LUMBER FUTURE STILL OBSCURE

Forward Buying Strikes Solid Bottom; Rapid Recovery Not Expected Soon.

With both production and demand at the lowest point reached during the past 12 months and everyone accepting this situation as a seasonal condition, it is almost impossible to get together enough active forces to gain any idea as to what the lumber future holds for the lumber market.
At least one market factor has struck a true and solid bottom. That is forward buying, usually seen at this time of the year. A marked reduction in advance payments by line yards was seen in 1929 through December and January, 1930.

Every condition prior to the holiday was ideal to cause a stiffening in the price of cutting. The beginning of December saw most of the mills with more business of that nature on their books than they had had in a long while and then came an extended period of low temperatures which closed a majority of the mills and greatly reduced the efficiency of those that were trying to operate.
This continued until just prior to the Christmas shutdowns which most mills had planned to observe.

Everyone is now trying to arrive at some idea as to what the future holds. Without the injection of some unexpected turn there is nothing immediately in sight upon which to build hopes for an improvement in either the demand or prices for the next 90 days.
The dealers have been and are now making it very clear that they are going to buy only in a quantity equal to their current sales throughout most of the best territory.
January and February are bad months and new work in lumber never started before the middle of March.

Many things could happen that would cause business to spring into life over night, the least of which is not the possibility of trouble with Japan. The Spanish-American war brought business out of the dumps in a hurry and even a gesture of trouble with Japan might be a good thing for the preparation which would be necessary, though nothing came of it in a big way, might give people that the country is coming to the future which they now lack and start the ball rolling.
A tableau, "The Pharisee and the Publican" will be presented at 5 o'clock Sunday at the Methodist church vesper services. The tableau will be enacted during the reading of the scripture lesson, Victor Goff will act the part of the Pharisee and Cecil Safley that of the publican. Special music will include a solo by Mrs. Hattie Hart, "I Am Coming to the Cross," a choir number, numbers by the orchestra and responses by the choir.

Chambers Mill Shuts Down. The J. H. Chambers & Son sawmill closed down Tuesday for an indefinite period. Lack of logs being the primary factor causing the shut down. The logging road was blocked by slides during the recent flood and these slides have prevented logs being brought in to the mill.
City Repairs Flood Damage. The city has completed repairs on the two road bridges on River road that were damaged last week by the flood. Repairs on a foot bridge along River road were completed Wednesday. A large number of the cross walks in the south section of the city will have to be rebuilt as a result of the flood, according to L. W. Cooney, city engineer. Considerable damage was done to city streets. It is doubtful if these will be repaired soon as no money for this purpose was provided in the city budget.

William Haldeman spent Sunday in Portland, where he attended a meeting of Safeway store managers. Mrs. Haldeman and daughter accompanied him as far as Newberg, where they visited Mrs. Haldeman's parents.
Della Fitzgerald, county public health nurse, was in Cottage Grove Wednesday on business.
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blank and daughter spent the week end in Portland with friends.
Water cards must be accompanied by payments. O. V. Breese, water collector.

Spanish Dollars

There are several types of Spanish American dollar size silver coins following the introduction of edge milling in the 1920s to the 1930s that may be classed as Spanish milled dollars, states the curator of the Chase National bank collection of moneys of the world, "but the ones that first came into common use in the states and in the Orient are believed to be those issued during Philip V's second reign, 1724 to 1729."

The Simple Life

"We've bought a co-operative apartment. There are six families in the building. You pay $17,000 then you live there free for the rest of your life. It's a great saving. Janitor? Taxes? Running expenses? John didn't mention them, but he did say if anything comes up, all we have to do is to call a meeting of the six families and agree. It's very simple." -Kanas City Star.

Influence

It is a stern fact to realize that the well-being and happiness of every home is terribly dependent on each of its members. One false note destroys the chime. When the prodigal closes the door behind him, he shakes the very roof tree. It is not his empty chair he leaves behind; he leaves also bowed heads, broken hearts, and embittered lives. -E. Garrett.

Musical Drama

An opera is really a musical setting of the drama. Near the close of the sixteenth century a few Florentine musicians tried to revive the musical declamation of the Greek drama. These experiments marked the beginning of the early Italian opera, which is now of historic interest only. Modern opera dates from the eighteenth century.

Canadian Masonic History

The first Masonic lodge in Canada was established at Port Royal in 1738, by Erasmus Phillips, an officer of the Fortieth regiment, and a newspaper article published a few years ago, gives the place of meeting as the present "Annapolis Royal hotel," then called "Sinclair's Inn."

Grow if Allowed To

Lower animals are not so limited in the size they can attain as more highly developed species and fishes. Snakes and many other creatures continue to grow in size as long as they can escape from their enemies and find sufficient food.

Automaton Feeds Fish

The fun of feeding the animals is prohibited in most zoos, but the London zoo now invites the public to feed the sea lions—you drop a penny in a slot and watch an automatic device throw a fish to the lions.

The Future Life

I believe in our active employment in future life and like the thought. We shall, I think, be far more perfect in future life, and, indeed, go on towards perfection, but never attain.—General Gordon.

Celebration Made Notable

A Fourth of July celebration, held 100 years ago in a Boston church, witnessed the first singing of "America," and the famous missionary hymn, "The Morning Light is Breaking."

Rhinoceros Protected

Only two herds of the nearly extinct white rhinoceros are known to exist, one in Sudan and one in Zululand. Both herds are protected by the governments of these territories.

The Safe Side

"The first thing a lion tamer has to learn," says a circus owner, "is to keep on the right side of the animals." We ourselves instinctively choose the outside.—London Punch.

Ancient Battle Cry

The word "Ho" was the formal exclamation used in the Middle Ages by a commander in battle or by an empire in a tournament to order a cessation of hostilities.

First American-Built Ship

The first vessel built in America was the Virginia, a little English pinnace, launched by the Popham colony in 1607, at the mouth of Kennebec river, in Maine.

The Ballot Box

The ballot box will be placed at Kem's for Drugs Thursday morning, and candidates may place their vote ballots and sales in the box. No one but the contestants themselves will know how many subscriptions they place in the box for the last three days. The key to the ballot box is in the hands of the official judges and the box will be opened by them AFTER the campaign is declared closed at 8 p. m. BE SURE AND PUT YOUR VOTES IN THE BOX OR THEY WILL NOT BE COUNTED.

Official Judges

The following well-known citizens have consented to act as official judges Saturday night. The campaign is now in their hands. Their duties will be to audit the campaign, issue votes and make the awards of the prizes and their findings will be final and conclusive: O. V. BREESE, City Recorder; WORTH HARVEY, Assistant Cashier, First National Bank; G. B. PITCHER, Chief of Police.

WORK—WIN

After eight o'clock the official judges will take the ballot box to the Sentinel office and the votes will be counted. Immediately after the count is made and checked the winners will be announced. Everyone is invited to attend the closing of the campaign. Mrs. Lottie Lewis was awarded the $25 offered during the second period of the campaign for the most new subscriptions turned in.
