THE BANKS VERDICT.

The question has been asked by many, "How could the jury have found Banks guilty?"

This writer didn't expect such a verdict, but for different reasons than those of most of those who expected acquittal or a disagreed jury. This writer believed the verdict should be guilty, but he thought the evidence had been such that the jury would be unable to agree that the case against Banks had been proved.

The reason that the jury astonished us by finding Banks guilty probably was that it heard nothing but the evidence and pleas of the attorneys, was not swayed in any way by outside comment which it did not hear or newspaper stories which it did not see, because it had the opportunity to study witnesses and attorneys.

To those who have been sympathetic with Banks, confessed murderer, believing that he was persecuted by residents of his community, let an incident of several years ago be pointed out to show what manner of man Banks is and what distorted notions he had that led to what he himself characterized as persecution.

This writer chanced to be in Medford at the time Banks was a candidate for United States Senator. This writer picked up a copy of Banks' paper. On the front page was a screamer and a story in balloon size type calling Hal Hoss, secretary of state, a crook, a grafter and a tool of the big interests, or words to that effect. The reason those statements were made was that Hoss had refused Banks space in the voters' pamphlet after time for filing copy had expired. Banks said that he should have been notified.

Anyone who knows enough to be a candidate for public office, anyone who knows enough to qualify as a leader of a discontented element of his community should know that no one ever has been notified by the secretary of state as to date for filing copy for the voters' pamphlet. Whether or not a candidate files such copy is the candidate's own business. The election laws, a copy of which may be had for the asking, tell all about the voters' pamphlet, date for filing copy, etc.

It would be just as reasonable to claim that the secretary of state should notify those likely to become candidates, or eligible to be come candidates, as to dates for filing.

The Sentinel is of the opinion that in his campaigns to redress real or fancied wrongs Banks probably used the same judgment that he did in his unwarranted and libelous charges against the secretary of state.

BAND AND BALLADEERS.

"It speaks pretty well for a city of this size that it can have a band and a chorus like that."

Those were the words of a visitor who attended the entertainment given by the city band and the Balladeers at the armory a few nights ago.

The same or similar comments were made by many who live here and who are proud of the city's musicians and musical organizations.

It should be borne in mind, however, that while we gave one evening to the participants of the concert, the participants had given many evenings of time. They had been practicing their music while the best of us were amusing ourselves. Concerts like that referred to are not arranged over night. Preparation starts a month or more before. It was to be observed also that many of the participants are business and professional men who probably find it difficult to give the time necessary to keep a musical organization alive. Those who conduct the organizations also have their troubles, for often it must be that the entire organization can not be out for every practice. This means extra work for directors.

In addition to giving their time, the organizations furnish their own instruments, buy their own music and furnish their own uniforms. In the case of the recent concert not even a free will offering was taken.

A man hanged himself with his necktie a few days ago. Probably made up his mind that he would tie a four-in-hand successfully once in his life anyway.

Naturalists say that a bee can pull 300 times its own weight. One of the little fellows appears to weigh very little, until he sits down on you.

The man who thinks the country is being run just as good as Medford can run it himself as safely be classed as a conservative.

A Creswell man has secured license plate No. 1. We'll be satisfied if we can get the last one issued.

Nothing makes a man grow like putting him into a big job.

SOCIETY

Mrs. R. R. Job, Mrs. Charles Beidler and Mrs. Elbert Smith, retiring officers of the Tuesday Evening club, entertained the club Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Job. Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. C. E. Umphrey; vice president, Mrs. S. L. Mackin; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Omer Moore. Washington's Cherry Trees
The first Japanese cherry trees which were sent to Washington were so infested with insect parasites that they had to be burned. They were replaced by others which were kept until there could be no doubt of their healthy state.

WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR

There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars.

The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving.

Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results.

Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture.

Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable.

Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance.

Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance.

Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too,—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience.
