Big Crowd at Shoot Held Here Sunday

Scattergun artists from all over Lane county joined with local "dead eyes" in the trap shoot held at the Rod and Gun club grounds Sunday. The new plan of operating shoots as nearly at cost as possible again proved popular, with the result that local stocks of targets were exhausted and a rush trip to Eugene required for more birds, before the shooters were satisfied to call it a day.

Eugene sent a delegation which included Ray Babb, and McCard, the Hurds, father and son, and other visitors were present from Dexter, Springfield, Lorane and Culp Creek.

Despite the weather, which was far from pleasant for consistent shooting, most of the shooters turned in good scores. Winners included Vic Chanoers, Ed Heck, Kelly Cooper, Monelock, Harpole, C. Hurd, Moore, S. Hurd, McCard, Rente, Baltimore, J. Smith, N. J. Nelson, Shearer and others. Richard Smith, high school freshman, demonstrated that his shooting two weeks ago was not a fluke, by running ten straight without a miss, in spite of the trick wind.

Bob Nelson, shooting the birds for the first time, broke seven out of ten, indicating that he will carry on the Nelson tradition, and give his dad some stiff competition in a few more months. Homer Nelson, who spots the boys an arm and leg, ran a straight string without a miss.

Several members of the local club plan to visit a Eugene shoot next Sunday.

R For Your Car
