ALMANAC

- JANUARY 15—Georgia's first colonial assembly convened 1751. 16—League of Nations council organized amid floods of oratory 1920. 17—Daniel Guggenheim established $2,500,000 fund for promotion of aeronautics 1926.

MARTIN: "MORE HEMP NEEDED."

Governor Charles H. Martin is quoted as saying: "The ghastly combination of the kidnapping and the fiendish murder of Charles Mattson is just another example of the lawlessness into which we have drifted principally because our law enforcement agencies have too often given way to sob-sisterism instead of seeing that prompt and summary justice is meted out to those who have demonstrated they are unredeemable menaces to society."

write them if he had thought of them. The Bladines, father and son, good republicans, owners of the McMinnville Telephone-Register also know how to gracefully pay a deserved compliment to a democrat as evidenced by the following: "Governor Martin's message to the legislature was characteristic of the man. Straightforward and to the point he recited the accomplishments of the biennium and plead for sanity and economy. After looking over the photos of the governors of the forty-eight states we have a feeling that Oregon not only has the best looking chief executive but also the best balanced man in the outfit."

TOGETHER THEY STAND.

AGRICULTURE. The earth is the mother of all wealth. Without livestock, raw foods and fibers which modern man produces from the soil, manufacturing and distribution would cease to function, and consumers would be deprived of the necessities of life.

MANUFACTURE. Were it not for those who work with their hands, for the capital which provides machines and raw materials, and for the direction and coordination furnished by management, modern civilization would droop and soon die.

DISTRIBUTION. Without the whirling wheels of transportation and the services of distribution, machines would no longer throb in mill and factory, the outlets for agricultural products would be greatly restricted, and hunger and want would descend upon the land.

CONSUMER. Who is the consumer? The great American Family! Mr. and Mrs. Consumer hold the purse strings and chart the course of industry. The use of goods by consumers, practically all of whom also are the people who produce, manufacture and distribute the world's commodities, is the goal of all production.

BLOOD BROTHERS. This governor Murphy of Michigan must be a blood brother to Gov. Martin of Oregon. He has sent 1,000 troops into Flint to prevent strikers from tearing up the town.

THE SUPREME COURT. Proposals to limit or abrogate the powers of review of the Supreme Court of the United States have been made often in late years—and, for the most part, have come from representatives of radical organizations.

189 Legislative Employees. A total of 189 employees are on the legislative payroll, in addition to the 90 senators and representatives. Sixty-eight of these are working for the senate and 121 for the House.

Townsendites Win. Townsendites won the first round in their fight for recognition at this session when they put over their memorial to Congress in the House by a vote of 38 to 20.

Good Time Allowance Bill. The names of 26 of the 90 Representatives and Senators are affixed to a bill which seeks to clarify the "good time allowance"

Then an appeal was taken to the United States Supreme Court. And on January 4, in a unanimous decision read by Chief Justice Hughes, the Court set aside the sentence and held that the Oregon law, as applied in this case, was repugnant to the due-process clause of the Constitution—the clause which protects the rights of free speech and assemblage. It is now believed that this decision will strongly and favorably affect the cases of other radicals convicted under the Oregon act.

Insane Population Increased. Oregon's insane population has increased 48 percent in the past 15 years according to the Oregon Mental Hygiene Society which is supporting a move for two legislative appropriations, one to finance a psychiatric ward in connection with the University of Oregon Medical School at Portland, the other to extend the University Child Guidance Clinic to every county in the state.

Important Legislation Scarce. Salem, Jan. 20.—There is a noticeable dearth of important legislation before the session now in its second week. Except for the need to finance state activities already established no proposals have yet appeared in either legislative body which would justify a long drawn out session.

IF YOU DRINK DON'T SING. Do you remember the time when a few drinks caused the discordant strains of "The Old Gray Mare Aint What She Used to Be," to ring out on the midnight air? It is reported that in a neighboring city, not long since, a few drinks caused a crowd of would-be songsters to attempt to sing a new version of that old song.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS LETTER. Two Bills Approved. Salem, Jan. 19.—Forty-nine bills found their way into the legislative hopper the first week of the session—20 in the Senate and 29 in the House.

Committee Analyzing Budget. The ways and means committee has parceled the biennial budget out to several sub-committees which are now at work analyzing the requests and recommendations. Reports of the sub-committees will guide the full committee in its actions in most instances.

Clarifying Legislative Vacancies. Senators Francisovich and Strayer have joined in an attempt to clarify the puzzle of legislative vacancies, at least insofar as the authority of the secretary of state goes. A bill introduced by these two solons would authorize that official to take cognizance of only those vacancies as are due to death, resignation or the removal of the legislator from the district.

Hearing on Milk Control Act. The first big public hearing of the session is scheduled for Friday night (January 22) when the senate committee on agriculture will listen to arguments pro and con relative to a measure sponsored by Senator Lessard who wants to repeal the milk control act of 1935.

Repeal of Drivers' License Up. A group of legislators have joined in the introduction of a bill which would relieve motorists of paying $1 for a new driver's license every two years. All of the safety features of the present law would be retained as well as the provision for renewing the permit every two years.

Departments of Finance, Welfare. D. O. Hood, former budget director, has announced that he expects to renew his activities in behalf of a state department of finance and a state department of welfare. Both of these departments were included in Hood's cabinet government which failed to get anywhere at the 1935 session.

WPA Funds for University. A WPA grant of $30,405 to the University of Oregon for a campus landscaping project was announced by F. A. Cuthbert, university landscape architect.

U. of O. Broadcast. The University symphony national broadcast with Hal Young, professor of voice, and Dorothy Louise Johnston, student violinist, as soloists, will be well worth tuning in on January 27 from 6 to 6:30 p. m. It will be broadcast from Eugene to Portland by private wire and from there over coast-to-coast network.

situation at the state prison. The measure would authorize the warden to deduct five days from the sentence of a prisoner for each month of good behavior. This practice was followed for many years at the state prison until halted by an opinion of the attorney general holding that it was not authorized under the law.

Such bills as have been introduced are for the most part of minor importance. There are several that will attract attention before committees on the floor—if they ever get that far—but nothing that can be said to be of vital importance to the welfare of the state.

Then over in the House there is a bill by Hyde, Eckersley, Bull, Olen, Monroe, Senator Ross and others to relieve the automobile drivers of the necessity of plunging up a dollar every two years for a new driving permit which will receive the support of a lot of motorists and the opposition of the highway commission and good roads enthusiasts.

There will be a sacred concert at the opening of the evening service by the orchestra. Don Henderson will play a piano solo.

"LIFE" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Jan. 17. The Golden Text was, "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. . . . Thou wilt shew me the path of life" (Ps. 16:5, 11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son" (I John 5: 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality. . . . That Life is God, Jesus proved by his reappearance after the crucifixion in strict accordance with his scientific statement: 'Destroy this temple (body) and in three days I (Spirit) will raise it up.' It is as if he had said: 'The I—the Life, substance, and intelligence of the universe—is not in matter to be destroyed'" (pp. 487, 27).

NUTS AND BOLTS

Much has been said about the day-dreaming driver. But what of the wood-gathering walker? Blissfully, with his mind in the clouds, he steps out into the No Man's Land between intersections. To him, because he sees no danger, there is no danger. But he's due for a rude awakening from love's sweet dream. Figures compiled by Christian Science Society—Sunday school, 9:45; forenoon service, 11; lesson-sermon, "Truth."

Lumber Import Tax Reduced. The French government has announced a reduction in import license taxes on common woods from 6.40 to 1.29 francs per hundred kilograms. Exceptions to the reduction are hornbeam, chestnut, European birch, oak, maple, ash, beech, elm, sycamore, black locust, and poplar, none of these exceptions being of particular interest to this locality.

Stockholders of West Coast Lumbermen's Association to Meet

Increase in Export Sale of Forest Products Sought Through Reciprocal Trade Agreements

The annual meeting of stockholders of the West Coast Lumbermen's association will be held at the Winthrop hotel, Tacoma, Wash., January 29. One of the principal speakers will be W. S. Culbertson of Washington, D. C., a national authority on foreign trade. He will also confer with the West Coast and other lumber groups on plans to increase the export sale of lumber and other forest products from this area through reciprocal trade agreements.

The lumber industry in the Douglas fir region of Washington and Oregon is provided with adequate raw materials and fully equipped to export at least 1 1/2 billion board feet of lumber annually, while the present export trade totals around one-third of this amount. The mills of the Pacific northwest, their employees, and communities, could make and sell an additional billion feet of lumber worth 25 million dollars in export markets which is not now manufactured because of tariff restrictions abroad. The association believes that by keeping its case properly before the state department during trade agreement negotiations a substantial part of this lost foreign trade may be regained.
