Famous Santa Fe Trail Linked With Coronado. It was in 1541 that Coronado followed the future line of the Santa Fe trail, making his way to the site of Wichita, and that date, though the suggestion as to earlier years falls to get response, deserves some sort of commemoration. The Santa Fe trail, or portions of it, not known by the name of Santa Fe trail until after Coronado's day—perhaps descending from the North, perhaps coming up out of the crowded, old civilizations of the South—but its known history began with Coronado.

And what a history it was through more than 300 years! It was the first of the great beaten tracks which joined the American East and West. It never appeared in popular routes that went from the Mississippi to Oregon and California, nor was its traffic notable for the riches carried. But where the ancient trails went into an almost virgin territory, the Santa Fe trail linked two opposing civilizations.

West and south along its course, following the pioneers, the traders and the buffalo hunters, west that side from the Middle West which battled and finally supplanted and transplanted traditions and life of far-off Spain.—Boston Herald.

Conventional Idea of Lightning Found Wrong. At a meeting of the British Association in an attendance against the science in 1851 the Scottish engineer, James Nasmyth, son of a landscape painter, stated that "in no instance among the many thunderstorms whose progress he had observed attentively watched had he ever observed such forms of lightning as that usually represented in works of art; in all such the zigzags invariably adopt a conventional form, namely that of a zigzag combination of straight lines."

Pipe Laid in Gas Work Totals Over 18,000 Feet. That work is progressing satisfactorily on the installation of a gas distribution system in this city by the Natural Gas Corporation of Oregon is shown by the fact that 18,483 feet of pipe have been laid so far. Of this amount 7288 feet is 4-inch pipe and 11,195 is 2-inch pipe. Approximately 100 men are now employed in the work, another crew having been added this week to the crew originally employed. It is anticipated that plant building construction will get under way about the first of February.

Every effort will be made to speed up construction work and to complete this job at the earliest possible date, states H. Milikin, local representative of the company. Recently rates were filed with the Oregon Public Service commission. A table of rates follows: First 300 cubic feet or less per meter per month, $1.80; next 3700 cubic feet per meter per month, 17.5c per 100 c. f.; next 4000 cubic feet per meter per month, 12.5 per 100 c. f.; all over 8000 cubic feet per meter per month, 10c per 100 c. f.

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS HIGHWAY SAFETY PATROL. A highway safety patrol, comprising a group of school boys, is being organized by the American Legion as a part of its Americanization and highway safety programs. Ten boys will form a patrol and will be on duty in the safety cases and during school hours. The Gilmore Oil company has agreed to furnish white San Brown patrol uniforms. The Legion bells for the patrol are in the hands of the patrol and will be distributed as soon as the uniform equipment arrives, the committee announced. Plans are in charge of D. A. Emerson, chairman of Americanization in the local post; Heron Maule, district chairman of Americanization; P. E. Nelson, post chairman of highway safety.
