PRIMARY IS DESEITED.

The fact that Peter Zimmerman has been nominated in a convention as a candidate for governor, and nominated by those who have had the most to say about the sacredness of the Oregon primary, has led to a real demand for something to supersede the primary—something similar to the old convention system.

If independent candidates are to be nominated by convention, why not the party candidates whom they hope to defeat? Doing away with the primaries would save candidates and taxpayers large sums of money.

With grangers and others who have heretofore thrown up their hands in holy horror when the primary was attacked now nominating their candidates by the old convention system, we may expect something to be done about it.

And we don't want to return to the old boss system. That would be the danger of return to the convention system.

The old parties might do away with the primary by not using it, by following the example of those who nominated Zimmerman and knew before the primaries that they were going to nominate an independent candidate if their own candidate were not selected.

One thing seems certain. If Zimmerman feels he could not win the nomination in the primary, there is no reason to believe he can win the election in November.

The Zimmerman program, one to throw a huge burden of debt upon the state, is one that will cause thinking voters to unite behind one candidate to defeat Zimmerman and that candidate certainly will be Joe Dunne, republican nominee, who has no wild spending program to foist upon the already overburdened taxpayer.

BLOODY HITLERISM.

Some of us find fault with our government and the manner in which it is operated. Some of the bolder persons charge President Roosevelt with being a dictator, but any who are not satisfied with things as they are here are invited to take to the streets in any many, where there is a real dictator who gets rid of critics and obstructionists by the simple method of sticking them up before a firing squad.

It is almost unbelievable that a firing squad could be found in time of peace to pour metal into the bodies of those designated for death without trial at the whim of a so-called leader of the people. Not since the days when Czar Nicholas and his family were shot down in a bloody shambles has there been anything to equal what has just happened in Germany. Even the cruel Czar Nicholas was more refined in his methods of dealing with his political enemies.

N. R. A. That is comparable to what has happened in Germany. Dictator Hitler is supreme for a day as the result of the terrorism he has created, but even his troops will not long obey him in following a program of bloody murder.

The days of Hitler are numbered and he should not complain if his too is dragged before the rifles of those who once did his will.

SOCIETY

Hammericksen-Carter.
 A beautiful event of Sunday was the wedding of Miss Anna J. Carter to Harold J. Hammericksen. The ceremony was performed at an artistically decorated altar of ferns, ivy, daisies and white sweetpeas on the lawn of the Lee Williams home. While the wedding march was being played by Mrs. Frank White, aunt of the bride, Lee Williams gave the bride in marriage. Dorothy Baldwin of Cottage Grove was maid of honor and Marvin Mickelson of Eugene was best man. Rev. Lewis Larson of the Lutheran church of Eugene performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a lovely blue dress and carried a bouquet of white sweetpeas and pink roses. The bridesmaid was gown in pink and carried a bouquet of orchids and sweetpeas. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Molly Kline and Mrs. Johnny Olson on pink, yellow and white plates to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hammericksen, Jake Hammericksen, Ellen Hammericksen, Mark Hammericksen, Marvon Mickelson, Mrs. Mickelson Rev. and Mrs. Levey, Mrs. Ed. and Mrs. Oscar Hammericksen, Maybelle Johnson, Ellen and Mrs. Hammericksen of California, Mr. and Mrs. K. Marlin, Mrs. Johnny Olson, Syd Little, Dorothy Baldwin, Mrs. and Mr. George McReynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Carmen White, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Williams, Allan Lee Williams, Jack Carter, Mrs. Molly Kline and Grandma Christensen. Since this was the second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George McReynolds, they celebrated with a yellow and white cake which matched Mrs. McReynolds' dress. The wedding cake was pink and white. The table was decorated with ferns and pink roses. The wedding was at 4 o'clock and the couple left at 4 for Grants Pass, where they will live. The bride's traveling costume was of white. The bride was presented with wedding gifts which would furnish a home except for tables and chairs.

Bricher-DeLap.
 The wedding of Virginia Richmond DeLap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry DeLap of Damath Falls, and Joseph Bricher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bricher of this city, was held Monday at St. Joseph's church in Salem. Father Cyril Lebold officiated. The bride was charming in a gown of white crepe with a bouquet of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Br. Hector, Klamath Falls, bridesmaid, wore a pink ensemble and carried roses and orchids. The groom's brother, Irvin Bricher, was best man and ar. Vincent Bricher, and Clive Courter, Salem, were ushers. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Marion hotel after which the couple left on a trip to Oregon beaches. They will reside in Eugene. Mr. Bricher is a graduate of Cottage Grove high school and later attended school in the east and Oregon state college. The bride attended Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bricher Sr. and sons Irvin and Vincent attended the wedding.

Men have quit criticizing women's bathing suits because there is no longer anything to criticize.

Why a fan for a fan dancer? She ought to be able to keep cool without it.

"Exposure to the sun is said to age the body, which really is not news, but if the idea could be got over to the fair feminine we men might do much to much to criticize about women's clothes."—Cottage Grove Sentinel.

"Criticize, Bro. Bede? Criticize?"—Portland Spectator.

"What do YOU do if you don't criticize?"—Cottage Grove Sentinel.

"Er, what is to say, we criticize which, according to Webster is 'To examine and judge as a critic,' who is 'One who expresses a reasoned opinion on any matter, as a work of art. . . involving an appreciation of its beauty or technical nature, or an interpretation of its meaning.'" But of course, Bro. Bede, we were thinking for the moment that you had used the word in the more common sense of "animadverted upon or find fault with."—Portland Spectator.

The Leonids
 The Leonids are meteors which appear to radiate from the constellation Leo in the northeastern sky each year. They are supposedly part of a meteoric swarm that reaches spectacular proportions every 33 years. The largest displays occurred in 1833 and 1866, when the earth crossed the orbit of the Leonids and millions of "shooting stars" lighted up the sky in a brilliant display.

Well 1,798 Feet Deep
 Of the many famous artesian wells in various parts of the world that at Grenelle, near Paris, is perhaps the most famous. This well was bored in the period between 1833 and 1841. The shaft was driven to a depth of 1,798 feet and the water, coming from that great depth, rises with such force it leaps more than 30 feet into the air.

Busy Afghan Capital
 In spite of its isolation, Kabul is far from crude or primitive. The Afghan capital has electric lights from a water-power plant, telephones, automobiles, many of them serving foreign diplomatic representatives, machine shops, munitions works and factories for making soap, shoes and cloth, all built under British supervision.

Cucumber Old Vegetable
 The cucumber is one of the oldest garden vegetables. It is mentioned in the Old Testament and its profane history was known at least 8,000 years ago. It probably originated in India. While cucumbers are used to some extent as a fresh vegetable, it is in the making of pickles that they assume great importance.

No Water in Nose and Ears
 The seal does not need to fear that water will get into its nose or ears when it dives, for a special provision of nature guards against this form of discomfort. Each of these organs is furnished with a small valve which closes as soon as water presses upon it, and the greater the pressure of the water the tighter the valves close.

First Oil Well in U. S.
 The first oil well in the United States was sunk by Colonel Drake, a railroad conductor, who through friends in New Haven, was appointed director and superintendent of the Titusville (Pa.) properties of the Pennsylvania Rock Oil company and the Seneca Oil company in 1858. After many delays and difficulties, he secured the services of William A. Smith and two sons, brine well drillers, to assist him in his work. Actual drilling operations started in June, 1859, on a spot located near the "old oil spring," well known to farmers of the locality, southeast of Titusville. The well was brought in on August 27, 1859.
