Students at O. A. C. Pay Own Way

Eighty-nine per cent of men students and 44 per cent of co-eds at Oregon State college are making their own way through school in whole or in part according to figures compiled by the registrar. Forty two per cent of the men, 14 per cent of the women, or 33 per cent of the entire student body are entirely "on their own" and not dependent on others for their education, the report shows.

The man student entirely dependent is a rare individual at O. S. C. as only one in 10 is not making at least part of his own way. Eighteen per cent are less than half self-supporting, while 29 per cent make more than half but not all their expenses. Fifty-six per cent of the girls get all their money from home, 14 per cent make some of their way and 16 per cent make more than half but not all.

Though all the self-supporting students work in the summer, many also make much of their expenses during the school year, as shown by the report of Mrs. V. L. Howard, employment secretary of the campus Y. M. C. A. Last year the "Y" found jobs for 1203 boys which returned them more than $40,000.

Coast Fork Farmers Union Gives Program

An interesting program provided by various communities of the district was given Thursday evening of last week at an open meeting of Coast Fork local of the Farmers' union. A short business meeting preceded the program.

Two orchestra numbers, "Bachelor Girls" and "West High," were played by the community orchestra from Litham. A vocal solo by little Betty Jo Perini, accompanied by Maxine Rohde, and a solo by Mrs. Lundy Woodson, accompanied by Ethel Mackey, were numbers furnished by the Divide Social Neighbors. A song with actions was sung by little Lois Culver of Hebron. Two humorous readings by Francis Horn, student in animal husbandry at O. S. C., were contributions of Creswell local. A short talk was given by Dr. H. A. Hagen on "The Care and Prevention of Disease and Enlarged Tonsils." Two concluding orchestra numbers, "On the Hike" and "Field of Glory," were played by the Litham orchestra.

Mrs. Hugh Trunnell was in charge of the program.

Deputy Inspector Tells Of Grades for Potatoes

Object of Inspection Is to Give Oregon Tubers High Place on Markets.

Of interest to dealers in potatoes, whether retailers or growers, is the fact that an intensive inspection campaign, authorized by Seymour Jones, state market agent, is now in progress in the state and that emphasis will be placed on the proper branding of sacks, boxes and displays of potatoes. Deputy State Inspector C. A. Cunningham was here Tuesday and a check will be held shortly in this district. Mr. Cunningham reported that compliance with the law on the part of retailers is fairly satisfactory but that the situation on the part of growers is distinctly otherwise.

To comply with the requirements of law, growers and other dealers must grade their potatoes in conformity with established grades, which are U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2. Potatoes failing to meet one or the other of these requirements must be branded culls.

To be in strict compliance with requirements, growers, retailers and dealers must brand their sacks or other containers of potatoes offered for sale as follows: Name of state where grown; grade of potatoes in container; name and address or brand of grower or dealer. Where the sack or other container has 100 pounds or more, the letters or figures printed or stenciled thereon shall be not less than two inches in height; where the container has less than 100 and more than 50 pounds, letters and figures shall be not less than one inch in height and on containers of less than 50 pounds shall be not less than one-half inch in height.

This law has been in effect for nearly a year; its purpose is to bring merchandising of potatoes by grade to such a point as will insure Oregon growers a local and export trade with a dependable product that will meet competition and stem intrusion of out-of-state brands of potatoes, thereby strengthening the whole industry. Under full compliance the grower under a dependable product and get a just price for the grade he sells, and the retailer will be able to give his patrons full satisfaction. For the housewife will know exactly what she is buying.

Calapooya Is to Have Rodeo on Labor Day

As part of the plan to again make Calapooya springs a popular outing place, a rodeo is to be held there Sunday and Monday, August 31 and September 1, the latter day being Labor day. "Field of Glory" will be there with 75 or 80 head of rodeo stock. He will have with him some of the best cowboys and cowgirls of the west and will be assisted by Guy Ray, well known in this section as a rodeo man.

The race track and grand stand are being rebuilt and various improvements are being made to the springs buildings and grounds to make the resort attractive and inviting. Swimming tank showers and baths are being refitted. Residents of Douglas county can now reach the springs by way of the Shoestring road.

M. E. Sunday School Has Picnic.

The annual Sunday school picnic of the Methodist church was held Tuesday afternoon and evening at the old camp meeting grounds and a large number attended. The young people who had gone out in the afternoon were joined by the adult department at a 6 o'clock supper. Games and sports, in charge of Mrs. A. G. Sprankle and Mrs. C. E. Umphrey, followed the supper. Pearl Monroe and Ruth Aldrich were in charge of games for the primary department and Dorothy Umphrey and Dorothy Stewart for the intermediate department.

Prizes were awarded to Kathleen Moore, Edwin Cole, Eugene Sprankle, Ellen Arnett and Rev. Ira R. Aldrich as winners in sack races. Prize winners in the running races were Robert Grannis, Darrel Woodard, Dorothy Siemann and Eugene Sprankle. Umphrey & Mackin donated the prizes.

There Is No Substitute

Business training has no substitute, and no matter whether you work for yourself or for others, you will be handicapped without it.

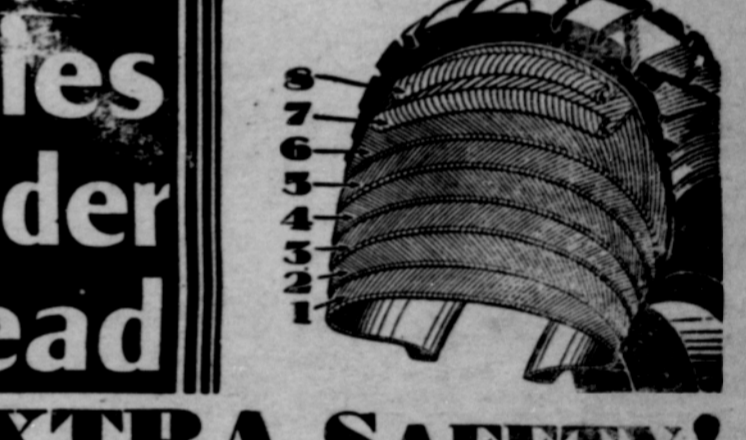

The old idea that the best way is by the road of experience has been exploded, and now we realize that a business education acquired in a good school is most desirable.

The Eugene Business College, which begins its regular Fall Term Tuesday, September 2, is prepared to give this training at a reasonable cost and in as short a time as possible. Many have already registered and we urge you to do so at once and begin with the class "Tuesday, September 2."
