Body Does Own Conditioning

A human body does its own conditioning internally. Evaporation and perspiration take care of the moisture, says a writer in the Los Angeles Times, the blood circulates the proper degree of heat and the lungs strain out impurities. But the body has to take in whatever air it happens to be surrounded by. The purpose of air conditioning is to surround the body with an atmosphere wherein all the cells and organs of the body can work normally without having to strain themselves. It does to air outside the body exactly what the body does to inhaled air. Aside from comfort, it contributes to health, because conditioned air keeps parts of the body from breaking down as a result of overexertion.

Once England's Nazareth

The Shrine of Our Lady at Walsingham, England, is where Henry VIII walked barefoot as a pilgrim. In a few years the ruler destroyed the Priory, confiscated the lands and treasures, burnt the shrine and executed five of the Priory canons for treason. Another shrine was built in the Slipper chapel, so named because in ancient days pilgrims removed their shoes when visiting it. Walsingham once was England's Nazareth, which brought it immense fame. It was founded about 1061. Like Lourdes, it had its holy wells, and became famous for the many miracles which were believed to have been wrought there.

Three Wise Monkeys

The little apes of Nikko are Mizaru, who sees no evil; Kikazaru, who hears no evil; Mazaru, who speaks no evil. The legend connected with these monkeys is simply a moral idea to point out the wisdom of minding one's own affairs and the folly of scandal.
