La Mescredi Pont club met for a no-homes luncheon at the Colonial Wednesday of last week. The afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Fred Anderson, where bridge was the entertaining feature.

The Lee triplets, Robert, Virginia and Albert, children of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Lee, celebrated their fifth birthday anniversaries Wednesday of last week when a group of their young friends were invited to spend the afternoon at the home. The play hour was spent with games and later refreshments were served.

The Unity club met Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. William Beck. Mrs. Snapp of Walker was leader of the meeting. A report was received and read from Miss Mildred Baker, leader of the Good Words club. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served. Special guests of the club were Mrs. Viola Walker and Mrs. Theima Sharp Turner.

Mrs. William Thum entertained the Joker club at her home Friday night. Bridge was played during the evening and Mrs. James P. Graham held high score. Following bridge dainty refreshments were served. Additional guests invited for the evening were Mrs. Graham, Mrs. D. A. Emerson, Mrs. O. M. Kem and Mrs. Effie Knowles.

The Constellation club met Thursday afternoon of last week at Masonic hall. Plans were completed for a bridge benefit to be held Thursday night, March 5. Following a social afternoon, a dainty luncheon was served. Red carnations and pussywillows were attractive decorations. The hostess committee was composed of Mrs. Schofield Stewart, Mrs. H. A. Hagen, Mrs. C. F. Hoskins and Mrs. Myrtle Woods. The next meeting of the club will be the afternoon of March 5. Mrs. D. H. Hemenway will be chairman of the hostess committee.

Mrs. H. A. Miller and Miss Eunice Vandenberg entertained the Tullium club Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Miller. At the close of an evening of five hundred refreshments were served. Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Swanson.

The Past Matrons club was entertained Monday at the home of Mrs. Clara E. Harkness. Mrs. Nelson Durham and Mrs. Burkholder as joint hostesses. Special guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Anna Rohde Wellens of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Mrs. Nancy Taylor. At the close of the afternoon delicious refreshments were served. Miss Belle Burkholder assisted in serving. A centerpiece of spring flowers made the luncheon table especially attractive and the main speaker. A program is being arranged.

The Elmarites club were guests Tuesday of Mrs. Charles Hall, who entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon at the Colonial. An afternoon of bridge followed and high score was held by Mrs. Victor Chambers. Red carnations and ferns were colorful decorations. The club will meet next with Mrs. George Matheis for a 1 o'clock luncheon at her home.

Officers of the Book and Basket club were hostesses for a formal reception luncheon held at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Miss Helen Aldrich, president of the club. Short talks, explaining the object of the club, were given by the officers. Lavender and gold, the club colors, were used for a decorative color scheme in the dining room. A bowl of violets formed an attractive centerpiece for the table. A social evening followed. Genevieve Meranda, Gertrude Cochran, Lisa Cooley, Elizabeth Windham and Genevieve Mulvihill were the new members honored.

Members of the La Comus club motored to Eugene last Tuesday and were entertained for the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Metcalf, a former member. Following a social afternoon with needlework, a dainty luncheon was served.

Miss Jean Allison, complimenting Wilberta Wilson on her birthday anniversary, entertained with three tables of bridge at the Allison home Saturday night. The honored guest received a monetary and useful gifts. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served. Those present besides the honor guest were Jennie Burrows, Margaret Wilson, Harriet Wiseman, Rose Brydage, Verda Brundage, Connie Hub, Ineson, Frances Randall, Carolyn Grannis, Alice Allison and Beth Bede.

The ladies aid society of the Christian church met Wednesday of last week in the church parlors. Thirty-five members and two guests were present. Plans were made to have the elderly ladies of the church as special guests at the aid meeting in March. Mrs. Grace Thiel, Mrs. Ada Oakes and Mrs. T. Boyd were appointed a committee to arrange for a program. It was voted to have an old time social at the church Friday, February 27. When each person attending will be asked to come in old fashioned costume. Packages will be sold. Refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Malinda Aubrey, Mrs. Clara M. Brown, Mrs. Fred Seider and Mrs. Stella Baker.

The Research club at its meeting Tuesday night continued the study of South America with Mrs. Stella Baker as program leader. Mrs. Baker spoke on Chile as a republic. Mrs. Ira Isom gave the history of Chile and also explained its form of government. Mrs. Helen Bosley gave an interesting talk on the waterfront, harbors and rivers of Chile. Mrs. C. R. Dear told of its principal cities. Members answered to roll call with current events. Articles were contributed for the loan closet of the public health group.

The Utopia club will be entertained next Thursday at the home of Mrs. Vinal Randall.

The study of negro life was continued by the Tuesday Study club at its meeting Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. J. H. Chambers and Mrs. Elbert Smith were in charge of the program. Mrs. Chambers spoke of early negro poets, giving a synopsis of the lives and reviewing the works of 12 outstanding poets. Mrs. Smith gave the background for the negro poetry and pictured the negro quarters in the Harlem section of New York City. She also reviewed the lives and books of two poets, Countee Cullen and Langston Hughes. A short business meeting was held.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mackin entertained with a rook party Tuesday night. Following a delightful social evening, delicious refreshments were served. Pink was an attractive color scheme for the table and a bouquet of carnations formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. H. C. Wells was a charming hostess Thursday of last week when she entertained two groups for bridge. Carnations and daffodils with potted plants and pussywillows made the rooms especially attractive. In the afternoon Mrs. George and Mrs. H. C. Wells, and in the evening Mrs. Schofield Stewart was high. Dainty refreshments were served following bridge.

Mrs. James P. Graham entertained Wednesday night with a delightful bridge party at her home on South River road. Four tables were formed and prizes were given to Mrs. S. V. Allison for high score, Mrs. T. C. Wheeler for second high and Miss Edith Silby for table and bouquet of carnations. A pleasant surprise of the evening honored Miss Silby, when the hostess presented her with a beautiful birthday cake with lighted candles for her birthday anniversary. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Nancy Oglesby. In keeping with the Valentine season the rooms were artistically decorated with a profusion of red hearts suspended from the ceiling in streamers and baskets of pussywillows were effectively placed. The Valentine idea was also predominant in serving. Luncheon sets with cupid and red heart design were used and heart shape candies were a part of the menu.

The Girls' Guild of the Baptist church entertained with a progressive dinner Monday night. The first course was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Safley and was followed by the main dinner course at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Leonard. The third course was served at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Randle. The tables were attractive with centerpieces of violets and menu placecards were of clever design. The evening was spent with music and progressive games.

The Tuesday Bridge club will entertain their husbands with a 7 o'clock dinner Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lombard. The dinner party will take place at the regular afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Norton, generally attractive and the main speaker. A program is being arranged.

The Delphian Society met Monday, February 2, and continued the study of early music of old world countries. Mrs. John Kelly as program leader talked on the topic, "The First Standardized Christian Music," by Aherr. The following program was given: "Hucbald's Organum," Mrs. C. E. Umphrey; "Historical Forces in Music," Mrs. Ray Trask; general discussion of the following topics: "The Gregorian Liturgy," "Gregorian Music," "Guido's Solmization," and "Medieval Musical Notation." Mrs. F. E. Mendelhall reviewed the book, "The Heroine of the Prairie," by Sheba Hargrave. Mrs. Elbert Bede gave current event topics. The club voted contributions to the student loan fund and to the public health group. Mrs. R. H. Fields was a club guest.

Mrs. H. A. Miller will entertain the O. L. H. club at her home this afternoon (Friday).

Mrs. O. L. Nichols will be hostess for the M. P. G. club Tuesday afternoon.

The monthly social night of the Neighbors of Woodcraft was observed at the close of their business meeting Wednesday. The hall was effectively decorated in keeping with the Valentine motif. Dainty refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. J. H. Bartels, Mrs. William Ostrander, Mrs. William Bartels and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Burrows.

At a meeting of the Campfire girls Wednesday, Mrs. Duncan P. Cameron was appointed guardian for the ensuing year. Plans were made for a country hike to Devil's Canyon February 25. The group will start at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The Order of Rainbow for Girls sponsored a bridge benefit tea Friday afternoon at Masonic hall. Nine tables were in play and Mrs. W. E. Lebow held high score and Mrs. George McQueen held second high. A short program of musical numbers by the high school girls' sextet, accompanied at the piano by Evelyn Smith, and two readings by Jennie Burrows was presented. At the tea, delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. S. L. Godard was in charge of arrangements and was assisted by a group of the girls.

The women's relief corps has invited the public to attend their meeting Saturday afternoon, February 14, when the birthday anniversaries of Mr. George Washington and Abraham Lincoln will be observed. The meeting has been called for 2 o'clock and the following program will be given: Reading, Mrs. Ada Oakes; Mrs. Grace Bennett and Miss Versie McCoy; violin music, John Nokes; banjo selections, Roy Riggs; address, Mrs. L. H. Randle; singing by the audience.

Mrs. Nelson Durham, Mrs. Clara Burkholder and Miss Belle Burkholder entertained at bridge Monday night at the Burkholder home complimenting Mrs. Anna Rohde Wellens of Beverly Hills, Cal. The rooms were especially attractive with baskets of pussywillows. Porch urns with giant pansies and violets in full bloom which had grown out of doors all winter attracted the admiration of the guests. At bridge Mrs. Joe Smith received high score prize which was a large angel food cake baked by Mrs. Nelson Durham. Mrs. Wellens received a special guest prize. Following bridge dainty refreshments were served.

"Apple Pie Dowry" The choice as to the most characteristic historical American dish seems to lie among pie, baked beans, spoonbread, or molasses cake. At a national food show a form of pie was chosen. It was New England apple pie dowry. This is made in a deep dish. Tart apples are sliced into the dish, sprinkled with maple sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg and a pinch of salt. Pieces of butter are dotted over it, and a rich pie crust added. It should be baked slowly to be sure apples are thoroughly cooked.

Domesticity at Large In one of the night clubs recently a gentleman and a lady were quietly supping when another lady entered, strode up to the man, fixed her eye on him coldly, and said: "I may be your wife, but—ah, pluck up the tomato bisque before him, poured it over his shirt-front. We report this rowdy incident only to call the attention of the Humaniests to the masterly way in which the head waiter met the emergency. With suave approach he admonished the wife: "Madame, the place for that is in the home."—The New Yorker.

Line Forms at Right A magazine writer says that "Any American girl with $30,000 a year in her own right can marry the best there is in Europe. And that isn't all the story—not by means. Any American girl with that much money can take her pick right here in the United States."—Shreveport Journal.

Old Superstitions Find Firm Belief in Sicily Sicily is still a land of superstitions, most of them worthy of the Middle Ages. The traveler who believes that a country loses its individuality when superstition succumbs to schools and sewers, will find in Sicily an adherence to the old beliefs unequalled in Europe, except, possibly, in the Balkans. You Sicilian peasant would regard an American fundamentalist (if he ever had heard of one) as an advanced radical. E. J. Cooper writes in the Mentor-World Traveler.

All Souls' day, celebrated more or less throughout Christendom, is a day of particular significance in Sicily. On the night of All Souls' day the dead leave their graves, and one who is near a graveyard at nightfall is likely to see the departed of his village, the purified souls in white, the condemned in black, and the ghosts of those murdered in robes of red. Arriving at their former homes, these spirits change themselves into ants in order to creep into the houses. To guard against their presence the Sicilian closes every door and window of the house. Apparently some Sicilians believe that the dead are abroad every night, for throughout the year doors and windows are tightly closed at nightfall.

Sunniest Spot on Continent Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution have selected Table Mountain, 100 miles from Los Angeles, as the location of their solar observatory because the mountain is believed to be the sunniest spot in North America, although not the hottest, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Righteousness The man of high station without righteousness is a menace to the state; the common man who has courage without righteousness is nothing more than a brigand.—Confucius.

Electricity brings you Hot and Cold water at a turn of a faucet

If you are already using electricity or if you are within reach of a power line, you can't afford to waste time carrying water. Why spend your strength on a hard task that electricity can do at so small a cost?

A pump, driven by an electric motor, will deliver running water to any part of the house—wherever you want it. An electric water heater will supply all the hot water you can use—instantly—at any hour of the day or night. An electric dishwasher will save many hours of unpleasant labor during the week.

And there are many other ways in which electricity helps and economizes on the farm—thus saving your time and strength for more profitable work.
