty thousand miles, this saving frequently amounts to hundreds of dollars. The quality that has been built into the car is reflected in its good performance and long life.

See the Ford dealer and have him take you for a demonstration ride in the new Ford. Give the car a severe test in traffic, on steep hills and on the open road. Check up on comfort, safety, speed, power, acceleration. Talk with Ford owners and experienced garage men and note what they say about reliability and economy.

Then you will know, from your own experience, that the new Ford brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.



NEW FORD COUPE
A good type for executives, salesmen, and physicians. Easy-riding on long trips because of its four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers.
