Woman Checks $100
On $10 Deposit

The old story about the woman who couldn't understand how her bank account could be overdrawn while she had blank checks left was brought to mind this week when a woman deposited $10 with the First National bank of this city and then proceeded to issue all the checks in the book given her. Eugene merchants were the victims. No attempt was made to pass any here.

The woman, in opening the account here, gave her name as Mrs. G. E. Garvin. She said her husband was employed at Boulder dam, but that they were going to make their home here and that she was adding to the account frequently.

The checks passed in Eugene were in small amounts totaling $100. They were returned under the name "Not Sufficient Funds."
