Vital Links

SWIFT & COMPANY daily purchases many tons of poultry, eggs and dairy products from farmers. Its interest does not end by shipping this produce to a few big city warehouses, there to await the development of demand.

Demand seldom stands on the rooftop and yells for Supply to come into the house.

That's why, every morning thousands of Swift & Company Branch House and Car Route salesmen start out to sell poultry, butter, eggs and meat.

Perhaps these salesmen do not create demand, but they hunt for it with fine tooth combs; they stir it; they dig it up. When they find Demand, they turn it over to farm producers who sell to Swift & Company.

It is to the salesmen's interest to discover new outlets, to expand the old ones, to let the organization know which markets are best. Their incomes, their advancement, depend on how well they sell.

Salesmen are vital links in a human chain that reaches back to the produce plant manager and his helpers. Every man strives to better himself by selling more and by cutting the cost of handling.

The Swift & Company national market was made by digging up demand wherever it exists in the United States, by advertising brands of high quality. Swift's Meats, Swift's Premium Milk Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products. Local glut and shortages are known, and Swift's products are then distributed to the best advantage. By having the same railroad cars equipped to transport produce or meat; by having the same salesmen sell produce and meat on the same order, important economies have been achieved. Costs are spread more thinly for livestock men and produce men alike.

Unflagging interest that begins with a purchase from a farmer and continues until his produce is in a retail store—and in demand by a consumer—that is Swift & Company service. The charges for it are low. Profits over a period of years, have averaged less than a half cent a pound of all products sold.
