Way Down in Dixie—they know how to prepare fine foods—they also love fine entertainment—so we've taken a tip from the Confederates and omitting the food we have prepared a fine program for this week, with true Southern hospitality attached.

For Friday, July 17, "Forgotten Faces," with Herbert Marshall and Gertrude Michael. A love story that will hold your interest. On Saturday, July 18, we have one of the famous Hop-a-long Cassidy plays, "Three on a Trail," with William Boyd and Jimmy Ellison. Here is entertainment plus. Sunday-Monday, July 19 and 20, brings to the screen the original Mammy crooner, Al Jolson, in "The Singing Kid," supported by Sybil Jason, Ed Horton, Cab Galloway and many others. Tuesday, July 21, you may see Irene Hervey and Lionel Atwell in "Absolute Quiet" and Wednesday - Thursday, July 22 and 23 we have Richfield's Jimmy Allen in "The Sky Parade," with Katherine DeMille. Boys that belong to the Jimmy Allen flying club will have a chance to see their idol in a thrilling air story.
