

High School Highlites

Dresses with stripes, checks, polka dots, flowers, plaids or what have you! Such were the dresses seen flashing through the halls this week. The teachers as well as students enthusiastically participated in the girls' league print dress week. Next week the girls will undoubtedly return to skirts and blouses and forget print dresses until a little later in the season.

The National Honor society will sponsor a play, "April Showers," to be presented Thursday by a solo actor, Jack Rank. The entertainer will change costumes to act the parts of the various characters.

The losing team of this game is to entertain the winners with a party.

Thirteen representatives of the F.F.A. motored to Corvallis last week for the state convention held April 30 to May 2. A team consisting of Charles Clark and Raymond McCullough placed third in the seed corn demonstration contest and Dale Chapman won second place in the hog calling contest. Harvey Kelly was one of 12 boys chosen for the state farmer degree at this convention. Those making the trip were Dale Chapman, Charles Clark, Johnny Gallo, Harvey Kelly, Wilbur Hoopes, Bob Kenady, Leonard King, Willis Lathrop, Raymond McCullough, Dale Robinson, Milton Smith, Melvin Tonoie, Wayne Walker and E. O. Berg, instructor.

E. J. Bauder, Kenneth Shortridge, Douglas Bracher, Cecil Safley, Allan Ferrin, Ruth Stowell, Mildred Cellers and Fern Tracy, delegates, accompanied by Superintendent Ferrin and the honor society advisor, Miss Florence Jenks, attended an honor society convention at Reed College, Portland, Saturday. Problems of the honor society or sectional needs were subjects of discussion. Dr. Keezer, president of Reed college, gave an address and Dr. Slasson was chief speaker at the banquet held in the evening for delegates, advisors and visitors. The convention was for all Oregon chapters. Approximately 200 delegates attended.

Questionnaires regarding benefits derived from the activities now offered by the school were filled out by upper classmen and alumni Monday. The senior speakers commencement night will speak on the value of school activities, basing their speeches upon the result of these questionnaires.

Individual senior pictures and group pictures for the senior memory books were taken Tuesday. The groups included faculty, girls' central council lettermen, senior officers, student council, debate team, honor society, senior play cast, senior boys' and girls' quartet.

Students for student body officers were nominated by petition during the past week as follows: President, Harvey Kelly, Allan Ferrin; vice president, Kathleen Moore, Phyllis Monson; secretary, Marian Moore, Dorothy Slemann; treasurer, Clifford Hiner, Victor Engstrom; business manager, Lee Baldwin; editor, Jessie Grubb, Evalyn Kirchoffer.

The girls' league council completed plans for the May festival at a dinner Wednesday, April 29.

Alvin Dugan, Joe Linden, Vivienne Abercrombie, Lois King and Junior Dugan have been absent from school several days because of illness.

Harvey Kelly, Pete Beach, Jean Savage, Ellis Dallaguardi, Irene Honnold and Marie Williams have returned to school after being absent several days.

A Scholarship.

The local high school has received word from Pacific university at Forest Grove relative to a scholarship to be awarded to a member of this year's graduating class. The award will be based on the following principles: Scholarship, extra curricula activities, character and personality and will be presented to a high grade student selected by the faculty. The scholarship carries a sum of $150 as a tuition fee to be divided in terms for the freshman and sophomore years. Presentation will be made commencement night. Three students have made application to date, according to word from the school office. A similar offer has been received from Linfield college at McMinnville but as yet no request has come from the students.

Attorney Reid a Visitor.

Attorney Frank B. Reid of Eugene, republican candidate for district attorney of Lane county, was here Monday. His campaign slogan is "courtesy, economy and impartial law enforcement." His reputation as an attorney indicates that he would live up to that slogan.

Impressive Services.

The I. O. O. F. memorial service at the First Christian church was attended by a gathering that filled the building. Rev. E. Elmor Coulter delivered the sermon, using for his subject "The Links That Bind." Friendship, Love and Truth. The Oddfellows and Rebekah attended in a body.

Operator's Permits Must Be Applied for Before May 15

Responsibility Upon Operator to Provide Equipment and Secure Necessary Permit.

A definite policy covering the general observance of the forest code by the various operators throughout the state has been adopted by the board of forestry, according to an announcement made recently by M. J. Skinner, district warden of the eastern Lane county fire patrol association. This policy places the responsibility of applying for operators' permits as well as providing the necessary equipment, upon the operator himself. Since the forest code has been effective for a number years and a special effort has been made in the past to inform the operators of the provisions of the code, especially the operator's permit law, it is felt that the industry should be sufficiently familiar with all code provisions to take all action necessary without waiting for a first inspection by an official of the state forester's office.

Applications for operators' permits must be made prior to May 15, the beginning of the closed season, and failure to make such application will necessitate closing of the operation until the application is received and acted upon. In the case of new operations, or where one moves to a new location during the closed season, application should be made long enough in advance so as to allow the state forester's office to prepare the permit. The necessary blanks for making applications can be secured at the office of the Eastern Lane County Fire Patrol association in Eugene, or by getting in touch with either the district warden, M. J. Skinner, or J. H. Walker, inspector.

In connection with the provisions of the code covering the equipment necessary in operations as well as precautionary measures in hazard reduction, the operator will be expected to carry out all these provisions prior to May 15 without awaiting special instructions from a forest official. Inspection of all equipment will be carried out at frequent intervals throughout the fire season.

Ostrich Plumes

Ultra-feminine is the return of curled ostrich plumes. Here Suzanne Talbot drapes two of them in navy blue on a matching hat of fine milan so that they fall softly on the hair in back.
