Extra! All about the forced landing of the "Spirit of 1937." The "Spirit of 1937," transcontinental passenger plane, enroute to European cities, carrying a group of famous entertainers from the senior class was forced to land on an unknown island because of engine trouble.

The passengers, being a talented group, bravely broadcasted a program while repairs were being made. Such was the senior assembly given Friday in the auditorium. The curtain rose on the passenger compartment of the plane. Those performing were: Tom Hall, pilot; Allan Ferrin, co-pilot; Willis Beidler and Lee Baldwin, mechanics who together sang and joked through "Going Hunting" and "Way Down Yonder in the Cornfield;" Clifford Hiner, Herr Hiner, famed Swiss accordionist, who played a solo "Italian March;" Winona Ball, Mlle. Cecille Ray, who gave a reading, "Mothers of Men;" Ruby Allen Mille, Galli Curri who sang a solo, "Rose Marie;" Heath Lowry, Sappy Sax, who played a saxophone solo "Good Night My Love;" Harold Spriggs, Toni Spaghetti, the chalk talker, who talked and showed pictures he had chalked of people he remembered from his senior year; the famous girls' octet of '37 who sang "Early Morning;" Kathleen Moore and Phyllis Monson violin students of Fritz Kreisler, who played a duet, "Humoresque;" Evelyn Kirchoffer, editor of the "World Newsette" who issued a few copies of the paper in which surprising news was read of the teachers and classmates of C. G. High in '37; Willis Lathrop, Percival Reginald, the Widow Rochester's spoiled child, who kept the passengers on the alert with his water gun, while Jessie Grubb and Bob Meacham, newlyweds, kept the Widow's stomach upset.

The engine was finally repaired and the plane continued its journey.

Two outstanding pictures shown by the chalk talker were of Pop Grannis and Mr. Johnson, the one of "Pop" being an excellent likeness.

Spring, bright colors, and a gay feeling of traveling come to us this time of the year. All these things remind us of gypsies and we envy them and their carefree life. You probably all remember when you were wandering home from school as a youngster in the spring of the year and you were warned of these bright colored wagons full of those vagabond, curious people. They were mysterious, thrilling and you really wanted to find out about them.

Now it is the traveling in house trailers that lures us. Just anything that moves and takes us away from our everyday life, we will enjoy. When you feel the urge this spring, satisfy it by going to the senior play, "Once in a Lifetime," and it will be "once in a lifetime" for you. Half the cast are gay mysterious gypsies we love to watch. See them April 30 in the high school gym.

A program of music under the direction of Mrs. Edna Leslie Pearson of Eugene will be presented at the high school Friday, April 16 at 2:30. Songs by the Carolers and vocal selections by both local and Eugene students or Mrs. Pearson will make up the program. Ruth Caldwell is the accompanist for the Carolers.

City schools closed Tuesday afternoon this week for a spring vacation. They will re-open Monday.

A special assembly was held Monday, during which the Songmen from Willamette University entertained with four songs. The Songmen are making a tour of the southern towns entertaining with concerts in Methodist churches.

A junior class meeting was held March 31 for the purpose of making plans for the play, "Abraham Lincoln," which was held in the gym April 7. The returns are to be used in helping to sponsor the junior-senior banquet.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

Mrs. A. L. Wynne, Mrs. Charles Beidler and Mrs. K. K. Mills, members of the local health unit, visited school Monday morning. As a part of the health program of the grade schools of city students are encouraged to drink a half pint of milk at recess. Students who need milk and whose parents are unable to provide milk at home are given milk. This service for underweight and needy children is made possible by the Eagles lodge and auxiliary.

Mrs. Richard Bushell substituted for Miss Alma Sarpola, second grade instructor, who was called to her home in Astoria Wednesday, March 31 by the death of her brother. Miss Sarpola will return after vacation. Mrs. Bushell taught at the Westside school last year.

Wendell Van Loan, principal of Roosevelt junior high, Eugene, was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the elementary teachers' association last Monday. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phelps. Mr. Van Loan discussed awards, prizes, grades and their effect upon students. The general theme of the meeting was guidance.

Donald Baker entered school from the third grade in the Lents school of Portland.

The spelling contest between the fifth and sixth grades reached a high point of enthusiasm last Friday when the sixth grade students vowed that they could have more perfect papers in the Friday test than the fifth grade students, who set a school record for perfect papers a week previous. After careful checking of the papers it was discovered that each class had 26 perfect papers. Members of both classes were dissatisfied and declared that the feud will continue and will not end in a draw this week.

Safety Town, a project of the second grade, is attracting considerable attention. Many buildings that make up the downtown business section have been duplicated in pasteboard. Proper signals have been placed on the streets. If rumors are true, even father has come home from his work only to spend quite a little time on his knees with pasteboards, scissors and paste. The children are enjoying this cooperation of their parents. The object of the work is to make the students conscious of certain safety factors. Mrs. Orlo Bagley visited Safety Town last Monday.

WEST SIDE

A number of teachers from this school are visiting friends and relatives out of town. Miss Wilkinson is at Williams, Miss Johnston in Medford, Miss Hutton and Miss Morrison in Portland. Miss Haldeeman, Mr. Dove and Mrs. Thum, whose homes are in the city, will be away intermittently during vacation.

Velma Wilson is spending the week in Seattle; Dorothy Mumford and Loretta Henderson are visiting Elsie Chapman in Creswell; Arline Anderson is in Roseburg at the Glen Owens home.

A patrol of girl scouts, with Lois Hansen in charge, are arranging for a taffy pull at the home of Marjorie Earl Thursday afternoon.

All classes are busy working on songs and dances in preparation for the music festival to be held April 16.

After the regular business meeting March 31, the student body enjoyed a program, arranged by Patricia Baldwin, Arletta Roberts and William Rorer. The program follows: A piano solo, Louise Boyce; song by a number of seventh and eighth grade students; violin solo by Agnes McNew, accompanied by Patricia Baldwin; and a play by the dramatics class, "Bewitching the Witch."

Students of the seventh and eighth grades were pleasantly surprised April 6 when a program was given, arranged by Leonard Krewson. It was as follows: Vocal duet by LaVelle Henderson and Maxine Hunter, "The Codfish Ball;" song by some girls, "Twilight on the Trail," accompanied by Olive Gawley; two plays by the dramatics class entitled, "Look Pleasant" and "The Knock-out."

Dick Smith spent Saturday night and Sunday in Portland visiting relatives.

Charles Vance withdrew from the fourth grade and has moved with his family, to Creswell.

The third and fourth graders entertained their mothers and friends Tuesday afternoon with a short program.

The seventh grade science classes have been studying trees and their various uses. Also the nomenclature of flowers. The classes are going to analyze many of the wild flowers found in this vicinity.

The fifth and sixth grade group are losing two of their members this week, Leonard Beale and Ralph Ralsor.

Thornton Corners

Mrs. J. W. Fisher.

George Foster made a business trip to Portland Wednesday and in the evening attended a banquet given by Fuller paint businessmen. He returned home that night.

DON MALLOUGH

who, with the assistance of Darlene Mallough, will conduct old-fashioned revival services at Blue Mt. church, beginning Friday, April 9, at 7:30. Services will be conducted each evening at this hour except Sunday and Monday. The Sunday service will be at 11 a. m. Monday's service will be omitted. An invitation has been extended to everyone to attend.

Dorena

Mrs. M. Mosby

A large crowd attended the play, "Antics of Andrew," given by the younger set of the Dorena grange. Forty-three dollars were realized. New curtains were bought for the stage and the rest of the money was turned over to the grange.

On March 31 a banquet was given for the cast at the Claude Arne home. Mrs. Lee Duffy, Miss Alice Nash and Miss Mary Doolittle assisted in serving. Following the banquet various kinds of games were enjoyed. Miss Nancy Meredith, Mrs. Henry Snauer and Robert Vaughn won prizes.

The Dorena grange held its regular meeting on April 1. At the business session it was voted to invite the Creswell grange to put on their play at Dorena sometime in May.

Robert Wagner reported for the finance committee the sum taken in from the grange play.

Mrs. Joe Schneider, chaplain, had charge during the lecture hour. The program consisted of a roll call, a Sunday School class composed of grange children with Marie Williams as leader, a song by the ladies' quartet, a song by Mrs. Gawley, Mrs. Rissue and Mrs. Goude, a reading by Henry Snauer, a harmonica solo by G. W. Hawper, a reading by Mrs. Ore Read Hemenway, a surprise number by Avanelle Wicks and Jessie Spahr, and a guitar solo by Mrs. Lot Wagner.

Mrs. Mary Snauer, Flora, will have charge of the next program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lee Duffy, Mrs. Fannie Goude, Mrs. Nettie Gawley, Ceford Garoutte and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guggisberg.

Wedding Invitations, Sentinel.

FLYING KITES

Dear Children:

Now that Spring is here and the ideal weather for flying kites has arrived, I want to give my little friends a few tips about kite flying.

Never fly your kite near electric lines or use wire for kite string as you are liable to be injured from contact with the electric lines. Even a damp cotton string is a conductor of electricity, so be very careful and always fly your kite in an open space where there are no electric lines. I certainly do not want any of my little friends to be injured while playing.

VITEMEX TONIC
Concentrated Vitamins

MEDICAL TESTS PROVE ITS AMAZING POWER

Medical tests (in 300 cases reported to the Journal of the American Medical Association) showed a 62% lower death rate in pneumonia when concentrated vitamins were used.

In another medical study, 14% of the people suffering from vitamin deficiency had bronchitis. Expert physicians reported that their bronchitis improved as soon as they used concentrated vitamins.

Vitamin deficiency can also result in many other types of sickness—stomach and kidney disorders, rheumatism and arthritis, etc.
