SHE TURNS THE CORNER.
 The advance in prices of wheat, corn, cotton, silver and other commodities means that we are going to have to pay higher prices for the necessities of life, but it also means that we are going to have the money with which to pay those higher prices. Already the reaction has been to put thousands of men back on payrolls.
 There has even been a slight improvement in demand for lumber and that means much to this lumbering section, although there has as yet been no upward trend in prices.
 Many said that when an upward turn came it might come overnight. That's about the way it did come, but the recovery will yet be slow. Those going back to work are going to pay their debts before buying many of the luxuries, but the psychological effect of higher prices will do much to loosen up the pursestrings of those who have no real reason not to buy the things they need. There are many on regular salaries who are in a better financial condition than they have ever been. When recovery seems certain they are likely to start buying what they have postponed purchasing because of uncertainty of their positions, and gradually money will loosen and flow through the channels of trade.
 It now seems certain that within six months there should be a change that will be appreciable, and there are none of us who won't welcome it.

SOME DON'T WANT WORK.
 That times like these are a picnic for the professional hobo and the professional loafer was illustrated by a recent incident in Minneapolis when one-fourth of those offered jobs at 68 cents the hour refused to accept the jobs.
 Of course we aren't going to let even the professional loafer's job starve, but it is incidents like this that make it difficult to raise funds for charity. It is incidents like this that make administration of charity funds difficult. The deserving often must suffer because of the sins of those who won't try to help themselves. When a person asks these days for something to eat, it is difficult to say no, or to refer him to the community chest, yet we all know that often we help those who even in prosperous times would be willing to accept charity.
 As a result of this incident, Minneapolis authorities are talking of sending to the rockpile all those with families who refuse to accept jobs at 68 cents an hour. There are plenty in Cottage Grove who would accept those jobs. There are plenty who formerly got larger wages than that who are now working for less than that. There are few, if any, in Cottage Grove who are willing to work who refuse to accept a job that promises to keep them from asking charity.
 There are plenty of deserving everywhere, and those with jobs, with their incomes greatly reduced, are having all they can do to look after the deserving needy. The rockpile is the proper place for those who in times like these won't accept jobs at 68 cents an hour to keep food and fuel in the home.

GASOLINE AND OATS.
 Farmers are beginning to realize that gasoline-operated machinery is responsible for a lot of their troubles, and reports are frequent of their going back to the horse.
 A resident here who recently visited in Iowa, said that many farmers there had discarded their tractors and were marketing a large part of their crop by feeding it to the horses with which they operate their machinery. They realized that there would be a shortage of grain now, instead of a surplus, if farm horses had consumed the millions of bushels they did a few years ago.
 A horse raiser who recently visited in Portland told of a rancher who ran three combines this year, one with a tractor and two with horse teams, and found that he operated the two horse-drawn machines at the same cost as the one gasoline driven machine. The horse breeder expects to see the horse market come back strong. If it does, the grain market will be immediately affected and there won't be any need for a farm board to look after the surplus.

There are a lot of persons who need to take up golf just to learn courtesy, says the Cottage Grove Sentinel. Quite right. And there are a lot more people already playing golf who need it a good deal more.
 Curviss, the "Cheetah" Times' friend, Claudius Clair Ingalls, must have been playing recently when some fellows behind asked if they could play through and then didn't keep out of the way.
 This newspaper can not be accused of being even faintly democratic in politics, but we are more than pleased to note that the probable democratic control of the next house has not stopped the advance in prices of wheat, corn, cotton, silver and other commodities.
 A male stork in a California zoo has built himself a nest and is trying to hatch two rocks which he has substituted for eggs. We are reaching the stage where we are likely to need storks hatched from rocks if they are going to try to make deliveries.
 A minister has gained considerable publicity by his statement that modern jazz is one of the best preachers we have. This writer detests jazz but if he had ever listened to this preacher he probably would admit that jazz beats some preaching.
 A girl's milking contest arranged as a homecoming feature by the Minnesota ag college was a failure because none of the girls knew how to milk. The reason kids go to college is to learn not to have to do menial tasks.
 The difficulty experienced in finding the person responsible for keeping Lillard off the University of Oregon football lineup leads us to believe that there must be a gentleman of Lillard's color in the woodpile.
 A San Francisco teacher, retiring at the age of 70, after teaching 50 years, says the girl of today is the same as her mother was when a girl. That's a great relief to us fathers.
 We used to have the sick man of Europe, and now we have the II Duce.

Our Better Days
 A correspondent wants to know what gave rise to the modern fashion of handshaking as a greeting. It is a gradual evolution from the days when savage right hands went out instinctively with a weapon when strangers approached.

Has This to Say:
HOWDY FOLKS—Armistice Day. What memories that brings back. Well, in the last 13 years we have changed our minds about everything except second lieutenants.
OR THE ENTERTAINMENT VALUE OF RADIO. PUBLIC OPINION IS MORE AND MORE FIXED ON THIS.
 The prize boob has been located. She thought she was to spend her honeymoon in France because her betrothed told her that after they were married he would show her where he was wounded in the war.
 A scientist predicts that the next war will be fought with machinery. We think that's a tough break for the shavetails.
 In observance of Armistice Day Cottage Grove married couples are requested to cease fighting for one minute beginning at 11 o'clock.

 One of the boys in the barber shop said he had a half a mind to get married. Well, a half a mind is about all a man has when he gets married.
WE WONDER: If this Chinese trouble is the start of another world war. They say that's what we need to restore prosperity.

 Mr. Carlson, a western coast field representative of the Red Cross, addressed the assembly Wednesday morning on the principles of first aid.
 Mr. Carlson brought out the fact that in an accident first aid should always be considered before transportation to a doctor or hospital. He said the first thing to take care of in accidents is arterial hemorrhages; second, artificial respiration; third, shocks; fourth, wounds; fifth, broken bones.
 Artificial respiration has been used for 20,000 cases so far this year. Two hundred persons have been killed in highway accidents this year.

 The rooks of the F. F. A. became full fledged hayseeds Thursday night when they were initiated into the organization. Among initiatory stunts were a scramble for shoes, a game of football played on a slippery floor, several boxing and wrestling matches in which Mr. Lafky participated. The party then moved to Mr. Lafky's home, where a cracker eating contest was held, James Hemenway winning. Refreshments were served.
