WELCOME, EAGLES!
 The Eagles are here for their annual three-day state convention. They're a splendid bunch of fellows, and they have their wives and sweethearts with them. The city is theirs.
 This is Cottage Grove's first experience in entertaining a state convention of a great fraternal society, and it is enjoying the experience. We hope the delegates like our city and that they will come again. We can assure Burns, which will be the convention city next year, that they have a pleasant experience in store.
 The Sentinel wishes to pay highest compliments to the local aerie, which secured the state convention for this city, and which has made all arrangements for the big doings without asking business interests to chip into a jackpot. To finance a state convention in normal times is a huge task. To finance one in a year such as this is a herculean task, and the local committees have shown of what stuff Eagles are made.

The entertainment program is complete and visitors need not be idle a minute. Most of the entertainment is free and all of it is high class and in keeping with the aims of a great fraternity.
 Welcome, Eagles, and may you recognize fully the qualities of the membership of the local aerie which has made possible one of the greatest conventions in the history of the order in the state.

PAYING THE BONUS.
 No issue is of greater moment than whether the federal government shall pay the bonus and how. The Sentinel has seen no clearer explanation of the issue than that appearing recently in the Salem Capital Journal, which is more caustic in its comment than the Sentinel would be, but the editorial is herewith printed in full:
 "The drive on Washington by the 'bonus armies' of ex-service men to intimidate and coerce congress by mass pressure into paying from a bankrupt treasury $2,200,000,000 to able bodied men for adjusted compensation not due until 1945 is a strange exhibition of patriotism. But as many of them seem to think that the money is already piled-up and they are simply demanding their rights, it is well to get the matter straight, lest the general public also be misled by the clamor."
 "In 1924 the adjusted compensation act was passed by congress. The amount provided and agreed upon by the veteran organizations as proper adjustment of their compensation for services in the world war was later increased by congress 25 per cent above the veterans' demands. This amount, $1,407,000,000, was then taken as a sum invested in 20 year endowment policies of life insurance which at maturity in 1945 would be valued at $2,513,000,000, at which time they were to be paid in full. The budget of the federal government was to provide out of taxation each year the necessary sums to carry out the payments on these endowment policies."
 "There was a provision in the law that veterans could borrow 90 per cent of the reserve values of their certificates at any time. Last year a bill was passed allowing loans of 50 per cent or more of the 1945 value of these certificates, and the money was loaned before it had been provided for by the annual budgets as intended under the law of 1924. And the 1931 law over $900,000,000 in cash has already been paid, which with the earlier loans on the reserve value of the certificates, now makes a total of $1,300,000,000 paid to veterans—and nearly the aggregate amount voted in the 1924 bill."
 "The 'bonus armies' are demanding that the balance of these adjusted service certificates be paid immediately instead of waiting until they are due in 1945. The budget has contributed to the bonus fund but seven of the 20 annual installments. Not only is there no money in the bonus fund, but the interest on the loans made for the next 13 years before maturity is also not there, and to cash these certificates at their 1945 value will require an appropriation of over $2,200,000,000. Already $1,300,000,000 has been taken out, instead of the $1,000,000,000 contemplated under the 1925 law and now $2,200,000,000 more is demanded."
 "The ex-service men are demanding payment of this money before it is due under the law. Such a drain on the treasury would be bad enough in normal times, but under the present conditions spells disaster and an indefinite prolongation of the depression. The money would be spent in a few weeks, as the 50 per cent already received has been, and the veterans be without safeguards for the future. Then will come a similar drive for pensions."

The Sentinel, like hundreds of thousands of others, would like to see veterans who need the money paid and many of them believe that many in the "armies" are not American Legion men at all.
 The warp and woof of the Legion feel that they owe just as much to their country now as they did when they took up arms to save it from its military enemies, and these should not be criticized for the actions of those who make demands which it may be impossible to approve and who make demands in a manner that is out of harmony with past services to the country of the membership of the American Legion.
 The easiest way to beat the move to make a girls' boarding house out of the university and to put roller skates under the various educational institutions of the state is to refuse to sign the initiative petitions when they appear. There is no good reason why the communities in which institutions of higher learning are located should be put to the tremendous expense of fighting a battle to keep such a measure from getting approval. The newspapers of the state are not seeking money by baiting the communities that have the educational institutions. If you're opposed to moving the university and other educational institutions, refuse to sign the petitions.
 The republican platform will contain a "wet" plank as a matter of expediency, the leaders believing the democratic platform will have such a plank. That may be a good move, politically speaking, for the drys ought to stick to Hoover in preference to anyone likely to get the republican nomination. Although Hoover has acquiesced to the "resubmission" plank, he remains at heart a militant dry. But wouldn't it be a joke if the democrats should insert a bone dry plank?

Note that the depression is breaking: Already nearly 25,000 persons have visited Crater lake park this season, and they have to travel between snow banks to get there.
 Bradstreet tells us that business is looking up. Inasmuch as it is flat on its back, that is the only way it can look.

Fat Man Reduces 53 Pounds—Oh Boy!
 Don't be stubborn, you big fat men—throw off your fat before your fat throws you into the discard. Do as Mr. S. A. Lanier of Sausalito, Calif., did—read his letter: "I have used two reducing belts to no benefit but since using Kruschen Salts each morning in my coffee I have taken off 7 lbs. in a week and eat most anything I like. I weighed 243 lbs. 6 months ago and now I weigh 190 lbs."
 Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—now you know the safe way to lose unsightly fat.
 For a trifling sum you can get a jar of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks at Cottage Grove Pharmacy—but be sure and get Kruschen—your health comes first. (5)
