

District Rebekah Assembly Held Here Saturday

Approximately 175 persons attended the 24th annual convention of Rebekah lodges of district No. 10, held in this city Saturday. Mrs. May Jonas of Prineville, president of the Oregon Rebekah assembly, was the distinguished guest at the convention.

District No. 10 includes a large part of Lane county, Cottage Grove, Creswell, Springfield, Eugene, Marcola, Coburg, Junction City, Oakridge, Elmira, Walthamville and Harrisburg comprising the lodges. Most of these lodges were represented at the convention. A number of visitors from other districts also attended.

The morning session was opened by Cottage Grove lodge No. 24 with Marion Armstrong, noble grand. Seating of convention officers was as follows: Mina Clark, Cottage Grove, chairman; Florence Calvert, Junction City, vice chairman; Nell Price, Marcola, secretary-treasurer; Vivian Blehm, Harrisburg, past chairman; May Jonas, Prineville, R. S. chairman; Meari McKibben, Cottage Grove, L. S. chairman; Velma Thornton, Junction City, R.S.V. chairman; Minnie Wright, Oakridge, L.S.V. chairman; Evelyn Cain, Harrisburg, warden; Bernice Fountain, Elmira, conductor; Nellie Pyne, Springfield, chaplain; Agnes Johnston, Junction City, musician; Cressie Tillie, Marcola, inner guardian; Viola Sinclair, Eugene, outer guardian.

The Theta Rho girls of Cottage Grove, in a pretty drill, presented all officers with beautiful corsages, which had been artistically made by Mrs. Nettie Saling, 80 years old and a member of Cottage Grove lodge.

Lacy Bennett, Myrtle Keller and Leta Stewart escorted Mrs. Jonas, distinguished guest, and other D. D. P. into the convention hall, where they were introduced and welcomed and each was given a corsage. Presentation of the flowers was made by two little flower girls, Juanita Powell and Joanne Short.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. Clara Stevens and the response by Mrs. Morris of Marcola. The report of the secretaries of lodges showed a large gain in membership in the county. Most of the morning session was given over to business of the lodges.

A noon luncheon was served in the Odd Fellow dining room and the session resumed at 1:30. The contest in unwritten work was won by Lois Clark of Oakridge. Myrtle Kent presented to her the jewel which she had won last year. Draping of the charter was performed by the Creswell lodge. A speaker from the Coburg lodge spoke on "Rebekah Ideals in Our Lives." Harrisburg lodge instructed in balloting for candidates. The Elmira lodge conferred degrees. Mrs. Clara Stevens assisting as musician taking the place of the Elmira musician who had died Saturday morning.

A three-minute talk by Florence Calvert on the good of the order was well received. The question box was opened and Mrs. Jonas, assembly president, answered all questions.

Election of officers for 1938 resulted as follows: Florence Calvert, Junction City, chairman; Myrtle McAlpine, Eugene, vice chairman; Nell Price, Marcola, secretary-treasurer; Lois Clark, Oakridge, chaplain; Carrie Rickart of Medford, vice president of Oregon Rebekah assembly, R. S. chairman; Velma Thornton, Junction City, L. S. chairman; Vivian Blehm, Harrisburg, R.S.V. chairman; Abbie LaVee, Springfield, L.S.V. chairman; Marion Armstrong, Cottage Grove, warden; Bertha Sly, Creswell, conductor; Ivy Hart, Walthamville, inside guard; Anna Duckworth, Elmira, outside guard; Agnes Johnston, Junction City, musician; Mina Clark, Cottage Grove, past chairman. Officers for 1938 were seated by the Junction City lodge, with whom the next convention will be held. The convention was closed by Cottage Grove lodge.

A program that was open to the public was given in the evening under the chairmanship of Marion Armstrong. The program follows: "America" and Oregon state song; reading, "Home," Geraldine Douglas; piano solo, Morris Calver; violin and piano selections, "Spanish Waltz," Lowell Paris and Margaret Jarrett; song, "That Little Boy of Mine," Mrs. Benton Schrenk; acrobatics, Norma Lee Christensen of Elmira, who won a prize given by Cottage Grove lodge for the best entertainment; trio, Mrs. Goude, Mrs. Gawley and Mrs. Rissue; reading, Mrs. Taylor of Roseburg; acrobatics, Shirley Culver; closing song by audience, "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."
