RUJADA BILL ON F. D.
Rujada Bill, much bewitched philosopher from Laying creek, was in the city this week for the first time since the election.

I've pretty generally voted the republican ticket, said Bill. "But I can't help but have a lot of admiration for this fellow Roosevelt. I didn't think much of him while he was a candidate, and didn't even cotton to him much while he was awaiting his chance at the White House."

"I still believe that if Herbert had been returned to the job with a vote such as that given F. D. we should be on the upgrade again the same as we seem to be now, but that doesn't stop my kindly feeling for one who seems to know what he is doing nor my willingness to be helpful."

"And isn't it funny how our ideas change. I can remember when suggestions such as those made by our president would have given the country the everlasting jitters and sent some of us to the insane asylums."

"Brought in a jag of wool today and the price I received may be one reason why I have a kind word to say for things at Washington. Higher prices for wool, for foods, for clothing will mean tougher times for a while for the fellow who has to buy without an increased income, but he will be a heck of a lot surer of his job and, anyway, that's the way we have to come out of a depression. It has to be done, so it may as well be done now."

Well, got to get back before the price I received may be one reason why I have a kind word to say for things at Washington.

Radio Ray Has This to Say:
HOWDY FOLKS—And then there was the farmer, who, when asked how business was, answered, "Oh, just saw sow, just saw sow."

BUSINESS IS GOOD WITH US. GOOD GOODS AND REAL SERVICE SPELLS SUCCESS IN A LARGE MEASURE.

SAYS MAUD MUFFINS, "Men are apt to be like oil wells, the deeper you go the worse they look."
The only right angle is the TRY-ANGLE.

Electrically yours, RADIO RAY.

dark. Keep the old paper coming and don't fail to keep saying something, even if it doesn't exactly suit me."

STRATA IN WASHINGTON.
One of the enjoyable features of the Oregonian's editorial page is John W. Kelly's daily letter from Washington. His writings from the national capital are chatty, newsworthy, intimate, enlightening. When he speaks, as he did in a letter a few days ago, of "each strata" and "this strata" we presume he is speaking the intimate language of those who say how things shall be done in Washington without regard to what may happen to the national language.

The Sentinel has again been endorsed. It has always said that fraternities and sororities were made too large in part of college life and that colleges would be better off under some other method of housing students.

The curator of anthropology at the Smithsonian Institution says that our use of "highbrow" is all wrong, because the height of the brow indicates nothing as to a person's mental attainments, that if the brow indicated anything the Eskimos would be the brainiest folk.

It is no longer to be Hoover dam, so administration officials tell us, which is small enough to make some of us want to swear. Republicans generally are supporting the Roosevelt administration, but many of us still think a lot of Hoover, and the determination of the powers that be to eliminate the name of our ex-president comes with poor grace from those who need the support that we are glad to give.

Newspapers of the state are making quite an ado over a statement that the Indians had no swear words until they learned our language. Of course, they had no swear words with back seat drivers and didn't need cursy words, but to hear the motion picture Indians talk one would be led to believe the entire language was made up of swear words.

A new camera takes 3,000 pictures a second. Now, if sound can be made to synchronize at that high speed, we may get a talkie realistically depicting a wife telling hubby what she thinks of him for staying out until 3 a. m.

ADAM AND EVE.
Adam lives a merry life.
In the Garden nook;
He didn't have to worry.
How his clothes would look.
—Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal.

Poor Eve's life was sadder.
In the Garden nook;
When she wore her latest gown
Adam wouldn't look.
—Western Leader.

Now Eve's life is happy.
In the Garden nook;
Late gowns are so snappy
Adam wants to look!

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

May 9, 1935

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.
