Evening of Music Is Announced for Sunday

Forty young voices will blend in the world's favorite chorals from England, Germany, Finland, Russia and France in an evening of music to be given at 7:30 p. m. Sunday in the Presbyterian church by Albany college polyphonic choir.

"In These Delightful Pleasant Groves" (Purcell); "Dear Land of Home" (Sibelius); "Alsatian Easter Carol" (Gaul); and music of the Russian church are among the numbers. "Gallia" by Gounod, a motet for mixed voices, is a special number of great popularity and impressiveness.

Miss Nancy Thielson, vocal instructor at Albany College, is director of the choir.

DE MILLE BRINGS HIS FIRST TALKIE DRAMA

The first Cecil B. DeMille spectacle-drama since the advent of sound, "The Sign of the Cross," opens Sunday at the Arcade theater.

He made the greatest spectacle of silent pictures, the memorable "Ten Commandments," and entered the Hollywood lists anew determined to surpass even that achievement. When Mr. DeMille looked at the "rushes" of the new picture he seemed content.

Frederic March, as the heroic prefect of old Rome, sacrificing wealth, position, even life for love of a Christian martyr-maid, is said to have the most virile role of his career. Elissa Landi, Claudette Colbert and Charles Laughton have the other principal roles.

The story was adapted to the screen from the famous play by Wilson Barrett. Its principals are supported by an ensemble of 7,500 extra players, the greatest number used in any production since the days of the silent drama.

Popular Notion Wrong

The moon is a solid and opaque body, nearly spherical in form, and it is absolutely impossible for an observer to see a star within the crescent of the new moon, notwithstanding the popular notion to the contrary.

Thinking It Over

Oratorical occasions are, as a rule, unaccompanied by violent demonstrations. It has become a general custom of American audiences to listen to a speech, read it over in the newspapers and then form their own conclusions.—Washington Star.

Well, There Are Some

Much writing has been done in prison, and much more should be. "Don Quixote" and "The Pilgrim's Progress" were composed while their authors lay in durance more or less vile. Would you not be happy to know that many other masterpieces you were required to read as a child were written in prison; or, at any rate, that any subsequent books by the same authors were?—Detroit News.

Martin Luther's Death

Martin Luther died as a result of exposure while attending a dispute at which he arbitrated between the Counts Albrecht and Gebhard of Mansfield. He successfully accomplished his mission and preached several times to crowded congregations, but the exposure to inclement weather on the way to Eisleben and protracted negotiations proved too great a strain on his infirm body, and on the early morning of February 18, 1546, he passed quietly away.
